Assessment protest

Close call, but petitions accepted

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

There were some tense moments this week when it appeared the Lake County Board of Review was going to reject the more than 500 signatures of Antioch residents protesting their assessments. However, two days before the filing deadline, the petitions were accepted.

"I was very concerned on Monday when one of the petitions had been rejected," said Carol Jonites, who had spearheaded the petition drive along with Bill Liniewicz of Woodcrest Subdivision. "I was preparing to file for each individual signer if necessary."

The petition idea had originated from the county office after Liniewicz and Jonites had called regarding a possible class action appeal. Liniewicz had personally gone to Waukegan and obtained the information necessary for the petitions.

Jonites and Liniewicz prepared and distributed the petitions to subdivisions, and individuals, who then went door-to-door getting signatures from residents wanting to appeal their assessments. On Sept. 12, Elina Davis, received a phone call from the county telling her the petition she had submitted would not be accepted because it was not on an official form.

When Davis called Jonites, Jonites went into action. She called a number of people on the petitions she had, preparing to file each protest individually. With the number of signers on the petitions, this would have been a tremendous job.

"I couldn't let these people down," Jonites said. Fortunately for all concerned, when Jonites and Liniewicz went to the Board of Review on Tuesday, the petitions they had brought with them were accepted.

It is unknown exactly how the Board of Review will handle such a large amount of protests. It is likely, however, that homeowners will need to present more information at a later date.

"I'm hoping that when the Board of Review receives all of these petitions, it will take a closer look at our assessments," said Jonites.

Rescue Squad dedicated to serving community

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Rescue Squad is one of a kind in Lake County. At this time, it is the only private not-for-profit ambulance service in Lake County. By the end of August, the squad went on 1,045 calls. Not one of those patients had to pay, nor were the taxpayers asked to ante-up one red cent.

While conventional wisdom says you get what you pay for, this is not true of the local ambulance service. Instead, Antioch residents get top-of-the-line services.

"It's in our charter," said the squad spokesperson Ralph Antonelli about the unit's policy of providing free emergency service. "We do it as a service to the community."

The squad is made up of 25 dedicated volunteers. The unit boasts 16 paramedics and nine emergency medical technicians (EMTs). Currently, three members are provisional paramedics serving their internships and four members in paramedic training.

Members of the squad invest a great deal of time in training so that they can be licensed by the state. With three months for EMTA training, seven months for paramedic training, 140 hours of clinical training and 50 hours of ambulance time, these men and women work hard to serve the community.

The lecture hall at Grant Community High School was way too small.

Approximately 200 boaters, residents and marina owners were there for the Fox Waterway Agency meeting late last week.

They filled each chair, as well as pouring out of doorways and into the halls. Some even took seats on the floor. Residents complained and mumbled that they couldn't hear what was being discussed.

The topic: Cigarette-style speed boats on the Chain O' Lakes. The question: Whether or not to impose any type of restrictions on them.

Before the real issue could get started however, a school janitor announced he just finished setting up the large commons area where everyone could fit. The crowd pushed and shoved to the new location down the hall.

Carole Dienethal shows the volumes of reading material available at Leaves of Earth, including books about the mystical arts, psychology, religion, and the 12-step approach.

Store explores mysteries of the universe

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Leaves of Earth, one of Antioch's newest stores, is truly unique. From fairy dust to tribal dolls, this store helps explore not only the inner you, but those things no one can explain.

"I have always been interested in metaphysics," said owner Carole Dienethal. "When you ask yourself why are we here, you are into metaphysics."

Dienethal lives in Trevor, Wis. and formerly lived in Chicago. But she has always loved this area and summered here all of her life.

She began her lifelong interest in spiritualism when she was a young woman. "When I was 20, I went to a reader," explained Dienethal. "She told me things that were impossible for her to know. She helped me. We had a long term relationship for 20 years."

Leaves of Earth has a full complement of lovely scents for Aroma Therapy. Dienethal explains the therapy, "Anything that pleases you is good for you."

The store has a full library just loaded with books. Many of the books describe the mystical arts as well as psychology and religion. Also, the store has many books which address the various 12-step approaches for conquering addiction.

"It is all about getting to know yourself," said Dienethal. "If you know yourself, you can then know other people."

The library also includes the Celestine Prophecy, which is a novel about ancient wisdom. "It makes you think," said Dienethal. Used books are available and Dienethal hopes to add to the used book collection.

There are stones to help with healing, beautiful soft sculptures from Bolivia, magazines, pamphlets, candles, crystals, music, tapes, incense, jewelry, tarot cards, crystal balls, Chinese therapy balls, angel cards, and even a children's section. Dienethal also has a limited selection of Native American artifacts.

"People are coming from all over to visit the store," said Dienethal. "I am heartened that so many people are interested."

In addition to the wonderful items in the store, Leaves of Earth also sponsors various workshops and seminars. A dowsing workshop, with Al Heiss, has been scheduled for Sept. 17. "Everyone has the potential for dowsing," explains Heiss. Heiss will show participants how to dowsing over maps, floor plans, sketches of lakes, and on land for items such as people, lost possessions, old coins, gold coins, good fishing locations, water, oil, and health problems.

On Sept. 24, Phil Clark will be on hand to explain the mysteries of numerology. Clark uses numbers to assist people in finding their "natural way" to prosperity, improved relationships, ideal career fields, and how to get the most out of life.

Healer Joann Baumann is scheduled for a workshop on Sept. 25. Baumann has been a holistic healing practitioner and spiritual healer since 1972 when she overcame numerous health problems of her own.

Also, a drumming is in the works. Drumming is a hypnotic tool used to concentrate in a primitive type of meditation. Patt Butti, a healer trained by medicine men, is one of the most well known shaman in the field today. She is a teacher for the Institute of Advanced Perception, a spiritual minister, and past president of the Illinois Society for Psychic Research.

The workshops and seminars have different fees and reservations are necessary. Call Leaves of Earth at 395-3176 for more information. Leaves of Earth is located at 928 N. Main Street in Antioch.

True Value holding workshops

Antioch True Value and Tru-Test Paint are once again holding their free hands-on Faux Finishing paint techniques workshop, conducted by Linda Heidt. Techniques covered will include sponging, ragging, stenciling, dragging, combining, glazing and others. The workshop will be held on Sept. 14, at 7 p.m. at Antioch True Value. Participants will receive a valuable gift after the seminar. Those interested should call the Antioch True Value paint department to reserve a space, as the number of participants will be limited.

PADS orientation session

The Antioch PADS site is open on Sundays, October through April. Two orientation/training sessions for volunteers for PADS will be held in the Antioch area. The first will be held at St. Peter's Church on Thursday, Sept. 22, from 7 to 9 p.m. A second session will be held one week later on Sept. 29 from 7 to 9 p.m. at United Methodist Church. The sessions will provide information about PADS and explain what role the volunteer plays in the PADS efforts.

Little Silver Lake residents frustrated over driveway

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Residents of Little Silver Lake in Antioch are very frustrated in their inability to obtain information about a proposed driveway which could connect a light industrial area to their residential subdivision.

"Basically, as a subdivision, we have been trying to get information for five weeks," said Jim Sheehan, president of Little Silver Lake Improvement Association. "We are getting no information from the village."

At this time, it is even unclear whether the Village of Antioch is the appropriate entity to address inquiries. The proposed driveway would appear to cross the village, the township, Sequoit Creek, subdivision property, and private property.

Surveyors were out last month looking at the area and told residents they had been commissioned by the Village of Antioch to look at West Road. West Road is a dedicated road that has never been built.

Historically, the area has been the focus of controversy. In 1989 the Village of Antioch annexed a 60-acre parcel off Route 173, which will be the new home to a car dealership in the next few months. After the annexation, the area was rezoned to light industrial. According to Sheehan, many residents and organizations fought the rezoning because of the potential environmental impact.

The owner of the property is Terry Upton, who has a house on the back part of the parcel. Upton, at this time uses an accessway from Route 173. However, he hopes to build a driveway from his home to the subdivision.

"I have told him, if it is legal, fine," explained Sheehan. "But, if it isn't, my people have some concerns."

In an effort to find out exactly which governmental agency would be in charge of the new roadway, Sheehan and his neighbors are planning to attend the Sept. 19 Antioch Village Board meeting. At that time, they hope to air their feelings and concerns regarding the proposed accessway.

Voters to decide three issues on unit school district ballot

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake Villa Unit School District question, which is slated to go before voters in April, is really several different issues. Organizers will have to contend with the possibility that some, but not all, of the ballot questions will be approved by voters.

The most obvious question to be decided, of course, is the question of whether or not to establish a unit school district in Lake Villa. The establishment question will include the tax rates for the new district. The education fund will be 3.53 percent, .5 percent for operations and maintenance, .150 percent for pupil transportation, and .150 for special education purposes.

In addition to those tax rates, residents from districts with outstanding debts such as Lake Villa District 41 and Millburn, will also be required to pay those debts. That would increase the tax rate for affected individuals.

Voters will also need to vote for a new board of education for the new district. According to organizer Joanne Osmond, this was one of the reasons why the ballot questions were put off until April. By the time the state superintendent had overruled Regional Superintendent Ed Gonwa's decision to keep the issue off the ballot, it was too late for those individuals interested in running for school board to complete filing requirements.

The bond issuance question must also be addressed by voters. The ballot question reads: Shall the proposed community unit school district be granted the authority to issue bonds of not more than $39,500,000 for the purpose of building and equipping a high school and elementary school?

At this time, it is not known exactly which areas will be voting on the issue. According to Antioch's District 34 Superintendent Dr. Daniel Burke, there are two formulas to calculate. "Ed Gonwa is working on that now," said Burke.

It is believed, however, that all of Lake Villa residents, Antioch (because of Antioch Community High School), Millburn, and those residents in Grayslake affected by the new district will be voting on the issues. According to the regional office, the issues must pass by a majority of voters in each area, or the unit school plan will fail.

It is possible that voters in all areas will agree to the unit district and board of education, but vote down the bond issuance. "I believe that is a possibility," said Gonwa. "They would have to then go back to the voters."

Gonwa believes that in the event the bond issue, only, fails, the new district would have been required to pay tuition to outside high schools such as Antioch and Grayslake. However, he does not know exactly how long they would be permitted to do so.

Sheriff's Dept. to address homeowners

Representatives from the Lake County Sheriff's Department will be addressing the United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA) about subdivision security. The meeting will be held at the Felter's Subdivision Clubhouse at 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 21.

UHAUA is a collection of representatives from subdivisions throughout the Antioch Township. They meet to discuss issues and problems common to subdivisions. Besides subdivision security, the group will be addressing the recent property assessments. Several member had petitions circulating within their own subdivisions protesting the assessments.

Anyone interested in more information or wishing to attend the Sept. 21 meeting call 395-7371. Registered members of the group will be receiving additional information in the mail.

Rotary welcomes interim guidance director

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Rotary Club welcomed the new ACHS Interim Guidance Director William C. Bassitt at its luncheon. Bassitt told the group a little bit about himself as well as answered questions.

Bassitt explained officials at Antioch Community High School selected an interim director so that they could more carefully choose an applicant that exemplified the qualities they are looking for. Apparently the position opened up late in the year, leaving little time for the school to interview candidates.

Formerly, Bassitt served as assistant superintendent for student services at Palatine Township High School District 211. Bassitt received his doctorate from West Virginia University and held the post of assistant superintendent for instruction for 10 years and director of student services for eight years.

"We have an excellent curriculum at the high school," said Bassitt to the group. "We have 62 percent of our students going on to college. I think that is a very good statistic."

Bassitt told Rotarians about the increased course loads students are taking. He said colleges are increasing their requirements causing students to take six or seven academic courses each year.

"People can do more than they think they can," he said. "They handle it by working it into their schedule."

Bassitt also had some laudatory words about the club and its history of scholarships. "It is unbelievable what you do here," he said. "You don't see that in many communities. I wouldn't be here today without scholarships."

School BRIEFS

ACHS carpentry class

ACHS carpentry class is available to build sheds on your property during the first semester. The sizes of the sheds are 10-foot by 12-foot for $1,000, or 10-foot by 16-foot for $1,100. The door opening is 70 inches. All sheds have gambrel roofs and treated wood floors. Students will build this shed on your site. To order, call Mr. Kasuboski at the high school at 395-1421.

The Antioch Community Consolidated School District Board of Education will meet on Sept. 20 at W.C. Petty School at 7 p.m. Residents are invited to attend.

VFW scholarship competition to begin

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4551 and Ladies Auxiliary announce applications and information for the annual Voice of Democracy program are now available. The final date to enter the contest is Nov. 15.

"Students win more than awards and scholarships when they participate in the VFW Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program," explains Post Commander David Gratz. "Some of the fringe benefits are increased self-confidence and poise, experience in communication with others, and valuable training in self expression."

State winners receive a five-day tour of Washington, D.C. which, according to Gratz, "broadens the experience" of the student. The trip also provides an opportunity to make lasting friendships with other state winners.

In the 47 years that the VFW and Ladies Auxiliary have been involved with the Voice of Democracy program, more than 6,000,000 high school students have participated. Students are asked to write and then record, on a three- to five-minute audio tape, an essay expressing their view of "My vision for America."

Students winning local contests go on to compete against other students in the state. Those winners match their essays against essays from students throughout the country, winning over $100,000 in scholarships, with a $20,000 first prize scholarship.

"One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the program is that by thinking, writing, and speaking up for their country, they gain a better appreciation of their obligation and freedom in America," said Gratz.

Any high school student interested in entering the contest should contact the Post at 395-5393.

Congressman Crane to hold meeting in Schaumburg

Eighth Dist. Congressman Philip M. Crane will hold a town meeting on Friday, Sept. 16. All residents of the 8th Congressional Dist. are invited to attend.

The town meeting will be conducted from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Schaumburg Prairie Center for the Arts, located at 201 Schaumburg Court in Schaumburg. Doors will open at 6:30 p.m.

Crane will open the meeting with a discussion of developments in Washington which he believes will be of interest to those attending, including the expected invasion of Haiti and health care legislation. Following the remarks of the congressman, constituents will have an opportunity to question him about any issues they may wish to discuss.

Caseworkers from Congressman Crane's offices will be at the meeting to assist with individual problems.

Police Beat

ANTIOCH

Warrant arrest

After a routine traffic stop for improper passing on Sept. 10, Antioch Police arrested Teddy Montaigne, 23, of Fox Lake on an outstanding warrant for credit card fraud. Montaigne was taken to the Antioch Police Department and later transferred to Lake County Jail.

Assist rescue call

The Antioch Police Department assisted the Antioch Rescue Squad after a woman was injured Sept. 11 during the ACHS vs. McHenry Hornets football game. The young woman told police that she hit her head during a play and felt dizzy. She was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center and released.

American flag stolen

Person(s) unknown removed an American flag and pole from the front of a resident's yard on Sept. 11. However, the $80 flag and pole were later recovered in the yard next door undamaged.

Cash missing

An employee of Taco Bell reported that he lost a bank deposit bag containing $3,800 in cash on Sept. 8 on the grounds of the restaurant. The employee told police he was carrying several deposit bags and was on his way to the bank. When he arrived at the bank, he realized that one of the bags was missing. The deposit bag, yellow in color, contained ones, fives, 10s, 20s and 50 dollar bills. When the employee returned to the restaurant, he was unable to locate the bag. Police are investigating.

Stolen car located

A stolen car was located by Antioch Police Department after an anonymous tip. The car, a 1991 Mercury, was found at the end of Drom Court in Antioch on Sept. 10. The owner was contacted and apparently the owner had just returned from reporting the car stolen when Antioch officers called him to report the car had been found. According to the report, the automobile had been found in good condition with the keys in the ignition.

Damage to vehicle

Antioch Police Department assisted the Lake County Sheriff's Department in locating Gary F. Varga, age 34, of Antioch on Sept. 11 after a woman had filed a complaint of criminal damage to a motor vehicle. The damage had occurred on Route 173 and Lotus and Varga had left the scene. Varga was taken to the Antioch Police Department and turned over to Sheriff's officers.

Loud music complaint

On Sept. 11, police responded to a complaint of loud music coming from the Waterfalls Restaurant on Route 173. Police were able to hear the music and voice of the D.J. inside the residents living room at 1:30 a.m. Officer's spoke with the owner of the restaurant and the music was turned down. Extra copies of the police report were given to the Antioch Liquor Commissioner.

Pig's head found

Police responded on Sept. 11 at 2:27 a.m. to a report of a burglary to a motor vehicle. When police arrived at the Waterfall's Restaurant, where the car had been parked, they found that the rear window had been unzipped and several personal items had been taken. In addition, police report finding a cardboard box "with a pig's head inside and a nail thru the head." The pig's head appeared to be fresh and it is unknown why it was left in the woman's car. The value of the items taken were estimated at $150.

Car window smashed

An Ameritech employee reported a front passenger window had been smashed in his car while it was parked outside the rear of a business in Antioch on Sept. 10. Nothing appeared to be taken from the car. An extra watch has been placed on the area.

Double drowning has eerie history

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

A double tragedy with a twist of irony saddened friends and family members of two Lake Villa residents over the weekend.

With temperatures soaring around 90 degrees, it was hard to keep everyone away from the water, Sept. 11. When three people decided to take a swim in Crooked Lake in Lake Villa, however, two of them lost their lives.

The Lake Villa Fire and Rescue Department received an emergency call from a resident off Munn Rd. at 3:51 p.m. Reportedly, they became aware of the drownings by a lone woman on a boat who was screaming for help.

The woman was Nancy

Pollock, 33, of 21560 Pine, Lake Villa. She had been swimming at a sandbar with Kevin Sedar, 27, of 38838 Oak, and Anthony Bennett, 38, of 21568 Pine, when Sedar, usually a good swimmer, suddenly had difficulties.

Bennett, who reportedly couldn't swim very well at all, jumped in after Sedar to try and help. The attempts were futile as both men went under. That's when Pollack climbed back onto the boat and not knowing how to operate the 16-foot motor craft, screamed until the Munn Rd. residents heard her and phoned for rescue.

Lake Villa Fire and Rescue Chief Frank Slazes said besides his department, Antioch, Fox Lake, Round Lake, Grayslake, Wauconda, Newport, Winthrop

Harbor and Kenosha County either assisted with the diving, or were standing by if needed.

Cedar's body was the first to be found at 5:44 p.m. Bennett was located at approximately 6:20 p.m. Slazes described the water as being silty providing poor visibility.

Officials believe alcohol played a role in the deaths. A cooler with beer and empty beer bottles on the boat were reported, but the Lake County coroner's office has not yet completed tests to determine alcohol in the bloodstream.

A jarring reminder is that nearly a decade ago, Rick Sedar, Kevin's brother, drowned near the same sandbar in the same lake, said fire officials who were on that call.

Staff looks forward to another year at Camp Crayon

Soon

The Camp Crayon doors will be opening for the 1994-95 sessions on Monday, Sept. 19 for the Monday/Wednesday group and Tuesday, Sept. 20 for the Tuesday/Thursday group. The Camp Crayon staff, Miss Marie (Brausam), Miss Liz (Schmehl), Miss Mary (Theel) and Miss Lois (Petykowski), are looking forward to another enjoyable year as they welcome back the returning Camp Crayonites and get to know all of the new camp participants.

I encourage you to keep reading "Hometown Goodies" and soon I will be bringing you more special stories "out of the mouths of babes." These special, memorable moments with these unpredictable little 3, 4 and 5 year olds are one of the many benefits of the job.

Who?

It is finally time for The Lizard to get "The Miracle Ear"! I would like to say hi to "Weezie" and when she reads the rest of this story, she will know it is about her.

A while back, as I was out feeding the "Carp Whales," I heard my phone ringing. As usual I didn't rush to answer it, knowing it would record on my caller ID unit. When I re-entered the house, I checked the unit and called the name and number that was not familiar to me.

The gal who placed the call answered. I identified myself and she, in turn, explained her reason for calling. As our conversation continued, I completely forgot the name that was recorded on my unit. She said something, I heard something else and jotted down "Priscilla Tator," as I thought she gave me her name.

Even though I began to write her "so-called" name, I asked her to verify the spelling. We must have been talking at the same time. When I heard her say, "I think T-A-T-O-R," I pondered how odd that she was unsure of how to spell her own last name. Oh well, it takes all kinds, I thought.

"Priscilla" (or so I thought) proceeded to give me the rest of the information for the column. In closing, I said, "Thanks, Priscilla, for the tidbit." She answered, "My name is not Priscilla." I inquired, "Well, who is Priscilla Tator?" She replied, "I haven't a clue."

I immediately got that "Twilight Zone" feeling. I recalled, I know I asked her name. I know she spelled "TATOR" for me. What's going on her? Then she re-identified herself as blank blank, the "facilitator" of the program. DAH!! We both enjoyed a good laugh over my hearing bloopers and I think I made a new phone friend in "Weezie"/alias/"Priscilla Tator the Facilitator!" OOPS!

Beautiful quilts

Please remember that Saturday, Sept. 17, the Nimble Thimbles Quilting Guild will be hosting their annual quilt show. It will be held at the Round Lake Park Dist., 814 W. Hart Rd., Round Lake. The doors will be open from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m.

Once again, the members of the guild have assembled a beautiful, handmade quilt to be raffled off at the show. This year's raffle quilt is the Liberty Stars pattern and is very patriotic in beautiful deep red, white and blue. Raffle tickets will be available at the show and are only $1 each or six for $5.

Support group

The Multiple Sclerosis Network of Friends Support Group of Antioch meets the first Monday (except for holidays) of each month. They meet in the Moose Lodge in Antioch at 7 p.m. Newcomers are always welcome. If you would like to join the group, please contact Louise Gutowski at 395-1317.

They recently hosted a delicious spaghetti dinner to help raise the funds needed for the group's activities, mailings and newsletter. The dinner was very successful and a lot of fun to boot.

Apprehensive

I hesitate to share the following animal story with my readers. I am afraid that many people won't believe what I am about to write here. Heck, I caused it to happen and therefore witnessed it first hand, and I'm not sure I believe it.

Here goes. The "Carp Whales" are now taking bread scraps right from my hand. I swear it! I have a witness who chooses to remain nameless.

The day of this unbelievable occurrence was really hot. I fed them two or three times during the course of the day and they came out in droves. At 7 p.m., after watching Wheel of Fortune, I went down to the waterfront one more time. There was absolutely no wind blowing and the lake was like a mirror. Once again the carp appeared en masse. I was alone. I held a big piece of bread in the water and one fish actually nibbled off a piece as I held it there in the water, and then another and another. When the bread got too small, I tossed it in. I thought, what have I done!

So I went to this nameless person, who lives in the cottage on our property, and encouraged

HOMETOWN GOODIES

395-5380

"her" to come down to the waterfront. "She" did and when "she" saw two or three carp bite from the hand-held bread, "she" was amazed. Not only was "she" amazed at the feeding process, "she" couldn't help wonder why "I" would want to feed them by hand in the first place.

"She" quickly said, "I suppose this will be in the column. When you write it, don't use my name as a witness."—and I didn't!

Arachnophobia

My beautiful, adopted step daughter, Cindy Marquart, definitely has a fear of spiders. When Cindy, hubby Scott and some friends recently visited a very "in and today" nightclub-type establishment, she had a spider encounter of all encounters.

As Cindy sat quietly marveling over the strange attire of some of the entertainers and tried to decipher some of the words of the loud music, she realized there was a definite generation gap between herself, the entertainers and some of the clientele. However, she proceeded to have a good time enjoying the company of the people she was with.

One of her acquaintances pointed out a huge "fake" spider that appeared to be sewn on the back of the shirt of one of the entertainers. Cindy thought, how strange, and yet it definitely fit in with the rest of the man's outlandish attire.

Once again, Cindy glanced in the entertainer's direction and when the spider began to crawl up the man's back, Cindy freaked. The spider fell to the ground and another guest stomped it to death.

However, Cindy was already perched on top of a high bar stool and she still gets the willies thinking about the size of that spider. ICK!

Busy place

The Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church is a busy place. GEMS Bible Study for women meets on Thursday mornings and the JAM youth group storms the halls of CLCBC once a week.

The church bids farewell to Rev. Jim Johnston, who is leaving to return to College Church in Wheaton. Due to Rev. Jim's leaving, the search committee will be looking for someone to fill the Associate Pastor position. The committee will consist of Jim Savage (elder), Steve Nelson (elder), Stephanie Walsh (deaconess), Carla Wennstrom and Bruce Ware (church members).

Pastor Don Sweeting will also work with the committee.

The Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church is a non-denominational Evangelical Christian church founded in 1985. It is located at 23201 W. Grass Lake Rd. in Antioch. For further information concerning church activities and programs, call 838-0103.

Sounds of summer

With the last of my four children being almost 17 years old, one of the sounds of summer that I miss the most is hearing the voices and laughter of the little ones as they play out in the yard. It always gave me a warm, safe and secure feeling knowing they were close at hand.

Recently, I heard some yelling and cheering and went out doors to investigate the reason for the gathering of the children. Our neighbor's grandchildren and two sons-in-law were engaged in a whiffle bat and ball game. I fondly remembered when my own children and their friends came together in a similar way.

As I sat feeding the carp, catfish and bluegills, I continued to enjoy that special sound of summer and secretly hoped my own grandchildren and their friends will eventually gather in MeeMee's yard to engage in a loud, fun baseball game or whatever.

—Shop ANTIOCH— Packing away those white pumps

With the passing of Labor Day, it's time to pack away those white dress shoes till next Memorial Day. To be fashionably correct (FC) remember that only "winter White" is appropriate for Fall and Winter. It's probably a good idea to start packing away your summer apparel to make room for your more bulky Fall wardrobe. You'll notice as the weather gets cooler, your loads of laundry get heavier.

Your closets might look a bit sparse after removing your summer wardrobe. Look through your closets carefully to see if you need to pick up any separates to pull together outfits. Shopping early for these items allows you the season's best selection before everything is picked over. Once we have a cold snap in the weather, everyone runs to shop for warmer clothes and it might be hard to find what you need.

Take advantage of Four Squire's early-bird sale on Fall/Winter outerwear. If sweats are more your style, stop by BJ's Fashions and Sports to fill your sweats to sweater needs. If the little gentleman or little miss of the household has outgrown last year's dress coat, you'll find wool dress coats and trench coats at Choosey Child.

Although our weather can be deceiving (hot or cold), we are definitely headed into Fall. If you enjoy working with crafts, Ben Franklin's large selection of Fall and Christmas craft projects and supplies will keep you busy. Supplies for floral arrangements, scarecrows, pumpkins and turkeys are in large demand.

If you enjoy crafts, but couldn't glue 2 popsicle sticks together if your life depended on it, visit the Tulip Patch to enjoy the great selection of Fall and Halloween decorative items available. Kathy's Cottage also offers a nice selection of seasonal crafts.

If shopping gives you a headache and you prefer the great outdoors, it's time to start Fall clean-up in your garden. If your perennial garden is overcrowded, divide the plants now. Prepare your soil for next Spring by adding compost or peat moss to help loosen clay or hard soil. Clean up debris from your vegetable garden after the first frost. If you use chemical fertilizers, apply them now. Stop by Floral Acres for your tulip and daffodil bulbs, you can plant them anytime now till Thanksgiving (but why wait till the ground is frozen?).

The end of summer marks the beginning of school. For those interested in pursuing the "Home School" method, or if you already do, visit Sunshine Books to browse through their new home schooling department. Rental videos are available to explain the home schooling concept and how to get started. Curriculum books for kindergarten through high school are in stock, plus some educational games.

Now that we're midway through September, it won't be long before ghosts and goblins roam our streets just the other day I saw a Power Ranger escaping from J.J. Blinkers.

Operation Baby Buckle wants village assistance

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Beth Lambert, a representative of "Operation Baby Buckle" has approached the Village of Antioch for financial assistance.

The not-for-profit organization is seeking donations as well as a waiver of solicitation permit fees, in order to raise funds for the organization.

The goal of the new program is to "put an end to the more than 70,000 annual injuries and deaths to infants in car crashes."

A nationwide organization, the group hopes to insure that all infants and children are placed properly in car seats while traveling.

"Everything we raise goes towards car seats," Lambert told the board. "We started in the beginning of June."

The group hopes to make free car seats available to needy families. One car seat distribution site will be area maternity wards to insure that a child will be safe from the start.

The local organization has raised $4,500 already.

The village board responded positively to the request, but asked Lambert to meet with officials to clarify the group's request.

"Why don't you get together with Tim (Wells, village administrator) to narrow the request down," said Trustee Don Amundsen.

The national goals for the organization for the next four years include raising $1.5 million to distribute car seats to needy families, to work with area hospitals and emergency services to identify families in need, launch a 150-child car seat loaner program, enhance car seat loaner programs where they exist, and to distribute educational material on the proper use of car seats to parents and expectant parents.

All donations go towards assisting families through a joint effort of St. Therese, Midwest Regional Medical Center, Victory, and Condell Hospitals. For more information or to make a donation call Beth Lambert at (708) 872-7162.

Volunteers sought for fishing derby

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Officials from Fishing Has No Boundaries (FHNB) are looking for a few good boaters. The group is seeking volunteers and boat owners to help out with the annual fishing outing.

"Anyone with a pontoon boat that would like to help the handicapped for one or two days would be welcome," said Antioch Downtown Director Claude LeMere. "This is a great experience for anyone helping out. Ten more pontoon boats are needed."

The event will be held on Sept. 17 and 18 out of C. Haling and Sons Resort on Grass Lake.

Organizers are expecting 100 attendants and participants.

According to the group, these fishing experiences afford persons with disabilities not only the opportunity to enjoy the pleasures and wonders of the outdoors, but to actually fish with up-to-date equipment and experienced guides.

FHNB was founded in 1986 in Hayward, Wis. and currently has chapters holding fishing outings for the disabled on an annual basis. This is the third annual event for the Chicagoland chapter.

Each participant will receive an official fishing cap, coffee and rolls each day, dinner on Saturday and lunch on Sunday. There will be awards given for several categories and the group is expecting a celebrity guest speaker.

Pontoon boats are specifically needed for those participants in wheelchairs. Safe ramps and docks will be provided. Also, emergency medical personnel will be on site, as well as in boats equipped with cellular phones.

Anyone interested in lending or driving a boat, guiding participants, assisting with guides or participants, volunteering for land-based services, or making a contribution of money or goods should call (312) 481-0000.

Nominate a high school teacher for a Golden Apple

Nominations are open for the 10th Annual Golden Apple Awards, honoring 10 Chicago-area teachers each year for excellence in classroom teaching.

Winners receive $2,500, a paid sabbatical to study tuition-free at Northwestern University, a personal computer from IBM and induction into the Golden Apple Academy of educators, an active organization that initiates programs to improve education.

Winning teachers are awarded Golden Apples in May, 1995 on a prime time special produced and broadcast by WTTW/Channel 11.

To be eligible, nominees must currently be teaching full time in grades 9 through 12 at any public or non-public school in Cook, Lake or DuPage County. Anyone may nominate a teacher, including fellow educators, principals, current and former students, parents and other community members.

To obtain a nomination form, call (312) 407-0006 or write the Golden Apple Foundation, 8 S. Michigan Ave., Suite 700, Chicago, IL 60603-3318. Nominations close Dec. 2.

Agency welcomes new Lt. Colonel

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

There's a new colonel overseeing the U.S. Army Corps, and he's getting to know the Chain waters.

Fox Waterway Agency Chairman Dr. William C. Dam and Executive Director Karen Kabbes took Lt. Col. Robert E. Slockbower for a grand tour of the entire Chain O' Lakes and the Fox River last week, familiarizing the newly appointed Corps of Engineer head to the sites interesting to his position.

Having the new Lt. Col. out was "exciting," said Dam. The Agency boarded their pontoon boat and traveled all the way to the McHenry Locks and Dam on the Fox River and also went to Algonquin as well as north through the Chain O' Lakes.

On July 21, Slockbower participated in the change of command with former Lt. Col. David M. Reed who formerly headed the Chicago District office.

Slockbower was previously the deputy commander for the North Central Division of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He is a 1975 graduate of Lehigh University, and holds a master's degree in Civil Engineering and is a graduate of the Army Command and General Staff College and the Armed Forces Staff College.

Lt. Col. Slockbower has held command and staff assignments in both the United States and overseas. These include Chief of the Real Estate Division and Deputy Chief for the Projects Branch of the New Orleans District, and much more.

His military decorations include the Defense Meritorious Service Medal; Meritorious Service Medal (three awards); Army Commendation Medal (three awards); and the Southwest Asia Service Medal.

He is a member of the society of American Military Engineers and the Association of the United States Army. Lt. Col. Slockbower is a registered professional engineer in the state of Virginia. He is also a native of Pittsburgh, Penn. and is married to the former Janelle Hirschert of Champaign, Illinois.

Determined Durney leads area runners at big meet

Meghan Durney knew exactly where she wanted to be when the 1.9 mile cross country race at Lakewood Forest Preserve was completed.

"I wanted to finish in the top five," the sophomore said.

She did just that, finishing in fourth place with a time of 11:26, leading the Sequoits to a strong fourth-place finish with 136 points. Antioch, in fact, was the only area team in the top eight among the 23 teams.

"The first race of the year, I started out in front, but I got lost," Durney said.

Teammate Beth Lennon finished in seventh place with a 11:44.

"We push each other, but I have friends on other teams and they push me, too," Durney said.

Antioch Coach Dave Judson said one reason for Lennon's seventh place finish was back problems. "Hopefully, it is not a major problem," he said.

"Our goal was the top three. We wanted to go out and run a good race," Judson said.

Durney's time beat her previous best at the Wauconda course by less than one second.

Other Antioch finishers: Lauren Burke with a 12:51 for 37th place; Mandi Dale, 12:45 for 31st place; Chrissy Hammer, 13:15 for 57th place.

Stevenson and Grayslake rounded out the top 10 with scores of 202 and 263. Kris Milas of Stevenson was 13th in 12:09 while Tiffany Bennett of the Pats was 20th in 12:25.

Libertyville was 11th with 299.

"We have a lot of new kids with 14 seniors graduating last year," LHS Coach Harry Carlson said.

The Wildcats are led by Chris Buckton, Jenny Brown and Julie Goffe, all seniors and junior Katie Leffelman. Carlson expects Antioch and Lake Forest to be the teams to beat in the North Suburban Conference.

Becky Eiden led Grayslake's effort with a 21st place, 12:26. "That was a very good time. She ran 13 something last year," Grayslake Coach Joel Peebles said. See DURNey page A13

Lady golfers lose

The ACHS Lady Sequoits dropped two contests this past week. The scores in the triangular meet held at Spring Valley were: Palatine-208, St. Viator-222, and Antioch-227. The 227 score is the lowest team total for an Antioch girls team since September 17, 1991. Leading the Antioch attack was Sarah Murphy with a career best-47. The remainder of the varsity scores included Sarah Rockow-57, Marissa Blasko-59, Angie Pederson-64, Kelly Periman-64, and Jessica Schmitt-82. The low four scores are totaled to compute the team score. The Varsity Sequoits currently have a 4-win 4-loss record.

The Antioch J.V. team improved their record to 3-0 with a 277-283 win over Palatine. The ACHS golfers were led by freshman Jessica Shore-57.

On Saturday, 9-17 the varsity golfers will compete in the Barrington Tournament, followed by Deerfield/Marengo home on Monday 9-19, Palatine-away Wednesday, 9-21 and Evanston-away Thursday 9-22.

AYB names staff

Antioch Youth Baseball named its executive board, staff directors and league directors for the 1995 spring season.

The executive board includes: Mike Fleming, president; Tim Callanan, vice president; Paul Howard, treasurer; Ken Cichon, secretary; and Tom Baba, players agent.

Staff directors include: Karen Livasy, concessions; Julie Lindom, fund raising; Cinde DeBoer, publicity; Gary Cybul, equipment; and Jerry Popp, fields maintenance.

Sequoit rally falls short, Warren wins

The sigh of relief in the North Suburban Conference may still be felt coming from Gurnee.

The Warren Township High School football squad looked a rally by an opponent for the second straight week. Unlike the previous week, it was the opponent which blinked as Antioch fell short in a 21-15 loss to Warren.

The victory keeps 2-1, 1-1 Warren in the playoff picture while Antioch suffered its second loss before mid-season and falls to 1-2, 1-2.

Antioch is at first-place North Chicago for a 1 p.m. game Sept. 17. Warren hosts Lake Forest at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 16.

The temperature was not quite the 101 degrees a bank sign down the street said Saturday at Antioch, but the heat was indeed on the Warren defense after a 61-yard run after a catch by Brad Rubash brought Antioch to within 21-13. A two-point by Jack Johnston brought Antioch to within six with plenty of time left, 4:29.

After losing a game in similar fashion to North Chicago last week, the Warren sideline held its collective breath when Rick Cerk, a fast linebacker, sacked Ryan Kelter for an 8-yard loss with 2:58 remaining.

But Dan Hill came through, positioning himself under an underthrown Walter Martens pass for an interception with 1:31 left which saved the Warren win.

"Our offense looked pretty good and Kelter threw some fine passes," Warren's Kevin Oldham said. "We were holding our breath though because of what happened last week."

A 21-6 lead turned into a 34-30 loss as North Chicago's big plays stung. Oldham said the Blue Devils were not about to let that happen again.

Oldham, a senior, is small for his position of nose guard at 5-foot 7 inch, 160 pounds, but that does not stop him from making big plays. His 30-yard touchdown in the second quarter gave Warren the lead for good at 14-7.

"They use me a lot to shoot the gaps," Oldham said. The key play of the game came when Warren faced a fourth-and-10 at the Antioch 34 in the fourth quarter.

Kelter lifted a perfect pass to Brian Kuhar, who caught it in midstride and was wide open for the touchdown and a 21-7 Warren lead.

"Our fans were on me a bit because we did not go for it on fourth-and-one. But I was going for horizontal field position. We used plays earlier to set that up," Warren Coach Reggie Hughes said.

The play earned kudos even from the secondary, which otherwise played a strong game, it victimized.

"I told Coach Hughes afterward, it was a great call," Mike Gordy, Antioch defensive coordinator, said.

It was the first touchdown scored by the offense. The first Warren score came on a 45-yard punt return by Shawnell Barnes. The second was Oldham's romp. "We are still down 1-2 in kick returns for touchdowns," Hughes said.

Antioch did have its highlights, the play of the secondary - Sean Hanrahan broke up a touchdown pass and had an interception, the play of linebacker Jason Breen and the running of Rubash.

"He pulled a hamstring last week. He is a slasher. He likes to run around you," Antioch Coach Del Pechaur said.

So does North Chicago, the Antioch team's next opponent. The Warhawks find themselves tied with Libertyville with a 3-0 record following a 44-26 win over Mundelein.

"They have some Division I athletes," Pechaur said.

It will be the second straight week Warren faces a wishbone team.

"I expect a different kind of wishbone. Antioch was more of a power game," Hughes said.

Kuhar reinjured an AC joint, a week-to-week question mark for the Blue Devils wide receiver.

"I told him if he did not catch at least one pass each week, we would put him back at guard," Hughes joked.

Harney ignites spikers to opening NSC win

Antioch spikers opened their North Suburban Conference season by downing Zion-Benton twice 15-3 at home.

Leading the way for the Sequoia volleyball team was Katy Harney, who had 7 points, 4 kills, 6 assists and 20/20 sets.

"She's (Harney) really a spark plug for us offensively," said Antioch Coach Gwen Varney.

Carrie Curtis had 9 points, while Tricia Keefe had 4 kills and 2 solo blocks.

"A lot of kids did good. We really played well," said Varney, who was able to play everybody on the volleyball roster.

Varney also noted the squad was hoping to work on its blocks, serving and net defense while playing against Zion. Antioch missed only one serve in the bout. "We looked sharp," Varney said.

After playing Lake Forest and Grant this week, Antioch travels to Lincolnshire for the Stevenson Invitational Saturday. Stevenson upset Mundelein in another NSC match.

"We're improving every game and we're looking forward to Stevenson," said Varney.

Johnsburg outlasts Grant for NWSC tennis victory

Grant High dominated the singles matches, but Johnsburg ruled the doubles and won the Northwest Suburban Conference match.

The Bulldogs top player, No. 1 singles player Tiash Saha fell to 2-2 with a tough loss to Lisa Szarek, 4-6, 2-6.

"Saha was up against a real steady opponent," Grant Coach Larry Garlanger said.

Kelly Gratz, a senior, downed Johnsburg's Rae Moratta, 6-3, 6-2. "Gratz was patient and utilized the entire court and capitalized on her opponent's mistakes," Garlanger said.

Kim Villager, a sophomore, won at No. 3 singles, over Ann Bowgren 6-2, 6-1. "Kim had only won three games on the frosh-soph team last year, so everyone was encouraging her. Her new racquet helped. She has been working on singles and is a converted doubles player," Garlanger said.

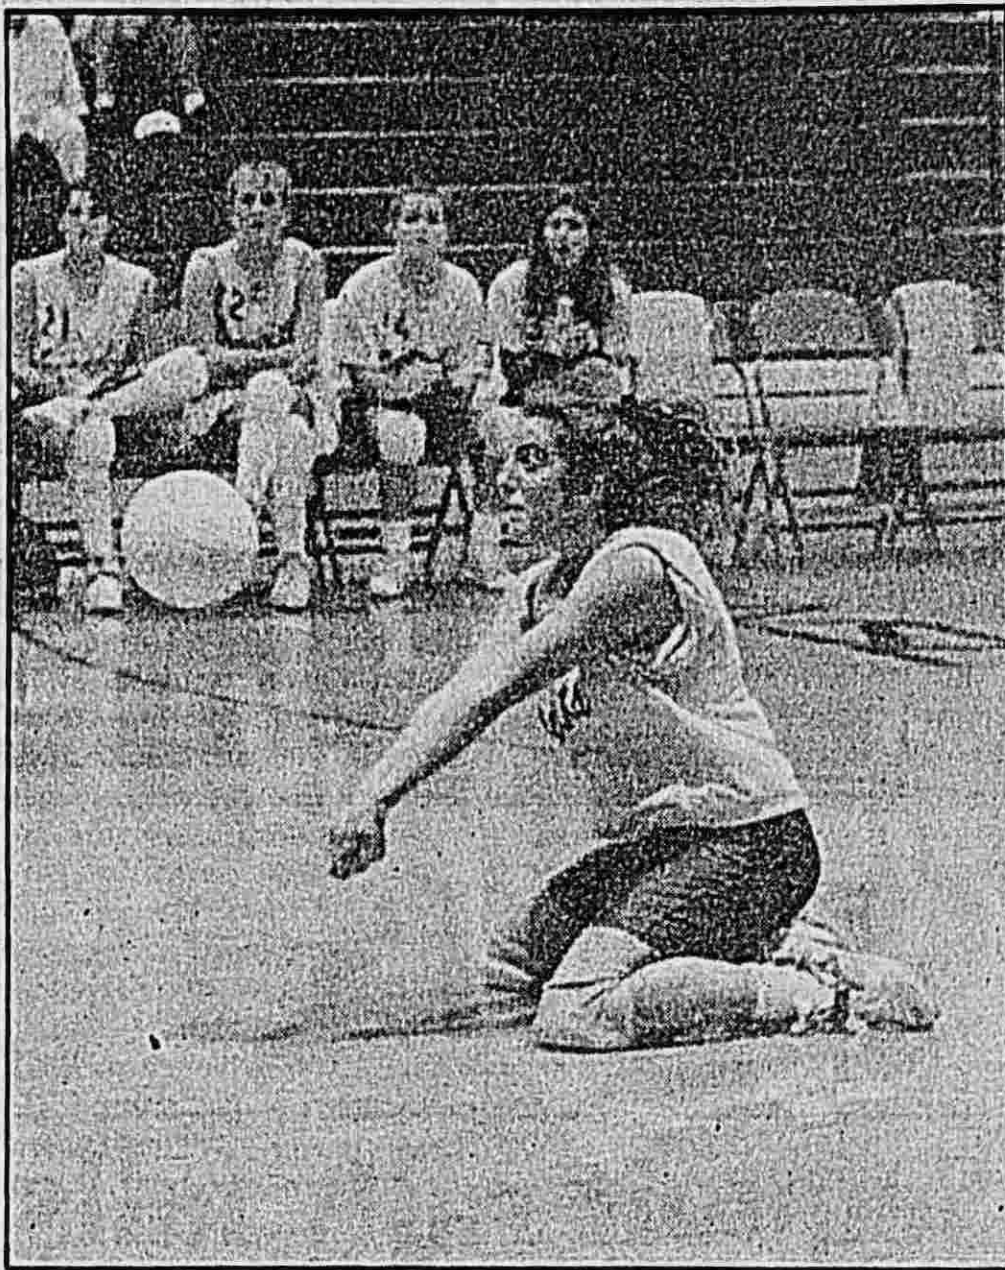

Johnsburg dominated the doubles.

At No. 1, Dawn Peczynski and Rachel Dudley downed Carolyn Short and Amber Tripp 6-4, 6-2. At No. 2, Andrea DuBeau and Jamie Sineell downed Jessica Jurgetis and Rachel Schultz 7-5, 6-2.

Garlanger knows if the Bulldogs are to be a factor in this year's conference race, the key will be singles.

"The rest of the kids are pretty fresh. We have to sweep the singles," Garlanger said.

Grayslake Rams spikers challenge MHS

The result may have been the same, but how Grayslake Rams volleyball team arrived at it were as different as night and day.

The Rams fell to Mundelein 15-6, 15-7 and Marian Central in three sets, 15-13, 1-15, 9-15 and Coach Dan Stacey's reaction was different for both efforts.

"I thought we played real well against Mundelein. We played all-around good defense," he said.

On the Marian Central match: "It was a total disaster. We were up 11-0 in the first game and barely won 15-13. I told them afterwards volleyball is a half mental game and one of momentum. They let Marian gain confidence and get back in the match," Stacey said.

One bright spot was the play of Julie Duchane. "She played a good game and was aggressive at the net," Stacey said.

The Rams, 2-3 overall and 2-1 in the NWSC, are at the Stevenson Invitational Sept. 17.

Waiting ends for Grayslake Rams

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The waiting is over.

Goal posts were still intact following Grayslake's 6-0 win over St. Edward Friday, a win which ended a 22-game losing streak. Dozens of students did storm the field, celebrating the memorable moment with seniors and juniors alike, who have only known losing since donning the green and white.

Quarterback Lance Palo's one-yard touchdown run with 7:40 left in the first half was the difference between win No. 1 and loss No. 23 this balmy night. The play capped off a long drive and came on a fourth-down play, after the Green Wave stopped Cris Perham one yard short.

"I told the team, 'this is it,'" Palo said.

"I had to go for it. This is a great win for our confidence. One win or loss does not a season make, but we have had so many people working toward this," Rams Coach Dan Dillon said.

The previous win came on Oct. 19, 1991 when the Rams downed Grant 26-22. They would lose the next two games to finish 2-7 that year, then two frustrating 0-9 seasons and two losses this year followed.

"We remembered we lost to them (St. Edward) by one point last year. This was for the seniors," lineman Brian Wagner said.

The Rams (1-2) would like nothing better than to start a winning streak Sept. 17 in a 2 p.m. game at Wheaton St. Francis. The last winning streak was during the playoff years of 1989 and 1990. The St. Francis game is the last non-conference game before Northwest Suburban Conference play begins.

Palo's score was set up by an interception by Brian Witt as both teams traded turnovers.

"I ran behind (center) Steve Swanson. He clobbered his guy," Palo said.

Last year, Palo lost out in a quarterbacking dual but continued to improve in the off-season.

"He has a lot of confidence now," Dillon said.

Palo, surrounded by well-wishers after the game, commented on support of the GCHS community. "All the students are behind us now. They believe in us," he said.

Palo said he attended quarterback camps this summer in addition to the Rams camp. "My throwing has improved a lot," Palo said.

The drive almost did not happen as the Rams recovered their own fumble on the second play. Palo then completed a pass to Jeff Neutzman for 6 yards, gained two on third-and-one and Jerel Tompkins, a senior, brought the ball to the 8 on a 14-yard pickup. He gained another 4 yards before the Green Wave stiffened.

The Rams defense adjusted well to the Green Wave offense, whose most potent weapon was its ground game led by Jason Majousek with 88 yards and Ryan Peterson with 72.

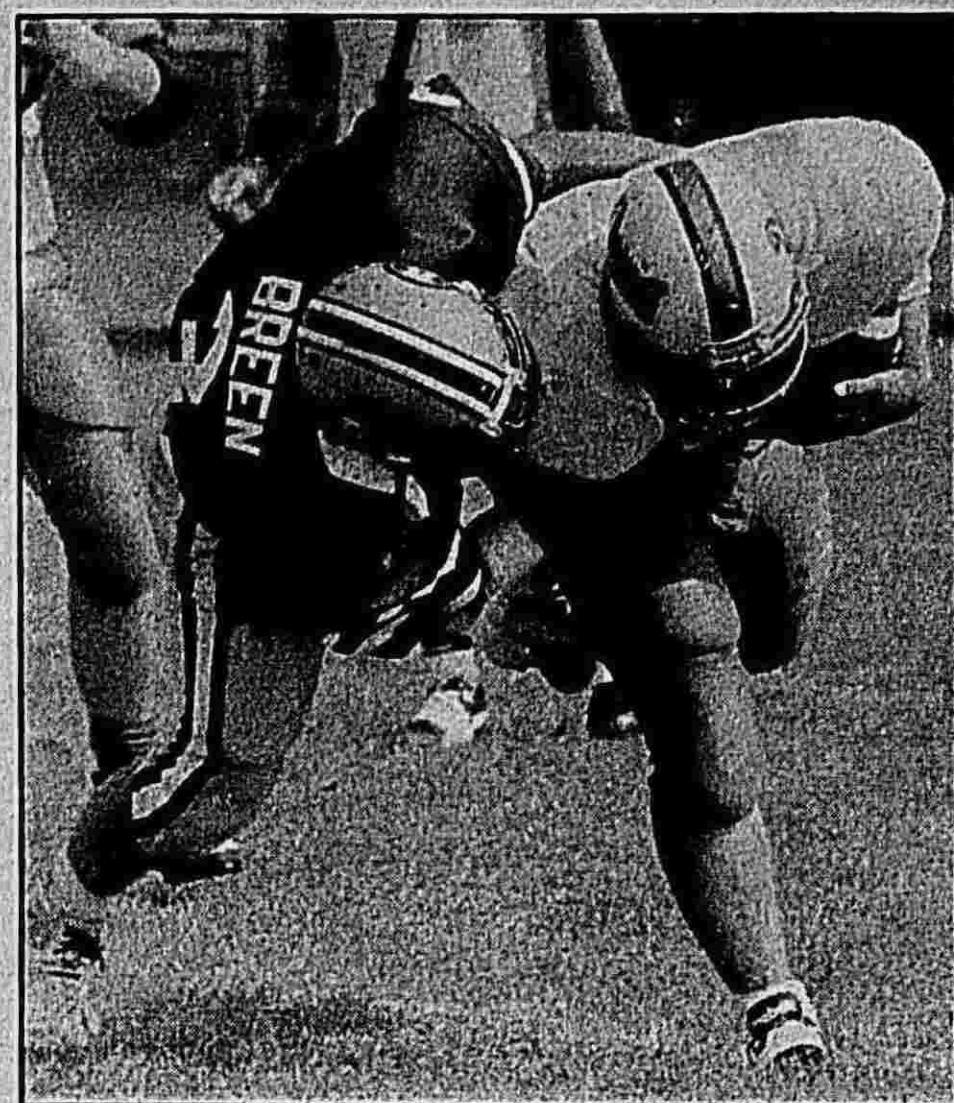

Following the Rams score, a fourth-down pass fell incomplete, another pass met the same fate from the Rams 41 to end the first half.

In the third quarter, Chris Quinn stopped Peterson on fourth down. Andy Adams stopped Peterson after a short gain on the game's last play, and the Rams ran out the clock and the celebration began.

"He was taking that angle all night," Adams said.

Adams is one of the Rams who experienced only two of the 22 losses. "This is my first year here," Adams, a senior transfer from Warren Township High School, said.

Perham led the rushing attack with 72 yards and Palo was 4-for-5 passing for 53 yards. Also adding to the running game were: Witt with 22, Ed Pak and Tompkins with 21 yards.

Warren invitational next hurdle for Rams runners

Runners have a tendency to like cooler weather, so heat such as Saturday's was a negative against many in the 28-team Wauconda Invitational.

Such was the case for Grayslake's Jason Gannt. The junior finished in ninth place to lead the Rams efforts with a 16:52 for the three-mile course.

"Gannt led for two miles, but did not feel strong and slipped to ninth," Grayslake Coach Joel Peebles said.

The Rams finished 10th as a team with 304 points. Grayslake boys and girls are back into the invitational circuit at Warren Township High School's meet Sept. 17.

"Some runners run well in the heat, others do not. Jason is one of those who do not. In the first race of the year, in cooler weather against state-ranked Waukegan, he was second," Peebles said.

Chris Persson, on the other hand, apparently is a warm-weather runner. Perhaps it is his North Carolina background, but the transfer finished in 19th place with a 17:27.

"He left a good team in North Carolina and is coming along fine. He improved his time over Wednesday's meet by 10 seconds and his place improved, too," Peebles said.

Jake Parsons was Grayslake's fourth finisher, with an 18:04, good for 42d. Parsons was an 800 meter runner on the track team.

The girls team, led by senior Becky Eiden, finished ninth with 267 points. Eiden was 21st, the same place in Wednesday's Mundelein meet held at the same Lakewood Forest Preserve. "The course was longer than the Wednesday course," Peebles noted.

"Our girls run in a pack. There was less than a minute difference between the first and fifth finishers," Peebles said.

Eiden's time was 12:27. Freshman Michele Tessman was second Rams runner at 54th place, 13:09. Sarah Thorson, a junior, was 63d in 13:23; Julie Thorson was 64th in 13:24 and Tina Fish, a freshman, was 65th in 13:25.

Grayslake battled Grant Sept. 15 before the Warren meet.

"Our goal is still to beat Johnsbury. We have beaten them, both boys and girls in the two invitationals, something we have not done in the four years we finished second to them in the conference. But we have to keep working," Peebles said.

Johnsbury hosts the Rams Sept. 29.

Sequoit defense posts shutout; now 9-1

When the Antioch soccer team faced Glenbrook South, the team's mission was to focus on defense, and the defense came through by posting a 2-0 shutout.

"We allowed a goal in each of our last four games, so we wanted to shut out this team, and we did," said Sequoit Coach Brad Wilson.

Goalie Keith Jackson posted his fourth shutout of the season with the help of defenders Neil Schmitt, Scott Landgren, Jeremy Schulz and Lane Benziger.

"Defensively, it was a stand-out game," said Wilson, adding that Antioch defenders only allowed five shots on goal.

Scoring for Antioch were forwards Joe Earl and Mike Miclea.

The Sequoits improved their record to 8-1, before hosting Love's Park-Harlem Tuesday.

The defense put on another fine performance against Harlem as Jackson recorded his second straight shutout in a 1-0 win. The defense allowed one shot on goal the whole game.

Earl netted another goal for Antioch as the Sequoits record jumped to 9-1.

"Things are going well. We're really pleased with our progress so far," Wilson said. "We're really clicking."

Antioch hosts Round Lake Friday at Polley Field. The Sequoits open conference play next Thursday at Libertyville. Antioch shared the conference title with Libertyville and Stevenson last year.

Rams survive Warren booters

Jason Patterson may not have been playing soccer a long time, but he already knows about the importance of team play.

Mitch Carre did not play the entire match against Warren Township High School, but made the most of the time he was in, scoring the winning goal in a 2-1 Grayslake win.

"I had not played goalie for 8 years," Patterson recalled.

He volunteered, though, when asked about minding the Grayslake net for coach Paul Missavage's team. The West Millmore resident, after all, did have club experience.

"We played really good defense and Patterson made some nice saves," Rams Coach Missavage said.

The win not only evened Grayslake at 3-3 for the season, but was the first over Warren.

Senior Prior scored the first goal while Carre scored the second, both in the first half.

"It was a follow-up shot," Carre said of his goal.

Warren's goal was by fleet-footed Kofi Larley, who beat Patterson midway through the half.

"We had our chances, but we just did not convert," Warren Coach Tom Wendorf said.

Lindenhurst girls soccer kicks off fall season

Enigma (U-19)

The Enigma played the Libertyville Chillies to a 1-1 tie in their IWSL fall opener. This was basically a defensive contest with strong play from Katy Harney and Jaime Rinehart.

Angel Giangiorgi made several fine saves in the goal. The Lindenhurst goal was scored by Heidi Landsof on an assist from Jaime Porter.

Blitz (U-16)

The Blitz opened their season by dominating Rockford United for the full 80-minute game played at Polley Field. The final score was 4-0.

Early in the second half, Carrie Gofron broke the ice by scoring on a penalty kick after Becca Bleyer was brought down from behind within the 18-yard penalty area. Becca Bleyer went on to score two goals with one more tally coming from Jill Denoma on a 20-yard shot from the midfield.

Goalkeepers Melissa Helbig and Jill Denoma shared in the shutout. Nicki Kral, Stacey Alberts, Tami Wright, Elly Elfering and Sondra Lorange turned in strong performances. The Blitz (1-0) travel to Hinsdale this Sunday.

Power (U-14)

The Lindenhurst Power started off their IWSL fall season with a 1-0 loss to the St. Charles Comets. The Power dominated every aspect of the game except for the final score.

Sarah Richardson, Tracie Foster, Kristen Hungarland and Jamie Wismer kept their team on the attack as the Power outshot St. Charles 23-6.

Strong midfield and defensive play by Nicci Estep, Katie

Stars (U-14)

Chicago Pegasus came to Polley Field to meet the Stars and went home on the short end of a 4-0 score.

Pegasus could only muster 5 shots on goal all game. The Stars just wore them down with pressure around the net the entire contest.

Lightning (U-12)

The Lightning scored twice in the first 10 minutes, then held on to beat Barrington 2-1. The Lightning had lost to Barrington in both their previous meetings. The Lightning (1-0) will play Naperville next Sunday at home.

Rockets (U-10)

The Lindenhurst Rockets traveled to Wheaton for the first game of their season and came away with a 2-0 victory.

Tanya Earl scored first for the Rockets. She was assisted by Kacie Anderson. Kristina Gopp finished the first half with an unassisted goal.

Strong defensive play by Lauren Cole, Becky McBrady and Catherine Hodge allowed Wheaton only five shots on goal for the entire game. Lori Knupp and Elizabeth Martin were the goalkeepers sharing the shutout.

The Rockets will play Schaumburg this Sunday at noon at Oakland Field.

Royal Eagles do battle in 2-2 tie

The Lindenhurst Royal Eagles U-11 soccer team fought hard for a 2-2 tie against the Inverness Red Devils.

With a minute gone, Kevin Beaudry scored, assisted by Adam Jordan, to start the second half. Fifteen minutes later, Tommy Woodruff scored unassisted.

Despite numerous opportunities throughout the remaining minutes, the team came up empty.

Other stand-outs included Kaleb Barrett, Christian Chebney, Eric Carlberg and Brian Walsh.

Antioch High teacher excels

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Linda J. Zeman, a home economics teacher at Antioch Community High School has been awarded an honorable mention by the Illinois State Board of Education. Those Who Excel/Illinois Teacher of the Year awards committee included Zeman with the nearly 350 individuals honored for their exemplary contributions to public and private school in Illinois.

Linda J. Zeman

Three levels of awards will be presented by State Superintendent Joseph Spagnolo and other state board members at a banquet on Oct. 8 in Decatur.

"The winners of these awards have made an extraordinary commitment to kids and learning," said Spagnolo. "They have clearly demonstrated that it takes everyone — from the principal to the parent and the school board president to the custodian — to give our children the high quality education they deserve. We can show our admiration and respect through these very public statewide awards, but our society can never thank them enough for their exemplary efforts on behalf of Illinois education."

Zeman is very active at Antioch Community High School and was featured in the parents newsletter this month.

"I think Linda has always been student oriented and willing to go that extra step for students," said Principal Mike Radakovich. "She is always the first one to get to school. She is highly deserving."

Ben Franklin announces Crafts Club

Ben Franklin, 455 Lake St. in Antioch, is introducing Crafts Club, an exclusive discount club to preferred customers. The Crafts Club, of which the Antioch Ben Franklin store was one of the first in the nation-wide chain to implement, is popular among both craft hobbyists and professional crafters.

Upon applying for membership, a temporary club card will be issued along with a $5 off coupon on a purchase of $25 or more.

For more information, call 395-3355.

ACT scores may not be best measurement tool

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The American College Testing Assessment scores have been received by Lake County high schools for 1993-'94. This test is used mostly by Midwest, Rocky Mountain and the Southeastern colleges.

The ACT test is designed for students who plan to attend college. The test is comprised of four parts: English, mathematics, reading, and science reasoning. The test is offered several times a year and used both as a measurement tool for high schools and an admission requirement to many colleges.

Besides college admissions, the scores are also used by the State of Illinois for the annual school report cards. The report cards are sent to parents of students to help keep them apprised of their local school's performance.

However, the test scores may not be the best way to evaluate the educational program of a school. "People want to take the number as a symbol of the quality of education at a particular school," explained ACT spokesperson Kelley Hayden. "You have to look at it in context. This is not the entire student population."

Demographics may have more to do with score differences between schools than any other factor. According to Hayden, one of the most significant factors causing differences in scores is income. "It is something we see across the board," he said. "The scores go up as the family income goes up."

The number of minority students taking the exam also has an impact on score numbers. "You will see higher scores from schools with higher percentages of Caucasian and Asian students and a smaller population of African American and Hispanic students," he said. He went on to say that while individual minority students do score at the top end of the test, as a group, "they have lower scores."

Some County schools have noticed a drop in core student scores.

The analysis of the scores is broken into two segments. One category includes students who have completed the recommended college preparatory course or core students. The other segment includes students not in the college preparatory program or non-core students.

While a drop in core scores seems to indicate a problem with the college level curriculum, Hayden has an alternative theory. "It is possible the score has peaked," he said. "In order for See ACT page B3

Police nab robbery suspect following chase

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

An 18-year-old suspected of committing a homicide in Kentucky was arrested following robberies and attempted robberies in Lake and Kenosha counties Tuesday.

Michael L. Anderson was arrested by Gurnee Police Department officers following an afternoon chase through the county roads and neighborhoods of northern Lake County. Anderson is being held pending Lake County State's Attorney's office review for armed robbery charges. Anderson allegedly stole $500 cash from Stan's Citgo on the corner of Rtes. 132 and 83 in Lake Villa, Spet. 11 and then stole $106 from a Piggly Wiggly in Gurnee Sept. 12. He then went just over the border where he allegedly tried to rob a Citgo station, Sept. 13. He is alleged to have brandished a .357 Magnum in the robberies.

Gurnee Police Chief Robert Jones praised the actions of personnel who arrested the suspect and participated in the chase.

"We had concerns for the safety of the suspects and traffic because school had been let out," Jones said. "Safety was a great concern and our officers acted with discretion in apprehending the suspect."

Michael Anderson, suspect

Jones explained the automobile driven by Anderson was reported stolen out of Owensboro, Ky.

"There were four or five police cars following right behind him," witness Dennis Main of Gurnee said, referring to Anderson.

Lindenhurst Police Chief Jack McKeever saw Anderson traveling southbound on Route 83, according to reports. Lake Villa and Lake County Sheriff's Department officers then joined in.

The chase, described by Jones as being at moderate speeds, down Hunt Club Road and through neighborhoods before ending at Wendy's restaurant at Route 132 and Hunt Club Road.

Items in the car included a map, change, pop cans and clothes.

Hawthorn Woods official vows to fight Rte. 53

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

What was suppose to be a question/answer session about the proposed intergovernmental agreement between the Illinois State Highway Authority and the Corridor Planning Council turned into a rallying call against the expansion of Rte. 53.

Hawthorn Woods trustees, most notably Andrew Bitta, used the opportunity to dispute any possible good a superhighway can have built near, across or above a major wetland (Indian Creek), not to mention the air and water pollution it will create for Hawthorn Woods, Long Grove, Kildeer and Mundelein residents.

Village Attorney Thomas Good and Trustee John Clery pointed out that all alternatives and environmental standards the CPC requests could be null and void once construction begins because a termination clause states that the agreement is only valid "until construction commences of the proposed tollway or dissolution of CPC."

Good said the agreement "has many provisions that are couched in generalities... lacks substance... and leaves much to the discretion of the authority."

Leo Desjardins, an attorney with the toll authority, freely admitted that open-ended resolutions are built into the agreement but said, "We have agreed to negotiate in good faith."

That's where Bitta stepped in. "I'm not convinced the toll authority acts in good faith because I have documentation to the contrary," said Bitta, adding,

"We can't operate in 'good faith.' We have to operate on that document, and that's a one-sided—your side—document."

At risk, Bitta said, is the destruction of Indian Creek, the pollution of shallow well water which Hawthorn Woods residents depend on, the loss of property values, the increase of flooding along the DesPlaines River flood plain, as well as further water and air pollution.

"You don't have to pay attention to any standards. You've got to listen to bond holders," said Bitta as he addressed toll authority officials. "It's a matter of health, welfare and safety of the people, not toll revenues."

Tollway authority and Illinois Department of Transportation officials were basically left mute, as they failed to respond to Bitta's concerns specifically. They did, however, urge Bitta and the Village of Hawthorn Woods to remain a member of the CPC, so those concerns could be addressed during the negotiating process.

Bitta conceded that other communities represented by the CPC, such as Libertyville, Gurnee, Waukegan and Grayslake stand to benefit from a major north-south expressway through central Lake County, but communities where the proposed expansion is being planned stand to lose a lot, Bitta said.

"The other municipalities do not have to lose what we have to lose... Our homes will be worthless," Bitta said.

He also noted that any community along the DesPlaines See RTE. 53 page B4

Petitions accepted by county

ANTIOCH—The assessment protest petitions completed by Antioch residents were accepted by the Lake County Board of Review. Organizers estimate that over 500 residents are protesting their property assessments. There were some tense moments when one county official refused the petitions, however, the petitions were officially accepted by the office.

Go-cart case continues

ROUND LAKE BEACH—The civil case involving Kristof's World of Fun and the Village of Round Lake Beach continued on through Tuesday. Charles Wilson, an attorney and neighbor of the establishment is claiming the go-cart track is a nuisance and is an illegal use for the site. Last week the plaintiff rested his case and was able to deflect a motion for a directed verdict. Both parties have been in court all week as the trial continues.

Second injury in same spot

FOX LAKE—A Round Lake Beach man is still in intensive care after his motorcycle crashed on the pavement on Rte. 12. Wayne M. Robertson of Round Lake Beach was heading south on Rte. 12 when the kickstand on his black 1985 Honda got stuck in the blacktop pavement, causing the machine to flip over. Robertson was attended by Fox Lake rescue personnel who then transported him to the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry for a head injury. Fox Lake Police Chief James Busch said this was the second accident in the same location within a few years. Oddly, the same thing happened to another man riding a motorcycle down the road, where his kick-stand got stuck, causing him to flip over.

Housing plan draws foes

GURNEE—Opposition is being organized to a requested three building dormitory style housing facility at Six Flags Great America. The matter will be considered at the Sept. 21 Gurnee Plan Commission meeting.

Higginbotham indicted

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Blake Higginbotham, 42, of Round Lake Beach, a pastor of The Rock of Round Lake Church, was indicted Wednesday on two counts of criminal sexual abuse. The indictment involves two separate incidents with a 13-year-old Round Lake Beach girl. If convicted, Higginbotham could face a maximum sentence of 14 years.

Mall expansion stalled

VERNON HILLS—Questions over parking and Ring Rd. improvements have temporarily stalled plans to expand Hawthorn Center Mall in Vernon Hills. Mall officials have designed plans to add approximately 290,000 square feet of retail space to the north end of the mall including a JC Penney, Montgomery Ward and Auto Express across the street. Mall officials are bound to an internal policy calling for five parking spots per 1,000 sq. ft. of mall space; whereas, village ordinance calls for a 4:1,000 ratio. Mall officials also believe that any plans for Ring Rd. should not be linked to the mall expansion. Vernon Hills officials hope to connect Ring Rd. to a pedestrian boulevard as part of the Cuneo development.

Improvements for Holiday Inn

MUNDELEIN—Owners of the Mundelein Holiday Inn anticipate approval of a plan to repay their creditors in excess of $8 million. The hotel has been in Chapter 11 bankruptcy since March and will present a plan in bankruptcy court some time in October. Owners are also upgrading the building and grounds to the tune of more than $300,000. Improvements have already begun and include new furnishings, fixtures and outdoor landscaping.

Avon appoints tax assessor

GRAYSLAKE—Avon Township has appointed a new tax assessor to fill the vacancy left by the Gerald Kristan. Marlene Oplawski has been appointed by the Avon Township board to fill the position through the remainder of the term, which runs to Dec. 31, 1997. Oplawski has been with the assessor's office as a deputy assessor since being hired by Kristan 13 years ago. Three qualified Avon Township residents had applied for the position. Thirty-seven year old Kristan was killed in an automobile accident in central Illinois in August.

Village celebrates 25 years

FOX VALLEY RIVER GARDENS—The tiny village that straddles Lake and McHenry counties along the Fox River celebrated 25 years of its incorporation as a village in the State of Illinois. A "Garden Party" was held next to village hall, with many of the 655 residents attending the Sept. 11 celebration. While the village has not increased much in population in 25 years, when its population was approximately 500, Village President Jack R. Motley said it has nearly tripled in land size, with two annexations totaling 500 acres bringing the village's total to 800 acres.

Police station in the works

LAKE ZURICH—The village is putting together a proposal to build a much needed new police department. The existing station has between 6,000 and 7,000 square-feet for its 31 sworn officers, leaving personnel stacked up on each other, according to Police Chief Frederick J. Clauser. One room at the station, 61 W. Main St., is used for multiple purposes, including detective offices, roll call and locker facilities for both males and females. Clauser would like the new station to have between 21,000 and 22,000 square-feet to match a one-to-one ration for the village's projected population in the year 2010. Such a facility would cost an estimated $3.5 to $4.2 million, he said.

those schools to increase the core scores, they would have to move more students into the prepared (core) category."

Another possibility for a drop in core scores could be the stringent requirements needed to be considered a core student. "Students must have taken or will take all of the core courses to be in the core category," explained Hayden. He said that if a student does not take even one course, he or she will be considered non-core.

Even comparing a school from year to year may not be the best way to evaluate a school's educational program. Hayden noted that the number of students taking the test impacts on a score within a given year. Hayden pointed out that state or national figures move very little because of the large amount of students taking the test.

"If you have less than 100 students taking the test, you will get a lot more movement from year to year," said Hayden. "That would explain a big jump or drop."

Teens charged with armed robbery at donut shop

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

One man was injured and two Fox Lake residents have been arrested, following an armed robbery took place at the Round Lake Beach Dunkin' Donuts store.

Fox Lake Police were commended by Round Lake Beach Police for initiating the arrest on the offenders.

At around 6:48 p.m., police received a call after an employee of a donut store in the Mallard Creek shopping plaza who said he was hit over the head and robbed.

Mike Osmond of Dunkin' Donuts was bleeding from the side of his head after being hit with a galvanized steel pipe by a teenager who came into the shop and demanded money. Osmond is a resident of Round Lake Beach.

Osmond was the only one in the donut shop at the time of the incident. He later told police a Hispanic young man came into the store and locked the door behind him. Then he demanded cash which was in a file cabinet in the back room and pointed a handgun at the employee.

According to police, when Osmond didn't move fast enough for the robber, he was hit over the head with the one inch diameter pipe. The youth then took off with $270 cash after forcing the man to show him where it was kept.

Osmond went next door to Terry O' Tooles and urged Beth Plosila, manager, and a co-worker to call police.

Plosila said she ran next door to Rosati's Pizza for help, while her employee stayed with Osmond and called 911.

Police arrived within moments and received a description of the young man and the getaway driver in the car waiting out front. Immediately Officer Fred Usmiller released a flash ISPERN radio broadcast to other villages to keep a look out for two teenagers in a white Nissan.

Fox Lake police heard the message and continued their patrol. It wasn't long before the white car was observed dropping off the younger assailant at his Fox Lake home.

Then the driver began heading down the road to his home at 16 N. Holly. Police immediately stopped the vehicle and placed Julio J. Chaisez, 18, under arrest.

Chaisez, was charged as an adult and transported to the Lake County Jail. The reported gunman, a 16-year-old, was taken to the Lake County Juvenile Detention Center, the Hulse House.

Both subjects were charged with armed robbery, armed violence, and aggravated battery.

According to employees of the donut shop, Osmond refuses to return to the store following the traumatic incident.

Cambridge cited for wetlands violation

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

The Army Corps of Engineers has charged Cambridge Homes, Inc. with violating a federal act that protects wetlands. The violation occurred at a subdivision in Round Lake Heights known as Fox Glenn.

The development first came under suspicion after a Round Lake Heights zoning meeting earlier this month. The zoning meeting was on an unrelated property known as Fairfield Marsh, which Pasquelli builders hopes to develop. After the meeting, Lake County Board member Suzi Schmidt, who represents District 3, received at least six phone calls from concerned residents regarding the Fox Glenn development.

During a walk-through of the property, Schmidt was guaranteed by Mayor Terry Lumpkins that nothing questionable was going on regarding wetland fill. Schmidt did not dispute that he believed what he said, but did see enough of the site to question what was going on.

She told the mayor she would call the Army Corps of Engineers for a site inspection. Julie Hall, an Army Corps permit officer for the Lake County area, confirmed the Corps had also received a number of calls about the development, and that a site inspection was scheduled.

Carol Massar, public affairs officer for the Chicago District of the Army Corps of Engineers, confirmed that inspectors visited the site on north end of Lotus Dr and determined the developer was in violation of section 404 of the Clean Water Act for 'the discharge of fill material in the waters of the U.S.' Massar also said a permit application to fill a wetland area had not been submitted to the Army Corps.

Pat Black, Village Engineer for Round Lake Heights, believes the area in question is a shallow depression on top of a hill. To his knowledge, no violations have been issued and there has been no filling in of the depression at the top of the hill.

Jerry Conrad, executive vice president for Cambridge Homes, also said he had no knowledge of violations issued. He said that every area delineated as a wetland by an independent environmental consultant has been left alone. The consultant did not qualify the shallow depression as a wetland, but Conrad said even it had not been filled at this point in time.

"We have preserved all the wetlands the consultant set aside. We are interested in settling this as soon as possible," Conrad said.

Schmidt said the independent consultant is Chris Burke and Associates, and believes it is the same firm that provided consulting services for the Town and Country development in Mundelein. Town and Country allegedly violated wetlands in that development as well.

The shallow depression indicated by Black and Conrad affects four lots in the subdivision. Development of those lots is suspended by the builder until the matter with the Army Corps is resolved. All other development is proceeding as scheduled.

Conrad qualified the issue as a disagreement between the consultant and the Army Corps. Massar reiterated that a violation of a federal mandate had occurred and there was no discussion on that point. It could not be determined, however, if the violation coincided with the shallow depression on top of a hill, referred to by Black.

Army Corps inspectors will make another visit to the Fox Glenn site, to determine if any other violations have occurred. Massar said the Army Corps will decide after that visit what action to take against the developer. Depending on the severity of the violations found, Cambridge could incur fines and receive a cease and desist order on building. If the violations are minor, Cambridge may only be required to remove the fill from the wetland area.

Fox Glenn is an 80-acre development, planned to accommodate nearly 300 single family homes and townhomes on roughly 40-acres that are suitable for development.

Schmidt thought it was ironic that just Tuesday the County Board approved an additional $575,000 in funding for the study of flooding in the Round Lake area and the implementation of flooding deterrents. The Village of Round Lake Heights alone received $225,000 to build a storm retention pond to help alleviate flooding in the village.

County to negotiate Lakehurst court lease; task force formed

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Although County Board members approved a motion to enter into negotiations to lease a vacant building across from Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan for a new court facility, a task force was also created to investigate the potential for another satellite court in south Lake County.

The move to Lakehurst Mall would consolidate the branch courts in Waukegan, Zion, North Chicago and Prairie View.

Circuit Court Chief Judge John Goshgarian ultimately decides the closing of the branch courts, but Jan. 1, 1995 has been a date of closure he has publicly pointed to in the past.

He also supports the formation of a task force to seek a potential site in south Lake County, which is something police chiefs in southern Lake County have vehemently demanded if the Prairie Court branch was to be closed.

County Board member Pam Newton (Vernon Hills), who has also fought the closing of the Prairie View branch, was optimistic about the task force.

"I am hopeful that this task force will be taken seriously," said Newton, who has agreed to be a member of the task force and who already has a handful of names of other individuals, including two police chiefs, interested in being members of the task force.

Past studies, she noted, have suggested one central court (Waukegan) to go along with two other branches north (Grayslake) and south of Rte. 120 would be the ideal court situation.

South Lake County police chiefs have argued that closing the Prairie View branch forces an unfunded mandate on municipalities in costs of overtime to send police officers to Grayslake, the other court facility in addition to the Lakehurst site.

Newton also suggested that it may discourage witnesses from traveling to Grayslake or Waukegan to give testimony in court.

"Crime prevention may be altered," said Newton.

The task force could pose other possibilities other than just a court facility, she added.

"I would like to see more than just a court facility. I would like to see a county facility here to obtain marriage licenses, for example," she said.

Rte. 53

River could be affected, as runoff from the highway would overburden area wetlands which serve as sponges for the DesPlaines River.

Bitta reminded officials that much of the flooding along the Mississippi River last summer was a result of the destruction of nearby wetlands by industries wanting to build factories near the river. The DesPlaines River could suffer the same fate, he said.

"There are a lot of Republican votes here, but they can go Democrat. The DesPlaines River Corridor is all Republican, and Republicans will be drowning Republicans," said Bitta, noting the upcoming November elections.

He added, "You are not going to go through Indian Creek without a fight on your hands."

Resident vows to spend inheritance in fight

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

One Hawthorn Woods resident believes the debate surrounding the Rte. 53 expansion is a philosophical question of good government, and he vows to spend his inheritance to fight for the people.

Tom Friese of Hawthorn Woods simply asked, "Is the basic requirement of government to protect its citizens?"

His question stirred a philosophical debate among officials from the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority, the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Corridor Planning Council.

Hawthorn Woods Attorney Thomas Good said the general policing philosophy of government is "to protect the general public's health, welfare and safety."

Friese then asked, "If it's not protecting us, is not government attacking us?"

The expansion of Rte. 53 will create water and air pollution, destroy private property value and bring in crime, Friese said. He believes government is not acting in the interest of the people if it allows the expansion of Rte. 53.

"I just received an inheritance and I will file lawsuit after lawsuit. That's the only way government understands," Friese said. Although he would not reveal how much of an inheritance he received, Friese said there's enough to file suit against local, county, state and federal governments if Rte. 53 is approved.

Friese moved to Hawthorn Woods two years ago from LaGrange, basically to escape from the expressway system which has deteriorated the environment and home values in Cook and DuPage counties.

"There's a psychological factor involved," Friese said of living near major freeways. "You live under this terror for 24 hours."

Upon moving to Hawthorn Woods, Friese's real estate agent apologized for not alerting him of the possibility of the expansion of Rte. 53. When he contacted village, county and state authorities about Rte. 53, they told him it was a dead issue, he said.

"On the basis of that trust, we purchased our home," Friese said.

With the expansion of Rte. 53 a strong possibility, Friese again confronts the inevitable destruction of the environment and the loss of property value.

Helander says County Clerk is no place for politics

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

It was a grand old party indeed, as Willard Helander, Republican candidate running for County Clerk, celebrated the grand opening of her campaign office, which also happens to be the GOP headquarters.

But Helander stressed that the public service office is no place for politics.

"It (County Clerk Office) doesn't belong to the Republicans and it doesn't belong to the Democrats. It belongs to the people of Lake County," said Helander as she addressed many Republican leaders and volunteers attending the event.

The coveted County Clerk seat has been held by the Democrats for the last 24 years and remains one of the few positions of prominence left in the county to be held by the Democrats. Vernon Hills Village Clerk Kathy Ryg, a Democrat, is vying for the seat as well.

"I'm not a party worker," Helander said. "Service—that's the bottom line."

She was hand-picked by the Republicans because of her work in building the Transportation Management Association from the ground level up to an organized association addressing regional transportation needs. She also holds a law degree.

Helander said she started with nothing, not even a phone, when she accepted the executive director position with the TMA. Through organization, communication and marketing, she has attracted both public and private sector membership into the TMA and has secured $500,000 in financial resources for the association.

She said she will carry those same organizational, problem-solving and communication skills to the County Clerk Office.

"I did my time there. Now, I want to bring people together as county clerk," Helander said.

By the response of volunteers wishing to assist Helander in her campaign, it appears she is already bringing people together. Scores of people signed up to host coffee or cocktail parties, to walk their neighborhood streets in Helander's name, to make phone calls to voters or to allow her to place campaign signs in their yards.

"They're just average people who want to give their support," Helander said of her volunteers. "I think once people get to know me they'll understand I'm qualified, understand the law and will protect the rights of people."

Rep. Salvi's opponent wants to strengthen family unit

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

The Democratic challenger to State Representative Al Salvi in the 52nd District sees herself as the 'family friendly' candidate. Five-year Round Lake Beach resident Jayna Ashbacher, 25, is running primarily on a platform of strengthening the nuclear family.

Ashbacher first got the impetus to run for state representative early this year when she won the race for Precinct Committeeman for Avon Township in March. The victory gave her the confidence to represent her constituents in Springfield.

Ashbacher is currently a stay-at-home mom, with a two-year-old son. She works part-time in retail on weekends. Her past career path has been in office management and weight loss management. She also co-founded the Lake County Chapter of FEMALE.

Before she could be asked, Ashbacher brought up the fact that she does not have a law degree. She is aware of the high percentage of state and federal legislators who have law degrees, including her opponent, Al Salvi.

"I don't feel it is detrimental to have a law degree, but I see through the eyes of a middle class, average citizen. I would much rather vote for someone who is an average citizen," she said.

Both Salvi and his wife, Kathy, have law degrees. Kathy bristles when she hears the rap that politicians get for being lawyers. She made it clear that both she and her husband paid their own way through law school, and have worked hard since graduating to live the American dream. Their level of success today came by their own volition, not a silver spoon.

Ashbacher describes herself as the family friendly candidate because she has identified one the basic problems with our society as the breakdown of the family unit. She feels this problem is intertwined with school overcrowding and gun control among many other issues.

Salvi agrees that the breakdown of the family is a problem. He feels that an society's rejection of old-fashioned concepts of right and wrong are partly to blame for society's woes.

On school overcrowding, Ashbacher admits it is overwhelming at this point. She used kindergarten Round Lake schools as an example. The kindergarten now meets in the library because of lack of space in the schools. There is not enough money available to build classroom space and the class size continues to grow.

One of the solutions she suggests are higher developer impact fees. She feels the villages are eager to welcome new development with no solutions on where to house the school children.

Salvi says, "We can fund education without raising the income tax buy cutting spending. I have sponsored legislation designed to cut spending and to reform the way we spend tax dollars. The problems of underfunded state pensions and the backlog of bills to be paid are not the result of too little taxation. We need to emphasize incentives for businesses, privatization and we need to reform the state's school-aid formula."

Regarding gun control, Ashbacher believes we need to address the crime problem more constructively than with legislation such as President Clinton's crime bill. She thinks the ban on assault weapons was nonsense. Hand gun control is one true way to effect a change of gun violence. She also believes the ban of hand guns would reduce the number of hand gun accidents in the home.

Salvi also believes the banning of assault style weapons is poor legislation, given the small amount of crimes in which they play a part. He is not for taking weapons away from law abiding citizens either.

"The Second Amendment to the constitution deals with rights that must be guaranteed in a free society. It deals with innocent citizens protecting themselves from criminals who don't follow the existing firearm laws," Salvi said.

Salvi believes the state should keep violent criminals off the streets as a deterrent to more crime. He sponsored the Truth in Sentencing bill, which requires violent criminals to serve at least 85 percent of their sentences. The current trend is for violent criminals to spend just over one third of their sentences behind bars.

Another pressing issue in Lake county is riverboat gambling. Ashbacher is not in favor of introducing riverboat gambling to the Chain. She feels it would be detrimental to the environment, among other things.

"The Chain is already

jammed. The roads would be jammed by riverboat gamblers. There are other jobs and ways to make money," she said.

Ashbacher also cited that the residents are against the advent of riverboats in Lake County.

Salvi agreed that riverboat gambling is not a panacea for financial woes. He believes in cutting regulations, cutting the burden of taxes, and creating business incentives to help the county's economy. He did say if a majority of the community supported riverboat gambling, then they should have the opportunity to it, at long as the state acquires a fair amount of revenue from a gambling operation.

Taxes are always on everybody's mind and the two candidates are no different. Ashbacher would not be against a gradual tax increase if she felt the needs of the state warranted it. She is in favor of tax relief for fixed income individuals, such as seniors. She said any increase in taxes would have to be accompanied by complete revenue accountability by the state government.

Salvi's feelings regarding taxes are summed up in one statement, which is something he has reiterated on many occasions.

"People of Illinois do not pay too little in taxes, the government spends too much. A solution to the money crunch would be to trim wasteful spending, and then re-allocate those funds to programs that need assistance," Salvi said.

PARTY LINES

Grinnell, Jablonski differ on jail-house education

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Rich Jablonski, Democratic candidate for sheriff, is taking a hard line on plans to expose county jail inmates to more education.

Jablonski

Jablonski has voiced the un-Democratic-like view that the program being advanced with the cooperation of College of Lake County is $1,000 per week that could be better spent on more productive crime prevention. He said he'll elaborate as the campaign proceeds.

Incumbent Republican Sheriff Clint Grinnell is using the project shepherded by Associate Dean Mary Charukas, dean of Adult Continuing Education and Extension Service, as a showpiece for reelection.

Grinnell

Time for a change—First, Willard Helander left as executive director of the Transportation Management Assn. of Lake County to run for county clerk.

Helander

Then Board President William C. "Bill" Dineen announced he is stepping down to devote more time to affairs at Motorola. TMA also is electing new directors. Lots of new faces.

Update—Scrub the notion that County Board Rep. Ed Fojtik (R-Ingleside) is losing interest in public service.

"I'm busier than ever. Always on the go. I'm on 10 different committees," demurred Fojtik, making him the committee champ of the county board. Fojtik also is a favorite of boss Depke. In correcting a recent Party Lines report, Fojtik issued a public invitation to a fund raiser Oct. 5 at the historic Mineola Hotel ballroom in Fox Lake. "Call that an announcement that I'm running for reelection," the energetic politician intoned.

Back in office—Former Lincolnshire mayor Evelyn Cooper is back in office again. She was named 1995 commodore of the Long Lake Yacht Club, a family sailing club organized in 1947.

Friends again—County Board member Pam Newton and Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt were recently seen at a political function exchanging pleasantries and hugs. The two also paired up together at a recent Republican golf outing. Just last month, however, the two were involved in a scuffle at the County Building. They have opposing views on the consolidation of the courts into a Waukegan location, but as Coffelt noted, "Pi Phis always stick together." The two are members of the same collegiate sorority.

Reputation grows—Fremont Twp. Supervisor Pete Tekampe added to his laurels as a barbecue chef by supervising the main course at the benefit pig roast for Libertyville Twp. Supervisor Ralph Swank and County Board Rep. Dick Raffis (R-Wildwood). Friends say, "Pete's so good he can roast a pig in his sleep."

Lucas rally—Supporters of Phyllis A. Lucas, Democratic Candidate for State Representative in the 62nd District, will hold a rally on Sept. 17 at the

Swank

Ray Lary residence, 39244 Poplar Street, Lake Villa. The event will take place from 1 to 4 p.m. For more information call 356-7044. Another event is slated for Oct. 8. Lucas is trying to unseat Republican Robert Churchill. Lucas says one of the issues that prompted her to run was Churchill's voting present on the state budget and his alleged statement that gangs don't exist in the 62nd district.

A mother and grandmother, Lucas says she put family and quality of life issues at the top of her agenda. She also says she'd be the first in line to swear an oath for term limits. Lucas is a former Lindenhurst trustee.

Churchill

Schadecycle—You've heard of whistle-stop campaigns on the back of trains, a popular form of campaigning in the 1800s and early part of this century. But hey, it's the 1990s. Look for Edna Schade, the Republican candidate trying to unseat Democrat Rep. Lauren Beth Gash, to be campaigning on her bike through various precincts of the 60th state Rep. district as she tries to take her campaign to the people. After various Party Lines comments about Schade's dour demeanor, you can bet she will be riding her bike with a smile. Watch the bugs.

Covering poor management

Editor:

The ACHS board again showed their arrogance and "taxpayers be damned" attitude by placing a 30-cent increase in the education fund on the ballot in November.

This money supposedly will be spend to reduce the debt created by poor management over a period of time that could be paid in three years. After that, the money could be used to counteract the tax cap which is now the law of the land.

This is outrageous. The tax cap was imposed to alleviate the extremely high property taxes in the collar counties. The majority of voters and politicians from both parties supported this legislation.

You even state in the Lindenhurst News that the budget is balanced and assessments bring in additional dollars. So please forget lowered sports fees, etc. ACHS is supposed to be an academic institution, not a sports club. Please don't fool with Mother Nature. Let's vote this one down.

I. Kildegaard
Lindenhurst

Marks bristles over Martin rip

Editor:

Jack Martin says I don't get it. I think I do.

I "get" the fact that, by a 7 to 1 margin, the people who elected me to represent them on the county board told me they did not want me to vote for Grainger's rezoning.

I "get" the fact that the trustees of three communities in my district voted to oppose Grainger's rezoning because it violated an innovative, long-range land use agreement they had worked out among themselves.

I "get" the fact that Grainger's million dollars for local schools, which Martin promises will ease our tax burden, will cover the costs of educating about 200 students. Does he really believe that the many hundreds of Grainger employees who are sure to move into our area will have only 200 school-age kids among them? I doubt it. I bet those newcomers will pour far more than 200 students into Lake County schools, including many districts that will never see a penny of Grainger's tax money.

That's why the promise of tax relief that comes so easily to developers' lips never lives up to its billing. Have your taxes ever gone down as a result of some new office park, shopping center, or housing development? Mine never have. They only go up. Martin's glib talk of "real tax relief" is a cruel hoax that people like him perpetrate on the hopeful over and over again. Just look at financially troubled Hawthorn School in Vernon Hills.

Finally, I "get" the fact that not one of those "rich and wealthy Mettawa millionaires" that Jack Martin thinks are keeping me afloat politically ever did a thing to help me get elected. Truth is, I enjoy the luxury of being free to vote my conscience precisely because, as a candidate in 1992, I personally put up 73 percent ($5,902.63) of my own campaign money. The rest ($2,145) came in as small checks from my neighbors in Riverwoods, Lincolnshire, Deerfield, etc., and I have the documentation to prove it.

One thing I don't "get" is how anyone could accuse me of hypocrisy. To me, the real hypocrite is Jack Martin, a millionaire gadfly whose PAC has admitted raking in over $100,000 from the development industry and other PACs (from as far away as Springfield and Oak Brook) to ensure the election of the Depke crew now in charge of Lake County. How can he have the gall to say there would be anything wrong if I accepted campaign help from supporters in my district, be they "rich and wealthy" or not?

By the way, if I were so favored by those "Mettawa millionaires" as Martin claims, you can bet that by now I would have far more in my reelection kitty than the princely sum of $270.02.

Martha A. Marks
County Board Rep.

(Editor's Note: Martha Marks represents Dist. 21 in south Lake County on the county board. She is a resident of Riverwoods.)

Winners congratulated

Editor:

The Lake Zurich Fire Dept. and the Village of Lake Zurich should be proud of the efforts of Fire Chief Terry Mastandrea and firefighter Laura Heden.

I witnessed their efforts at this year's finals of the Firefighter Combat Challenge. With temperatures well into the nineties, competition was tough. Chief Mastandrea should relish his second place in the chiefs' division, and Laura her first place in the women's division. The men and women of the Wauconda Fire Dept. offer them our congratulations.

Prostate screenings given during awareness week

Cancer of the prostate is the second most common type of cancer among American men and the second leading cause of cancer deaths among them. It's estimated that one out of every ten American men will develop prostate cancer during his lifetime.

Every man over age 40 should have a digital rectal examination as part of his regular annual physical checkup. In addition, the American Cancer Society recommends that men 50 and over have an annual prostate-specific antigen blood test.

Men over age 40 should also stay alert to any of the urinary problems and painful conditions that could be symptoms of prostate cancer.

Symptoms of possible prostate problems include: weak or interrupted flow of urine, inability to urinate or difficulty in starting urination, need to urinate frequently, especially at night, urine flow that is not easily stopped, painful or burning urination, blood in the urine, and continuing pain in lower back, pelvis or upper thighs.

The following Lake County hospitals have Prostate screenings available:

Condell Medical Center, September 22, 6 to 8 p.m., 362-2905 ext. 5254; Good Shepherd Hospital, Sept. 20, 6 to 8 p.m., 1-800-474-3278; Highland Park

Hospital, October 5, 5 to 7 p.m., 480-2654; Midwestern Regional Medical Center, all month, 872-1615; St. Therese Medical Center, Sept. 21, 6 to 8 p.m., 249-3900; Victory Memorial, Sept. 20 and 27, 6:30 to 9 p.m., 360-4246.

Most screenings are by appointment only and are free of charge. Please call the hospital of your choice at the listed number for more information, or call the American Cancer Society at 336-9293.

Festival of Trees seeks designers

Lake County's Festival of Trees designer committee is looking for individuals who enjoy creating holiday magic by turning a spruce wreath into a festive vision or decorating a holiday tree.

Judy Sipos and Sandra Welker, committee co-chairmen, invite individuals, families, clubs, organizations and businesses who are interested in decorating a theme holiday tree or wreath to join the dozens of volunteers planning this year's family holiday event.

Designers must register their intent no later than Sept. 30.

For further festival information, call Bill Devore or Laurie Stone at 360-4246.

EHS Good Shepherd holds annual health fair

EHS Good Shepherd Hospital invites the community to participate in its 15th birthday celebration during the hospital's annual health fair October 7 and 8.

Specially priced medical tests and flu shots, free health screenings, information booths and education displays will be available during the Celebrate Your Health Fair which will be held in the ground floor lobby of the hospital from 8 a.m. to noon Friday, Oct. 7, and from 8 to 11 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 8.

Traditionally, EHS Good Shepherd's health fair has been held earlier in the year, but the event was rescheduled to coincide with the hospital's 15th birthday activities.

One of the most popular tests at the fair is a comprehensive chemistry and coronary risk profile blood test. More than 1,000 area residents attended last year's fair and 98 percent of them had the chemistry and coronary risk profile screening.

Offered for $15, the test screens for diabetes, kidney and liver function, calcium, triglycerides, uric acid and cholesterol (HDL, LDL) levels. Prior to having this analysis, persons must fast at least 10 hours, avoiding all foods and liquid except water. All prescribed medications, however, should be taken as directed. Diabetics are encouraged to consult their physicians before fasting. Persons must be 16 or older to have this blood test.

For the first time at the health fair, flu shots will be available to adults over 18 years of age. The charge will be $10. In addition, flu shots will be given to Senior Passport members for a special price of $5. Persons 50 years of age or older can take advantage of this discount by signing up for a free Senior Passport membership at the Celebrate Your Health Fair.

Another new offering at the fair will be free Health Risk Appraisals distributed by EHS Good Shepherd's HealthAdvisor physician referral and community education service department.

Other free tests include glaucoma and vision screenings, EKGs, colorectal cancer screenings, pulmonary function and pulse oximetry tests, and blood glucose tests (10 hour fast required).

Free oral health screenings, foot screenings, blood pressures and body fat analysis screenings will also be provided.

A free written stress analysis and biofeedback demonstration will be provided by the Mind-Body Medical Center of EHS Good Shepherd and a free written questionnaire on depression symptoms will be offered by EHS Good Shepherd's psychiatric services department.

Special displays have been planned on microsurgery; toy safety and how to choose safe play things for children; Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD); and speech, language and swallowing disorders.

In addition, booths will be set up with details about emergency medicine, drugs, women's health issues, organ donation and Advance Directives.

There also will be information about EHS Good Shepherd's Wellspring Women's Health Care, Senior Passport program and EHS Home Health Care Service, Inc.

No appointments will be taken for the health fair and medical screenings. For more information about the event, call EHS Good Shepherd's HealthAdvisor line at 381-5282.

Abbott files application for migraine drug

Abbott Laboratories has filed a Supplemental New Drug Application with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), seeking approval for an indication for divalproex sodium in the prevention of migraine headaches in adults.

"Preventive treatments such as divalproex sodium may offer new hope for migraine patients who do not respond to medication once the attack is under way," said Bruce Wallin, M.D., divisional vice president, Neuroscience, Cardiovascular and Immunoscience Development, Abbott Laboratories.

Of the estimated 23 million Americans who are afflicted with migraine headaches—a type of severe headache that is characterized by recurrent pain on one or both sides of the head—about 11 million are diagnosed as having moderate to severe migraines that are disabling. Migraine headaches usually are accompanied by one or more concurrent symptoms, including nausea, vomiting and an increased sensitivity to noise and/or bright light.

Treatment may involve acute therapies, which are administered by the patient at the onset of a migraine, or preventive treatments, which involve daily drug therapy. An estimated 5 percent to 10 percent of persons with migraine do not respond to acute therapies and require preventive treatment.

"While we have seen many advances in the treatment of migraine in recent years, there remains a great need for therapies that prevent the occurrence of migraine," said Dr. Wallin. "In this way, we can begin to help the many people who continue to experience excruciating and debilitating headache pain that strikes monthly or even weekly, causing them to lose work days and be unable to perform other normal daily activities during these attacks."

New technology brings on new aches and pains

Every year, millions of American workers suffer computer-related injuries along the Information Highway.

However, many of these injuries can be prevented, according to Elaine Kempers, manager of the Work Hardening Program at the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago.

"Simply shifting position or taking frequent, short breaks relaxes muscles and increases productivity," she said.

Kempers also offered these suggestions for preventing back, neck and eye strain.

•Give your eyes a warm-up

Before you boot up, slowly roll your eyes in a circular pattern. Complete three circles in both directions. Throughout the day, look up from your computer every 10 minutes and focus on a distant point.

•Adjust your chair so it offers enough support

Your chair should allow your arms to be positioned straight down from your shoulders with your wrists resting in a neutral position on the keyboard.

If your chair offers no lower back support, use a cushion or roll.

•Position your computer screen correctly.

The screen should be eye level or no lower than 15 degrees below eye level.

•Position your legs comfortably

Place feet flat on the floor or on a footrest. Avoid crossing your legs or ankles.

Abbott submits application for new asthma drug

Abbott Laboratories has submitted a New Drug Application with the U.S. Food and Drug Admin., seeking marketing approval for zileuton in the treatment of chronic asthma.

Zileuton acts by inhibiting production of leukotrienes, a group of naturally occurring substances that are believed to cause inflammation and have been implicated in a number of disease processes, including asthma. The New Drug Application for the Abbott compound is the first for a new class of compounds that has been developed to specifically inhibit the biosynthesis of leukotrienes.

"The zileuton submission is the culmination of an intensive research and clinical development program," says Paul Clark, president, pharmaceutical operations, Abbott Laboratories. "It is our belief that zileuton will offer clinical benefit in the treatment of asthma."

Asthma now is recognized as a disease syndrome characterized by airway inflammation, as well as bronchospasm and airway hyperactivity. In the quest for potential new therapeutic approaches to the treatment of asthma, scientists have focused their research efforts on molecular mediators of inflammation, including histamines, prostaglandins, platelet activating factor, eosinophil-derived factors, and products of 5-lipoxygenase.

The latter, also known as leukotrienes, play an important role in attracting inflammatory cells to the airway, airway narrowing, and mucous secretion, all of which can induce asthma symptoms and potentially long-term lung damage.

Controlled clinical studies in chronic, stable asthma patients suggest that treatment with zileuton improves lung function significantly. In addition, results from a six-month study showed that improvement is sustained with continued treatment. These patients treated with zileuton have been reported to experience a significant decrease in daily and nocturnal asthma symptoms, a decrease in the use of inhaled betaagonists, and a decrease in corticosteroid rescue for acute asthmatic exacerbation. Treatment with the zileuton also has been shown to produce an acute bronchodilatory effect after the first dose. This activity has since been observed with other leukotriene-active drugs.

Based on results gathered from approximately 1,000 patients with chronic, stable asthma who were enrolled in clinical trials, zileuton appears to be well tolerated. The incidence of adverse events was similar between zileuton and placebo-treated patients. The incidence of dyspepsia and abdominal pain were statistically significantly greater among zileuton-treated patients, but most adverse events were considered to be mild or moderate in severity. A few patients treated with zileuton showed an increase in liver enzymes, but these events were transient, resolving either while the patients continued on drug therapy or after use of zileuton was discontinued.

In asthma, trigger factors, such as exercise, changes in temperature, irritants and allergens cause the release of inflammatory mediators, resulting in bronchoconstriction, increased mucous secretion and reduced mucociliary clearance, mucosal swelling and cellular infiltration caused by vasodilation and heightened vascular permeability. The process can produce an ongoing cycle of symptoms and a continual progression of the disease.

According to the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute, the incidence of asthma and the morbidity associated with the condition continue to rise in the U.S. Asthma was estimated to afflict nearly 12 million Americans in 1993.

Asthma patients should exercise

Many patients with asthma have been told that it is not safe to participate in vigorous exercise. However, doctors at the Cornelius Crane Asthma Center at the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago regularly prescribe exercise as well as medications. "It's true that a strenuous workout can trigger asthma symptoms in some people," said Christopher Winslow, M.D., "but most asthma patients could benefit from an increased activity level." Although asthma cannot be cured, exercise-induced asthma can be better controlled by following these tips:

- Before beginning any regular exercise program, consult with your physician. Together, you can learn when and how to exercise safely. For example, it may be important for you to avoid exercising outdoors in colder weather or when the pollen count is high.

- Understand the purpose and proper use of each of your medications. Adjusting your medications around the time you plan to exercise can help prevent asthma symptoms.

- Avoid exercise on days when you are already experiencing asthma symptoms. Be sensitive to day-to-day changes in your asthma condition.

An Area Guide to Home Design, Remodeling and Real Estate

If you're ever speaking with Charlene Kipp about her rural Grayslake log home, watch for the way her eyes sparkle and dance, and the pride in her voice. If you ever get the chance to be welcomed into her home as I was, you will realize why she feels the way she does.

Charlene and Bill Kipp have lived in Grayslake for 19 years, moving from Chicago in order to raise their kids in a more country-like setting. Bill Kipp had the good sense to purchase five acres of land down the road from their home on Casey Road and, after approximately 10 years, built their dream home, which was purchased through Lincoln Log dealer Jack Idstein. The Kipps researched many companies before they stumbled upon a small sign in Grayslake that led them to Jack Idstein and to the home they've always wanted.

Once the Kipps decided on their plan, of which there are approximately 100 to choose from, construction began. After only three short months, the Kipps moved in. Jack Idstein and his sons Paul and John did the building themselves. According to Jack Idstein, once a plan is chosen, they can be changed according to the buyer's taste. For instance, if your chosen plan doesn't include the cathedral ceiling you've always wanted, it can be added with some altering of the plans. The Kipps' decided to increase their square footage and make their porch longer.

When you're coming upon the Kipp home, you notice that it is unusual simply because it's obvious that it's a log home. That alone does not take your breath away. Entering and walking through the Kipp home is another story. I was fascinated with the interior of the home and the decoration, which according to Charlene Kipp is "not any particular style, just me." Kipp is a collector of Hall China tea pots, and displays them proudly throughout the living area and kitchen, the first rooms you see upon entering the Kipp home. Paul Idstein, Jack's son, specially designed and installed shelving to accommodate the antique tea pots.

Area rugs are placed in the living area, but not so much to hide the beautiful wood flooring. A stone fireplace accents the living area nicely, putting the final touch on the country decor. Just off the living area, the kitchen features a skylight, letting the sun provide needed light. The wood kitchen cabinets were also designed and installed by Paul Idstein.

Perhaps the best feature of the home, and certainly Charlene Kipp's favorite, is the porch, which provides an exquisite panoramic view of the Kipp's acreage. It's a special place that See HOME page B12 is so comforting and peaceful that you can just imagine sitting on the porch swing staring at the view with nothing but your thoughts, a warm breeze, and a glass of cool lemonade to keep you company.

Charlene Kipp boasts that after five years, they have yet to have a problem with anything related to the home. She also told me about some unusual aspects of the home, specifically the Space Pack central air and radiant heat systems. Charlene explained that the central air system is so efficient, that after only five minutes of turning it on, the whole house is cool. And the radiant heat, which is supplied by tubing filled with hot water under the wood floor, provides long-lasting, efficient heat. As Charlene Kipp puts it, "It's especially nice in the winter. Imagine stepping out of bed onto a warm wooden floor." Kipp said, believe it or not, it cuts down on dust and even the wood furniture stays warm. Charlene Kipp said the home is very low-maintenance, but to take good care of the wood, every five years it gets a "treatment" with special chemicals that preserve and protect the wood.

The special features of the home are in most part due to Bill Kipp's caring research. He was very careful to get only the best for their home. The owner of a business in Chicago for over 35 years, Charlene said her husband doesn't mind making the commute to Chicago every day, since he can always look forward to coming back to such a beautiful home.

Filling up the rest of the approximately 2,000 square feet are three bedrooms and two bathrooms. Steve, the youngest of the Kipps' six children, occupies one of the bedrooms. There's no mistaking that he's a Black Hawks fan by the way he's decorated his room. The Kipps have the master bedroom, which houses its own bathroom with a Jacuzzi, and a walk-in closet. The remaining room is used as a "man's room," according to Charlene. She said, "This is the room that the men use to watch football games and have their snacks without having to worry about messing anything." This room isn't decorated as meticulously as the rest of the home, but features comfortable furniture and a television set. At the end of the hallway, where you'll find a table decorated with a collection of collie figurines and books, is another bathroom. Since the Kipps used to raise pedigree collies and have a collie for a pet, Charlene accumulated her collection over the years just for fun.

In speaking with Jack Idstein about the cost of a home such as the Kipps have, he said a good "ballpark" figure would be anywhere from $65 to $110 per square foot. It's hard to pinpoint a price, he said, since a lot of home buyers alter the plans slightly, or add in their own specifications. As for the interior of the home, it's up to the customer's discretion, Idstein said.

Convenience at its finest, the kitchen provides plenty of space for cooking big meals or for eating on the run.

The Kipps chose the Balsam Creek model, made of white pine forrested in the Adirondack mountains in New York. As Jack Idstein's brochure states, "The thermo-mass of solid log creates energy efficient walls. Lincoln Logs are milled double tongue and groove and when constructed with our famous "Lincoln Seal", the finest in the industry, it guarantees a commitment to your comfort."

Idstein invites anyone interested in purchasing a log home to call him for an appointment at 223-0309. The Idsteins will invite you into their own log home in Grayslake, also a Balsam Creek model, to go over everything involved in the process.

The Kipp home is cozy and comfortable. It's easy to see why the Kipps are proud of their home, something they built with a great deal of hard work, input, and care.

An innovative environment for toilet and tub.

—DECORATING DEN—

Mary Leben

What's hot—what's not? Actually, what's hot are the colors, patterns, and textures that you enjoy and that make you comfortable. If the "in" color doesn't appeal to you, then by no means should you decorate with it. However, here are a few interesting color trends you may see a lot more of in the coming year.

Nature's colors inspire the forecast for 1995. The trend continues toward natural, vegetable-inspired colors—colors that people associate with a comfortable and harmonious lifestyle. Environmental consciousness impacts this trend, as well as the rising popularity of green in hues ranging from hunter to grass.

Recurring themes of nostalgia reflect the desire to return to better times, yet a ray of optimism is evidenced by consumer interests in colors such as strawberry and sun yellow. There is a move away from the industrial age, toward hand-crafted looks with unbleached tones and espresso brown coming on the scene.

The neutrals are in transition, reflecting an overall graying of the palette. An example is Artemisia, a cool gray-green. Softened yellow-oranges abound, along with lighter dusty red-browns that are suggestive of the prevailing theme of ethnic eclecticism.

An updated range of softer, red-influenced blues have emerged. The strong influence of denim is the most important story here. The blue range is completed by the arrival of the new green-influenced Chesapeake. The new blue-greens are slightly richer and deeper, with a notable exception of Grunge, a grayed anti-color from the Pacific Northwest.

Eclectic composition

If you have ever had the task of combining furnishings from two different households, you know the difficulties this presents. Whether it's a blended family, a new marriage, or even new housemates, people often bring with them a whole house of furnishings. Mixing the various elements from two different styles of decor can be difficult. Here are a few tips to help you get started.

First, take an inventory of all the pieces. Include not only the large items such as furniture, but also include such items as area rugs, lamps, pictures, and even accessories that you may incorporate into the decorating scheme. Once you have your list, go through it and check off the items of sentimental value. It even may include that comfortable old chair in which you just love to read.

But what if the items do not match? Take heart. The eclectic look is officially "in." Gone are the days when every single piece has to match. The Cleavers may have had a perfectly matched "suite" in every room, but not the family of the 90s!

There is, however, a difference between not matching and not coordinating. In fact, synonyms for eclectic include discriminating, particular, and selective. So if a piece does not belong—get rid of it!

Now for that comfortable, worn out chair I mentioned. Consider recovering or refinishing some of the pieces to fit a particular room or to match the color scheme. For a more informal look, slipcovers may do wonders for pieces that look worn or tired. Large pieces of furniture, such as armchairs or cabinets may be covered to hold audio/visual equipment, or even extra linen or clothes.—

Several guidelines for choosing a real estate agent

Real estate experts will tell you that these desirable qualities—or personality traits—should be present in the professional you select to help you buy or sell real property:

- A strong desire to help people.
- The empathy or ability to see themselves in someone else's shoes.
- A healthy ego that derives pleasure and satisfaction from doing the job right.

Real estate companies spend a lot of time and money recruiting and training individuals who combine these qualities with a strong desire to succeed. However, to the seller falls the task of finding the individual broker or agent he or she will be most comfortable working with.

Most home sellers interview more than one agent or firm before deciding on representation. But the survey one of every three sellers winds up using a relative, friend or neighbor as the agent.

One of every five sellers changes agents while the property is up for sale. The chances of becoming part of this statistic can be minimized by following a few simple steps when choosing an agent. They include:

- No matter how many times you've gone through the process, it's always a good idea to ask people you trust and respect for their thoughts and recommendations on an agent.

- Before adding anyone to your list of candidates, satisfy yourself that he or she knows your neighborhood and is actively selling homes there. Yard signs and ads in local newspapers will provide some useful clues about the companies and agents that are most active in your market.

- Some agents aggressively "farm" local neighborhoods or submarkets, sending direct mail promotional materials to households in markets they are familiar with and comfortable working in. From these mailings you will be able to identify some agents who are serious about doing business in your area.

- Open house events provide an opportunity to see firsthand how agents perform in a "live" selling situation. It's surprising how many sellers meet the agents that eventually represent them at these events.

The leading candidates should then be asked to submit a marketing plan that fully describes the strategy and marketing tools they plan to use to sell the property. In addition to detailed explanations of how the property will be advertised and marketed, marketing plans typically include background information on the real estate company and a personal brochure or highlight sheet on the agent who would represent you. If the real estate company offers any special marketing programs or incentives, these would be noted.

West, northwest suburbs experience greatest residential relocation activity

The west and northwest Chicago suburbs experienced the greatest residential relocation activity in the first six months of 1994, attracting 74 percent of all transferee activity in the Chicago metropolitan area, according to the Chicago division of RELO, an international relocation network of independent real estate brokers. The first-ever quarterly study examines movement to the Chicago area by transferees from throughout the country serviced by the 83 offices and 1,330 sales agents in RELO Chicago Metro.

According to the survey, 44 percent of all transferees relocating to the Chicago area moved to the west suburbs during the first half of the year, down four percent from a year ago. This area includes Oak Park west to the Fox River, including most of DuPage County and western Cook County.

The next most active area, the northwest suburbs, received 30 percent of all transferees moving into the Chicago area during the first six months of 1994. This is up from 27 percent during the same period last year. This area encompasses Des Plaines northwest to Woodstock including northwest Cook and Lake Counties.

"Although this is the first time we've released this survey, it is not surprise that the western suburbs rank No. 1 on the Chicago-area relocation scene," said Hank Porterfield, RELO Chicago Metro chairman. "The migration of corporate and regional headquarters west of the city the last several years, coupled with good schools, affordable homes and excellent municipal services, has greatly increased the relocation activity in the area. And, there's no reason to believe that this trend shouldn't continue for the foreseeable future."

Although the west suburbs clearly attract the majority of transferees to—or within—the Chicago area, there was a downward trend of relocations to those areas in the first half of the year. Overall, relocation to the Chicago area from January to June was down slightly, just two percent, compared to the first six months of 1993. "One of the reasons we may be seeing a slight slowdown in relocation activity can be credited to the increasing cost of relocating a home-owning employee, which today can run as high as $50,000," said Porterfield.

While relocation activity is down, the study indicated the people are buying homes at a higher price point. On the average, families are buying homes that cost 16 percent more than they did a year ago.

In the west suburbs, the number of relocations to that area declined eight percent for the first six months of the year, compared to the same period a year ago. According to Porterfield, part of the decline can be attributed to Boston Chicken relocating its headquarters out of Naperville, and stagnating or declining job opportunities at General Motors and Amoco regional headquarters, both located in Naperville.

The city of Chicago, which represents approximately nine percent of all transferees moving to the area, experienced a 25 percent decline in relocation activity in the first half of the year. Porterfield attributed that decline to several factors.

"In the last year, we've seen many executives placing demands on their commute time. Some of the older transferees, with kids no longer at home, used to move to the city for a change of lifestyle even if their office was in the suburbs, but that trend is slowing down," said Porterfield. "Now, we're seeing people working longer days and they don't want long commutes, so they're demanding homes closer to the work place. And, the higher costs of homes, taxes and the ongoing construction in the city are also steering some transferees away from the city."

The northern suburbs, comprised of the areas on the north shore from Evanston to Waukegan, received five percent of all relocation activity in the first six months of this year. Whereas, the south/southwest suburbs captured 12 percent of all transferees coming to the area.

Easy to build wall-to-wall bookcase for perfect storage

A wall-to-wall bookcase might just be the thing for schoolwork storage to organize the books, binders, papers, pens and pencils. The bookcase is low and out of the way, but is still easy to reach.

Perfect for the kids' room, the bookcase works especially well along walls with low windows. Select your site making sure the bookcase will not interfere with electrical outlets or doorways.

A 1x12 board is most commonly used for shelving material, although other widths may be used to suit your needs.

Cut the boards to the appropriate length. Remember to subtract the thickness of the end pieces from your measurements. The heights of the unit depends on your projected use. However, 12 to 14-inches of space between shelves should accommodate most books.

For a more professional look, attach parallel 1x4s to the underside of the bookcase, lengthwise along the edge. These will act as a footing for the unit.

Use wood screws and metal angle brackets to fasten them. Install vertical dividers between the shelves for added stability and visual appeal. However, the dividers should be no more than 32 inches apart to ensure the proper support.

Also, you may use additional boards to serve as a backing, which will help keep the bookcase square. For added stability, nail the bookcase at either end to wall studs.

As an extra touch, leave four inches of space above the last shelf. Top the unit with a smaller width board, such as a 1x6.

Fill all nail holes with wood putty and sand the unit to a smooth finish. Paint or stain the bookcase to match the room decor, or brush with a clear finish.

Materials needed

For a 10-foot long bookcase:

3 pieces 1x12 in. by 10 ft.

1 piece 1x12 in. by 8 ft.

1 piece 1x6 in. by 10 ft.

2 pieces 1x4 in. by 10 ft.

Bedrooms are going natural

Bedrooms are going natural with untreated cotton bed linens for people seeking products that are pure and chemical free.

Consumers prefer bed linens made from 100 percent pure untreated cotton without chemicals, dyes or other impurities.

The pure cotton linens have an old-fashioned look. The fabric is a natural shade of ivory with small fiber particles seen in the weave of the fabric. Reminiscent of linens from a former era, the fabrics become whiter and softer through washing and use.

Many home decorators emphasize the old-fashioned look and feel of the fabric to create a country decor using antiques and Americana accessories as accents.

Do-it-yourself projects using natural bed linens can include a decorative bed canopy reminiscent of Colonial days using three queen sheets. The canopy can be made in under an hour without sewing simply by knotting and stapling the fabric in dramatic folds.

Romantic swaged draperies can also be used without sewing using knots and rubber bands.

A loveseat or sofa is revamped with a wrap and tie slipcover, and a pair of pillowcases can be used to make a drawstring lampshade to complete the country decor.

Naturals also offer decorating flexibility. By varying the accessories, a totally different environment can be created.

The clean ivory color bed linens can be used in a contemporary decor or as part of a traditional bedroom ensemble.

Home remodeling becomes easy, safe with 'Finders'

Clara and Sig Johnson of Highland Lake called Finders for a home remodeling project.

There's a new referral service in the Lake County area, but this time it isn't 1-800-DOCTORS and it isn't 1-800-DENTIST. This one is for contractors who do work on your home.

It's called Finders, the contractors network, and people are wondering why nobody thought of this before.

Promoters of the company are calling it "yellow pages you can talk to for free."

It works like this: You need a house built, a garage built, remodeling or repairs done—and you're afraid of what you're gonna get with the yellow pages—besides, you don't have the time and you don't want the hassle of making appointments with contractors who fail to show up on time—if at all. Enter Finders.

It's the brainchild of a contractor—who gets other contractors to enroll in his program for a nominal fee, then Finders checks out the contractors before they start giving out their name to callers—who can call and chat with Finders operators free of charge.

In an era of real rip-offs, people are skeptical: Shoddy workmanship, angry disputes with workers, failure to finish the job on time, and failure of the contractor to pay material bills from the project are but a few of the problems people are fearing.

Finders can help. "We check 'em out so you don't have to," says Larry Leafblad, who is with the company which is based in Grayslake. "We get the insurance certificates on file, we check their background, do reference checks, and find out what specialty fits the job, and then and only then do we give out the contractors name to a caller."

Knowing that there are plenty of people who run all aspects of their project, Finders has a "Project Planning Guide," a four-page, step-by-step checklist that will prevent problems from cropping up. "I'm the son of a carpenter, and I didn't know many of the pointers in that guide," laughed Leafblad.

Most of all, the company's operators love chatting with callers. They've been giving help and guidance while they steer them to the quality contractor who will handle their job. All the referrals you want are free for the call 548-3463.

Pinewood Creek homes nestled into seven-acre wooded area

Just outside Gages Lake, you will find Pinewood Creek subdivision, a project of Kennedy Community Development, an Arlington Heights firm. The 27-acre community features two-story houses with four bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths, available in eight floor plans. Square footage ranges from 2,280 to 3,283 and the homes are base-priced from $217,900 to $267,900. All of the homes have three-car garages with basements included.

According to sales manager Vara Winnan, of the more than 30 homes sold at the 54-home development, one-third have come from out of state. It's not uncommon to find on the sales office bulletin board photographs of buyers taken when they closed on their houses. Not only does it give potential buyers a chance to see who their neighbors might be, but it indicates how many buyers are from out of state. Oftentimes, states like Georgia, Tennessee, Colorado, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and Ohio are represented.

One such couple to make the trek from another state is Cathy and Brad Anderson, who moved to Pinewood Creek from Georgia eight months ago because of a job transfer. The fact that Cathy's aunt had purchased a home from the same builder a few years back, coupled with the couple's attraction to the subdivision's mature trees, was why the Andersons chose Pinewood Creek to settle in. "Everything in Georgia is wooded and hilly. Where we lived was sort of a mix between San Francisco and Wisconsin," Cathy said. They were used to a woodsy environment and were looking for the same. "But here in Chicago (builders) would say something was a wooded area, and it has one tree."

At Pinewood Creek, Kennedy is promoting its relationship to the surrounding countryside along with its history. Stone Nursery cut-your-own Christmas tree farm occupied the land previously, and the subdivision has kept stretches of the mature woodland adjoining it. Retained were seven wooded acres through which two bark-chip paths were laid by Kennedy. Near the Andersons' lot also runs a rambling creek.

"The trees made a big difference to us (in choosing to build there)," Cathy said. "We figured if you buy in a place where you have to start from scratch (to develop mature trees), it takes 20 years." Approximately half the lots adjoin the wooded areas, with other sites planned in an effort to preserve the natural curvature of the land, said the builder. Although in some cases trees have been moved, the buyer has a say in where they go, said Winnan.

Kennedy stresses their willingness to customize designs to the buyers' taste, which many have done, stated Winnan. "The most common things buyers do are to change a patio door to a bay window, or switch the location of the patio door, things like that," Winnan said. "But they also like to make rooms larger, say, adding two or three feet to the family room."

The development, located on Gages Lake Road west of Hunt Club Road, has an unusual view from the front: the white frame barn that was part of the original Christmas tree farm has been remodeled into an attractive home. Residents have a Grayslake zip code and children attend Gurnee school districts 50 and 121. The elementary school is within walking distance, and the students have a brief bus ride to the intermediate school. Warren Township High School is a 15-to-20 minute bus ride away, and Int. Hwy. 94 is approximately one mile to the east.

Don't postpone home repairs

So often, people underestimate the need for seasonal household chores and repairs. At a time when you're trying to stretch every dollar, there may be a danger that home maintenance projects will be overlooked. But it's important to remember that these tasks, when properly attended to, can alleviate an enormous amount of stress and pressure.

Winter is on its way

Cleaning gutters, sealing cracks and holes in windowpanes, and repairing leaky roofs are jobs that should be taken care of as soon as possible.

It's not that household work is always a festive occasion, but it is pointless to ignore repairs that need attention, because, contrary to what many of us fantasize, these problems will not disappear.

Avoid future problems

If you think you are saving money by neglecting the needs of your home and "waiting 'til next year," try adding up the amount of time and dollars you have spent on past emergencies: the boiler blowing, the basement flooding, rusted, leaking pipes, clogged gutters causing water back-up and rotting floors, gas leaks, corroded wood—whatever the case may have been, no doubt the situation illustrated the wisdom of undertaking preventive measures. After all, it's the best way to avert a serious crisis and to prevent permanent damage to your home or harm to its occupants.

Make a checklist

Remember, in the wintertime, you spend the majority of your time inside your home, not outside. While the weather is still bearable, the time to repair is now. Reserve a day or two to run a housecheck, inside and out. Jot down on paper what needs a touch up, what could use some work soon, and what needs work immediately.

After your checklist is completed, it's time to get to work. Too expensive, you say? It's not as expensive as unexpectedly having to shell out hundreds of dollars for a disaster in need of prompt attention.

Ask for advice

If hiring a repair person or carpenter is not feasible, try doing the job yourself. Ask an experienced do-it-yourselfer or professional person where to begin and the best way to handle the job you're working on. There also are several "fix-it" books available to help you along.

So, assess your home's needs, and get started on the most urgent repairs. You can get the job done—and it may not even turn out to be as costly and time consuming as you anticipate.

Home makeovers can enhance the pleasures of fall

A media room is a perfect place to begin a fall makeover for the long winter months and holidays fast approaching.

Whether aesthetic appeal, home repair or weather proofing are the motives—fall is a great time for home renovating and refurbishing.

Some jobs may require a sizable investment of time and money, as well as electrical or carpentry skills. Others will require minimal effort and resources. But whichever is the case, giving immediate attention where it's needed will enhance and improve the condition of your home, preserving it for a lifetime of memories.

Interior or exterior home improvement projects can assume any number of forms, from installing a new kitchen sink, to putting up new window screens, to adding a whole new room to the house. Energy-wise homeowners know that installing insulation in certain areas can help reduce heating bills this winter, as well as decrease air pollutants.

Fall is also the season to second-thought the condition of roofing and gutters, perhaps drywall the garage or basement for a clean workspace this winter, install storm doors or remodel unfinished attic space.

And while the family is packing up summer clothes for storage and bringing out fall and winter wear, closets can be reorganized and straightened up for maximum storage efficiency and ease of use.

No matter what you undertake this fall, be sure to evaluate whether or not fix-it products are within your capabilities as a do-it-yourselfer. If trying a particularly complicated job, remember that two heads are better than one. Consult with a local hardware store or home center to get helpful advice and information. Hiring a contractor opens up a whole new can of worms.

Indulge yourself in complete, luxurious comfort

Approach this home through a private foyer and continue on to surround yourself with a luxurious and functional home design. It will make you wonder why you ever settled for less.

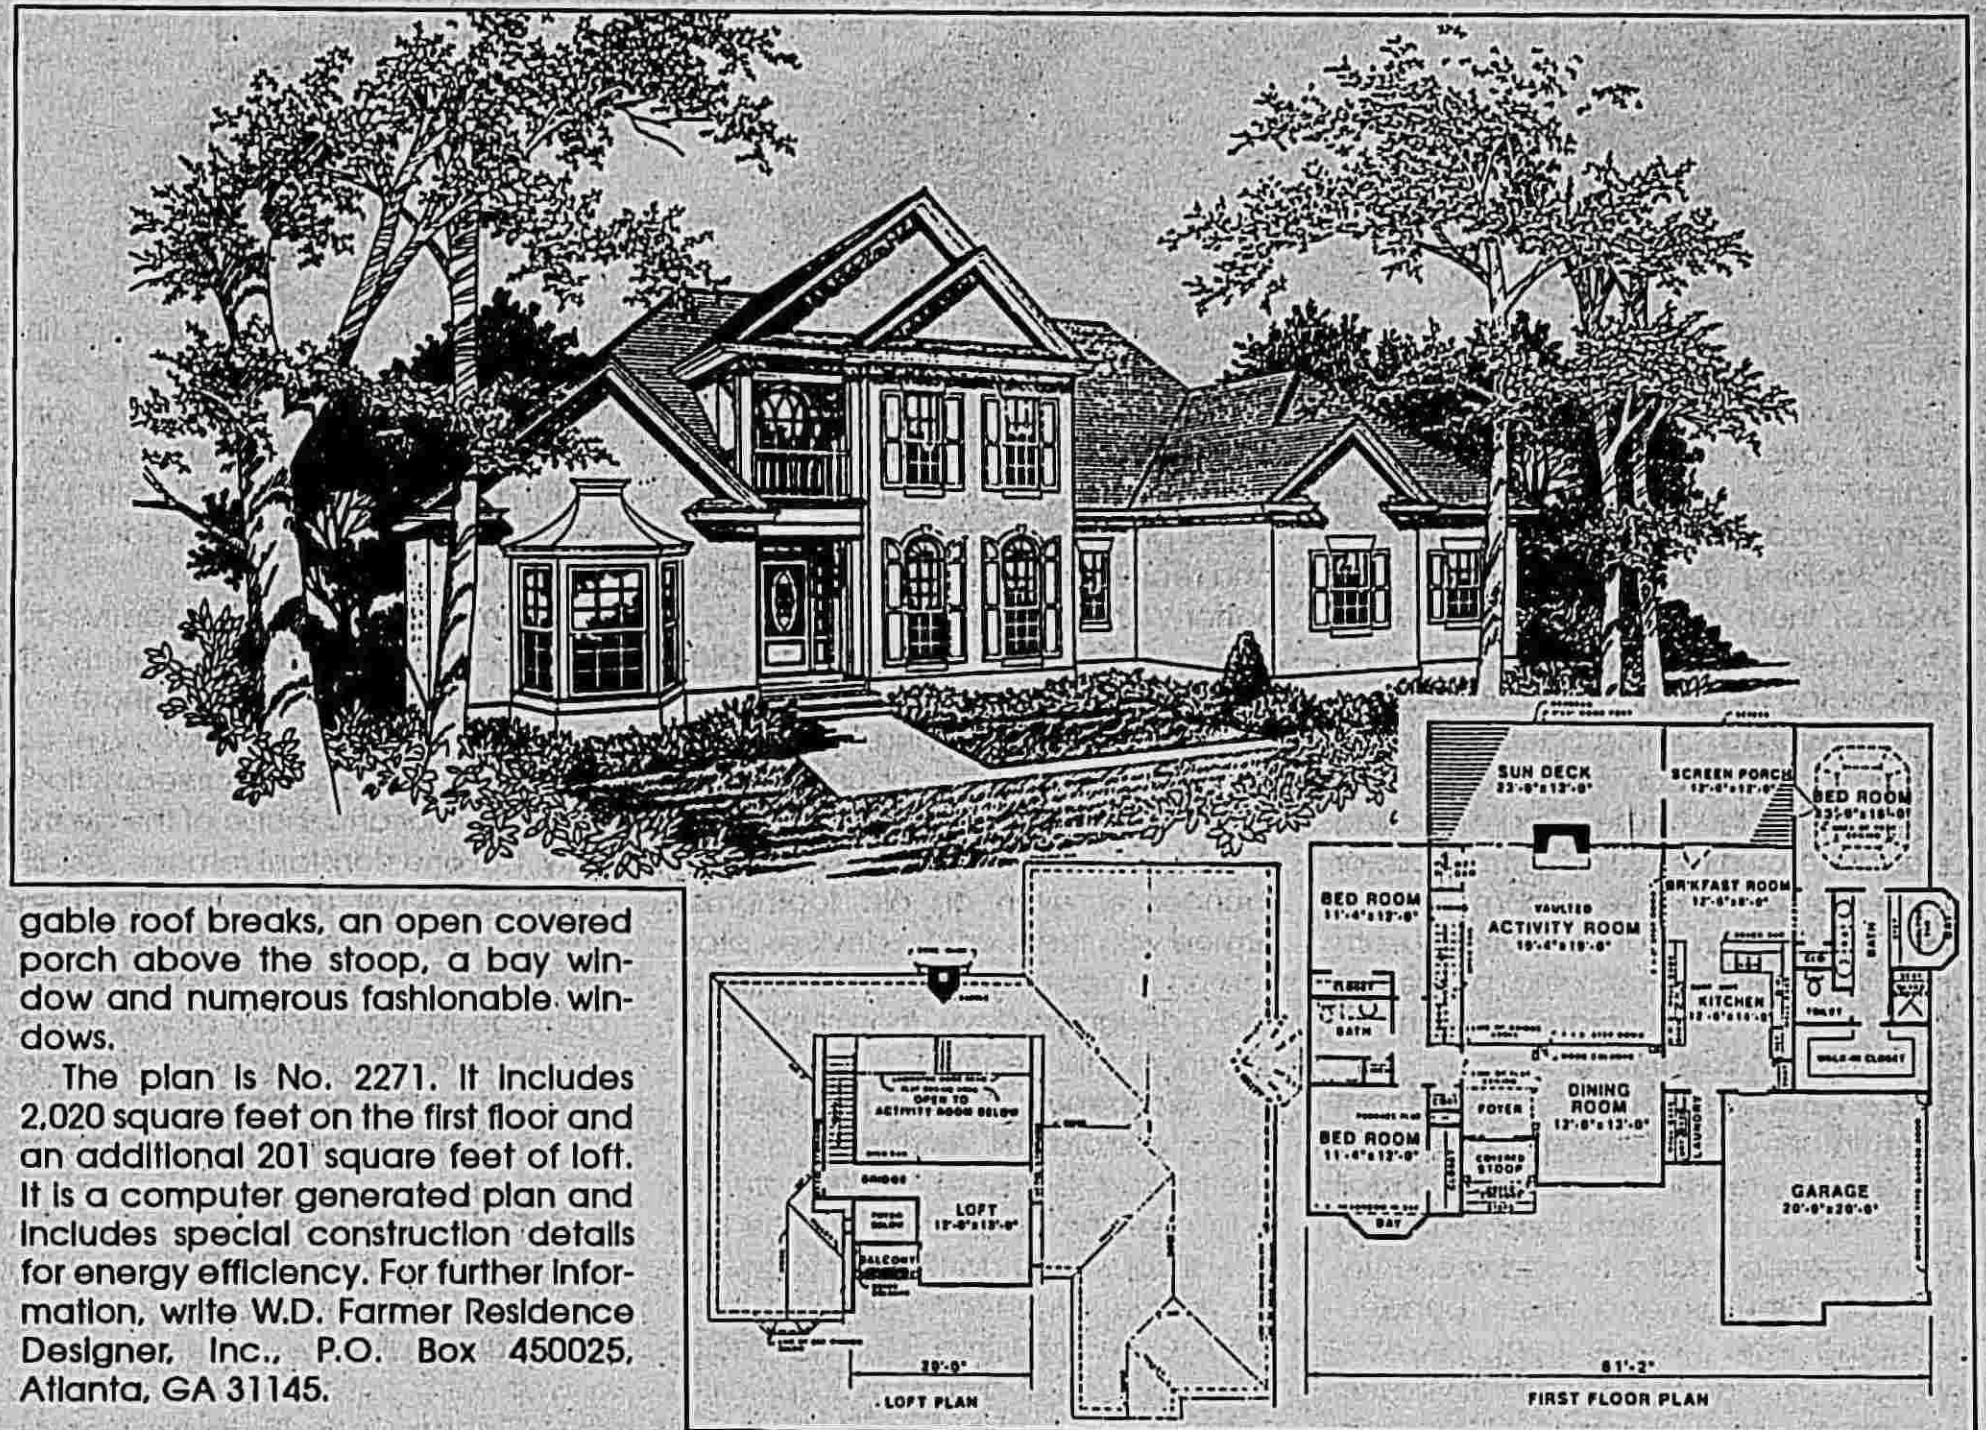

The great room is one step down from the foyer. It features an open rail stair to the loft room, wet bar, wood burning fireplace, deck and screened porch access and immediate accessibility of the breakfast room or formal dining room.

The master bedroom suite is exclusively to one side. A multitude of features include an octagonal tray ceiling and private porch access. The master bath features a garden tub recessed in a bay, separate shower stall, separate toilet compartment, two lavatories and a magnificent closet.

The kitchen is located for convenience to the breakfast room, dining room, separate laundry room and the double garage.

Two additional bedrooms are sequestered to the left and share a central bath that includes a linen storage closet. A basement stair is from the central hall underneath the stair to the loft room, for greater space utilization. The open rail loft room overlooks the great room and foyer with access to balcony.

The European exterior is dramatically illustrated by multiple hip and gable roof breaks, an open covered porch above the stoop, a bay window and numerous fashionable windows.

The plan is No. 2271. It includes 2,020 square feet on the first floor and an additional 201 square feet of loft. It is a computer generated plan and includes special construction details for energy efficiency. For further information, write W.D. Farmer Residence Designer, Inc., P.O. ## Ten creative tips for tackling old, tacky walls

Do the walls in your house reek of burnt orange and gold from the '70s? Do you pray that your house guests don't notice the cracks in the wall paint? If your walls need cosmetic surgery, don't fret. Countless solutions for "tackling tacky walls" exist, and most of them can be accomplished in one weekend! Following are 10 tips for enhancing the walls in your home.

1. Moulding. Dating back to Roman times, moulding can work wonders for any room of the house. Simply installing elegant crown mouldings, chair rails, or base moulds can give a room a whole new look for a reasonable price. Learn how to combine moulding profiles to create your own unique designs in "Moulding Makes It More."

2. Wood paneling. The natural warmth of real wood paneling can illuminate any room of your home. Install rustic Millplank® or Barnplank® paneling from Georgia-Pacific to add a country flair. Or, if you prefer a classic beaded paneling look, choose from the nine woodgrain shades of Bedford Village® paneling. The 21-page, "Paneling Guide" illustrates these decorative panels among others, and includes paneling installation instructions.

3. Wainscoting. You may not know its formal title, but you love the look: Paneling that spans the bottom half of a wall, capped off by a chair rail. This adaptable design is called wainscoting and it can dress up any room. Either cut a 4-by-8 foot piece of paneling in thirds to 32 inches high, or use pre-cut wainscoting panels from Georgia-Pacific.

4. Judges paneling. The stately elegance of "Judges paneling," found in movie classics and aristocratic libraries, will enhance your den or study beautifully. For plans on how to create a captivating design by combining hardwood plywood, matching grain lumber and real wood moulding, read "Build It Better With Hardwood Plywood."

5. Painting. Say goodbye to plain white walls. Create a fashion statement with paint by marbling, sponging or texturing a wall. Look for unique items to create your masterpiece: Choose paint brushes of varying sizes, old rags, sponges or even an old toothbrush. Armed with these artistic devices, practice on a piece of cardboard until you find a design you love, then duplicate it throughout the room!

6. Wallpaper. A traditional staple in home decorating, wallpaper is often overlooked because of its complex installation process. If you like the look of wallpaper, but don't want to endure the hassle of hanging it, The Paper Works Collection® from Georgia-Pacific is the solution. Available in 19 different patterns, the attractive "wallpaper" prints are mounted on paneling for easy installation. Simply nail the 4-by-8 foot panels onto the wall, and cover the seams with matching seam tape. No more hassles with messy wallpaper paste, matching up patterns or smoothing out wrinkles!

7. Borders. With borders and stencils, accenting any room is quick and easy. Georgia-Pacific's The Paper Works Collection® borders come in five designer styles and have a peel-off backing that reveals a self-stick border.

If you want to spend a little extra time creating your own border, choose a stencil pattern—available at some home centers and craft stores—and a paint palette. Use a thick, stiff paint brush to dab the paint onto the stencil pattern.

8. Tile. One of the most adaptive and easy-to-clean building materials, tile suits a variety of rooms throughout your home—from typical bathroom uses to kitchen counters and sunroom floors. The size, color and shape of the tile may vary, but one constant remains: Install a protective layer under the tile. DensShield® Tile Backer is installed underneath tile and helps prevent moisture damage to the subfloor or wall cavity. An option for homeowners is tileboard, which offers the look and feel of ceramic tile with the installation process of paneling.

9. Clutter Cutter™. Now you can find exactly what you're looking for without rummaging through your "junk drawer." Cover one wall—or even the top half of a wall—with a perforated hardboard, like Clutter Cutter™ from Georgia-Pacific. Attach small hooks into the holes in the board and simply hang your household items—from scissors to gardening hand tools and rolls of tape. Now, everything you need is at the tip of your fingers!

10. Combinations. Mix and match any of the ideas above to create an exciting, unique look for every room in the house. Try topping off wainscoting with a decorative border or combination moulding. Or stencil a flower pattern on top of wood paneling. Or apply painted tiles as a chair rail in the kitchen.

Let your imagination soar, and the opportunities are endless. Tackle one room every weekend, and your "totally tacky" walls will soon become the "fanzalizing talk of the town!"

For more information on Georgia-Pacific building products, call 1-800-BUILD-GP or write to Ten Tips For Walls, Georgia-Pacific Corporation, P.O. Box 1763, Norcross, GA 30091.

"Moulding Makes It More," "The Paneling Guide" and "Build It Better With Hardwood Plywood" are booklets from the Great Possibilities® do-it-yourself library from Georgia-Pacific. To order, consumers should state the name(s) of the brochure(s) desired and send their written requests, along with $3 per booklet, to: Great Possibilities, Georgia-Pacific Corporation, P.O. Box 1763, Norcross, GA 30091.

Model A club members proud to show interest

Saturday, a group of antique car collectors woke up early, maybe applied a coat of polish for that just shiny look and ventured onto the roadway.

"We do that every year. We start at my house at 8 a.m. Saturday morning and we never know where we will end up," Paul Williams said.

Williams is president of Chain O' Lakes Model A Ford Club, an active club whose members share a passion for the automobiles manufactured from 1928-1931.

"We have members from all walks of life and it includes about 40 families. We include all family members," Williams, who works for North Shore Gas, said.

Club members capped off their summer by participating in the Zion parade. Williams described a picnic, car shows, parades and get-togethers such as pizza parties as usual club activities.

Williams, of Wadsworth, owns a 1931 slanted windshield four-door Tudor model.

"The appeal of the cars is the sound. There are still original parts around," he said while working on his antique car on a balmy fall night.

David O'Brien of Gurnee owns two Model A's — a 1931 Victoria and a 1929 Tudor.

"I showed an interest in cars in college and high school. I had a 1965 Mustang, a '57 Chevy and a '70 Mustang," O'Brien said.

O'Brien, who is an insurance man and a Gurnee trustee, said he has been a club member for 12 years.

"Parts are getting tougher to find. You can find a car, but is it properly sand-blasted? You have to look under the hood," he said.

The cars can be expensive. A new engine can cost $2,500, Williams commented.

The cars can travel at 65-70 MPH and there are ways to make the ride more comfortable, but Williams noted the cars were built when there were mostly dirt roads.

"The car runs well at 45-50 MPH," O'Brien said.

Most cars are not used in bad weather days between November and April. A perfect 70-80 degree sunny fall day was perfect for a ride in the old vehicles.

"People use flashing lights to let others know they are traveling slower," O'Brien said. —STEVE PETERSON

Rebound anniversary is success

Rebound announced the success of its 28th anniversary dinner and charity golf outing, which was held at Midlane Country Club. This year the community helped Rebound raise $21,500 for its programs.

Rebound, a not-for-profit residential facility for 18 youthful offenders, ages 17 to 25, provides comprehensive rehabilitative programs and support services; the program is an alternative to incarceration. The day treatment component counsels youth 13 to 16 years of age.

Rebound thanks Abbott Laboratories, Allstate Insurance, Nosco Inc., and all of the others who contributed, participated, or volunteered to make this event successful. Volunteers included the residents of the Rebound program.

San Francisco Wine Country

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Still too busy here at the agency for any extended trips. But, since the whole reason I'm in this business is to travel, I had to think of another short trip.

I hadn't been to San Francisco for a while, so I thought that would make a great overnighter.

Sure, I know the "City by The Bay" is almost 2,000 miles from Lindenhurst, but this is the Jet-Age!

I closed the office about 1 PM on Saturday and headed for O'Hare, where I boarded American flight 55 to San Francisco. After an O.K. dinner (American's version of Lasagna), a good movie (Major League II), and a short nap, the Golden Gate Bridge appeared through the fog. With the time change on my side, it wasn't even 5:30 PM.

That evening I had a "strolling" dinner made of the various offerings from the seafood vendors on Fisherman's Wharf, and then headed back to my hotel to plan Sunday.

Since I enjoy collecting wine from the places I have traveled, what better than a Sunday drive through the Napa Valley wine country just north of San Francisco.

I just couldn't pass up a chance to drive over the Golden Gate Bridge, so I chose Highway 1 as my northerly route out of the city. Sure, the Sunday traffic was at a standstill, but the view from the bridge was great!

Highway 1 becomes 101. From there I picked up 37, took a right on 121, and found myself in the sunny rolling hills of California wine country. I stayed on 121 to the town of Napa. The helpful people at the visitor's center in Napa supplied me with maps and directions to the many area wineries offering public tours.

Being short of time, I limited my visit to the Mont. St. John winery where Buck Bartolucci's family has been producing wine since 1922. I left with a better appreciation of what goes into producing fine wines and, at Buck's suggestion, a couple of bottles of excellent 1992 Chardonnay...

I was back at San Francisco International in time to catch American's 5 PM back to Chicago.

Classic car rally in Lake Geneva

Kurt and Janice Kreissl and their 1939 Ford Tudor, the first car in the original Lake Geneva Classic Rally in 1978.

Look for a bit of days gone by, when the 17th Annual Classic Car Rally takes place on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 24 and 25 in Lake Geneva, Wis. landscape to tour around the lake.

The annual event, is sponsored by the Corinne Kreissel Memorial Foundation, Inc., of Lake Geneva with the cooperation of the Grand Geneva Resort and Spa, Geneva Lake Area Chamber of Commerce, Walworth County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, and Lake Geneva Rotary Club. Over $5,000 in prizes await the winners of the around the lake tour for children's cancer research. The host site for the event is the Grand Geneva Resort and Spa, one mile east of downtown Lake Geneva.

Registration for the rally is from 1 to 6 p.m. on Saturday or 8 to 11 a.m. on Sunday at the Grand Geneva Ski Chalet.

The Classic Car Rally's own air wing called, "Liflight" or "Flight for Life," featuring antique airplanes and Warbirds from the World War II era, will be in the sky over the event on Sunday only. A fly by over the car show is planned between 1 and 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, as the vehicles are lined up at the Grand Geneva Ski Chalet.

The rally again will feature a Grand Car Show finale at the Grand Geneva Ski Chalet on Sunday at noon.

Prizes, trophies and dash board plaques will be awarded at 2 p.m. after winners for both days are determined.

Last year's event brought over 600 vehicles and raised close to $20,000. Since the event was originated in 1978, $202,000 has been raised for childhood cancer research, in memory of Corinne Kreissl.

Beauty can be had—but at what price?

I recently got a perm. In fact, you may have seen me, out there on the porch of the shop on Main Street. Perhaps it was you who called the Center for UFO Studies that day, and reported an alien sighting in downtown Antioch. It's a reasonable mistake—I can see how a woman with spiral perm rods that protrude from her scalp about six inches in large circles, all wrapped in a big plastic cap, could be confused with an alien. The really funny part is that I paid $100 (!) to look like an alien, smell like ammonia and scare off business downtown. Don't ask me why—for some reason we women have come to believe that if we curl our hair, paint our nails and lips, squish our feet and spend a fortune on pantyhose, men will find us attractive. What I want to know is, just when in history did we decide we weren't attractive?

Everyone knows that in the animal world, the male of the species is usually the more colorful of the pair. Take the cardinal, for example—while the male is a brilliant red, the female looks like a dowdy version of the male soaked in bleach for several hours. Still, the male cardinal doesn't send her out for a dye job—he likes her just the way she is. Humans, on the other hand, don't understand this concept. Though we all know that men have longer eyelashes and look good even in the morning, somewhere along the line someone (a man, perhaps?) decided that we women needed improvement in the beauty department.

First came makeup. Back in the prehistoric days, or so the story goes, there was this cave couple. The caveman, Grunt, noticed his mate, Helga, who was just waking up, her lips stained red from the bowl of cherries she ate the night before. He looked her over appreciatively and said "Ugh - me like it. Lips red. Looking good." Next thing you know, Helga told her cave neighbor, Unga, and pretty soon all the women in the clan were eating cherries before bed.

Soon after came leg shaving. Another cave woman, Wilma, sat too close to the fire one night and burned off all the hair on her legs. Her husband, Fred, who was leader of the clan, didn't want her to feel deformed, so he declared that all the clan's cave women should have smooth legs. He ordered his assistant, Gillette the toolmaker, to carry out his wishes, so Gillette made each of the cavewomen a sharp stone to scrape the hair off their legs each night. The women's legs soon became so painful that they no longer would let their husbands near them. The Ice Age was born.

As for high heels, that actually was started by an extremely jealous husband. He was losing sleep at night because that was the only time he couldn't keep a close eye on his lovely wife, who he was sure was sneaking out on him with another man.

So, in order to prevent her from leaving the house either quickly or quietly, he glued blocks of wood to the heels of her moccasins. It worked so well that he told his friend Will, the shoemaker, about it. They soon became rich, making shoes with wooden blocks and selling them to jealous husbands. I think chiropractors were invented shortly afterward.

Enough of all this history. The point is, men should quit trying to change us and accept us as we are. We don't need all this glitter and glamour to be attractive. Right? Who needs perms, lipstick and high heels? Not me.

Well, maybe just a little mas-

Good Food

Combine Baby Swiss, eggplant, peppers

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

Wisconsin Baby Swiss—mild, buttery, creamy, slightly sweet and nut-like. It's the cheese of the month selected by the Dairy Council of Wisconsin and following is a delicious recipe using this mild cheese.

Open-faced eggplant sandwich

8 slices of eggplant, 1/4 inch thick

1/4 cup flour

olive oil

salt and pepper

4 slices of Italian bread

1 clove garlic, cut in half

6 ounces thinly sliced Wisconsin Baby Swiss Cheese fresh basil leaves

3/4 cup roasted red peppers (about 2 medium)

6 ounces thinly sliced Wisconsin Monterey Jack Cheese with peppers

Coat eggplant slices with flour. Cook eggplant in 2 tablespoons hot oil over medium-high heat until soft, about 2 minutes on each side, adding more oil as necessary. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Brush one side of each bread slice with oil; rub with cut side of garlic clove. Place directly on rack of oven; bake at 450 degrees for 5 minutes or until lightly toasted. On each bread slice, layer Swiss cheese, eggplant, basil, peppers and Monterey Jack cheese. Place on baking sheet; bake 5 minutes or until cheese is melted. Garnish with additional basil. Makes 4 servings.

Outstanding Show—"The Foreigner" (Tom Hausman, Director; Jane Hausman, Stage Manager).

One name that appeared over and over in the awards ceremony was that of Gigi Willding, who took home a remarkable five awards, for acting, costumes and service. In addition, she served as President, presiding over PM&L during a very busy year that included the construction of an addition to the building. Understandably, she has decided to relinquish her position as President a year early, in order to spend some well-deserved time with her family.

PM&L wishes to thank its patrons for their patience and understanding during the relocation of the last play of the season, "The Foreigner," to temporary quarters at the former Globe Department store in Antioch. Despite the inconvenience, the show was a resounding success. Construction of an addition to the theater is now nearly complete, and Season 34's opening production, "Annie," directed by Larry Bersie, will open on schedule, Sept. 23, at PM&L Theatre on its "new and improved" stage. Call 395-3055 to purchase tickets for this musical, which is sure to delight theatergoers of all ages.

If you haven't yet attended a production at PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., in Antioch, perhaps you should put it on your calendar for this year.—by DONNA ABEAR

REMEMBER OUR POW'S AND MIA'S

YOU ARE NOT FORGOTTEN!

Congress has set aside September 16th as National POW/MIA Recognition Day. All over the country Americans will gather to honor those former POW's and those still Missing-In-Action.

These brave Americans put patriotism above personal concern, they have borne the burden for us all.

Gallantly each went into battle in defense of his country, and have endured hazard, imprisonment and pain beyond all reasonable expectation.

Pray that the minds and hearts of their captors are opened and these brave Americans may soon return home to their loved ones.

Martin's newest twists wrong way

In the last few years, comedian Steve Martin has managed to erase his crazy "Saturday Night Live" wild-and-crazy-guy image in favor of the well-meaning parent who makes humorous and sometimes hysterically funny mistakes a la "Parenthood," and "Father of the Bride," a real person many of us might identify with.

In his latest film, "A Simple Twist of Fate," he continues his parental role, but this time with less success as he does the Orson Wells bit of writing the script, producing and starring in the movie.

Martin plays a hermit who has a lost little girl, Mathilda, wander into his home and change his life drastically. Dramatically, and very "un-ninetyishly," her mother has just died in a snowstorm.

Martin's role as a furniture maker who hordes gold and becomes a poor miser, leaves little room for his comedic talents.

We know that there is a fine line between good comedy and tragedy, but the misery, selfishness and depression Martin has written into his role just isn't his cup of tea. In other words, he has propagated his character's unhappiness by miserably miscasting himself.

We've read that Martin based his story on the antiquated 18th century novel "Silas Marner," a plot that has as much to do with the 20th century characters in the movie as Little Eva from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," could relate to a child on welfare living in east L.A.

Of course the villain, Gabriel

Catherine O'Hara and Steve Martin in "A Simple Twist of Fate."

Byrne, a crooked politician, eventually shows up claiming he is Mathilda's father. Catherine O'Hara, one of today's most gifted comedienne, is also wasted in this one.

One couldn't be exposed to the talents of Martin for the length of a film without finding a laugh here and there, as in the scene where he tests the baby's milk.

We give this one 2.5 stars out of five, hoping that Martin gets back in his old groove, the one we love. —by GLORIA DAVIS

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Some friends are erratic and may be hard to pin down. You'll have success with the completion of an unfinished task. Toward the end of the week, you may be working overtime on a business project you're excited about.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You're likely to receive conflicting advice about a business concern this week. You may be invited away on a trip. A special joy comes through a cultural pursuit. Partners are in synch with you this week.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You may not be ready to make a decision about an investment concern. In business it's clear sailing, as you'll move a step closer to the realization of your goals. Intuition and drive are the keys to this success.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) This is a good week for travel and the enjoyment of pleasure interests. It's a week of happiness and greater commitment in romance. Some singles will announce an engagement. The weekend favors going out for good times.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) If you need help with a project, don't be too proud to ask for assistance. You may be making a major purchase for the family. You'll meet someone at a social function who will be a help to you in business.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Exercise patience when giving instructions to someone this week. A do-it-yourself project may be slow-going. It should be a happy week where matters of the heart are concerned. Parenthood may be the joyful question on some of your minds.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A new business opportunity will make you very happy. Financial prospects improve as a result. You may have mixed feelings about entertaining guests this week. The bond between you and a family member grows stronger.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Communications with a relative may be a bit strained. Don't let a small matter escalate out of proportion. Activities with children, travel and creative interests are highlighted this weekend. Some will enjoy a special entertainment.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Those looking for a new place to live meet with valuable leads. You'll be shopping for jewelry or other luxury items. Family interests are highlighted later in the week. You may be planning a weekend party.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) An intriguing invitation comes from a friend. The gift of salesmanship is yours this week. People will definitely be impressed with your ideas. It's a good time to consider making travel plans. Visiting friends is favored this weekend.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) The tide turns in your favor where business is concerned this week. Be alert for new chances for financial gain. You may become very much involved with a humanitarian concern this week. Relax at home this weekend.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Good news comes by phone. You may volunteer for an assignment in connection with a group activity. It's a week where your popularity is highlighted. Singles meet with romantic introductions. Travel is a delight.

A touch of Chicago in Lake County

Flanagan's is easily accessible, near the corner of Rtes. 41 and 137, just east of I-94 in North Chicago. It is clean, well decorated, and boasts extra space for banquets (one private room has 150 seats and another has 40). When walking into the main dining area, the vaulted ceiling leads your gaze up to a quaint, loft dining area. The tables are not pressed tightly together, leaving ample room to scoot your chair back and not bump into your neighbor behind you. John, the owner, is a cordial man and expects no less from his personnel. It shows. A quick, pleasant greeting is given to all visitors.

The menu is extensive, ranging from appetizers, sandwiches, seafood, soups, salads, desserts, to house specialties. If the rest of the menu doesn't have something for everyone, then the house specialties should fit the bill. Its 15 entrees include something Italian, Oriental and Mexican, in addition to the expected steak, pork chop and rib entrees.

The menu features modest pricing from the lowest entree under $5, while the highest is under $14. For your hard earned 14 bucks you'll get a full 16 ounce New York Strip with sautéed mushrooms. Included with all entrees are a choice of potato, soup or salad, fresh mixed vegetables and fresh baked rolls. You can be assured that neither your wallet or your stomach should be empty when you're finished eating.

To call Flanagan's both a sports bar and a family restaurant may seem ambiguous but it is not a misnomer at all. A truly separate section of the facility houses the Sports Bar. Behind the bar you'll see probably the largest selection of beers, imported and domestic, in Lake County. The already spacious area has expanded, adding an extra 100 seats. This also makes room for floor dancing, a pool table, and a basketball machine. With seven TVs—two of them are big screens—you'll always be assured of a front row seat.

Flanagan's does a good job of juggling separate identities, and is a good bet to ensure your dining entertainment.

WHERE TO EAT OUT

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Terry's offers gourmet TexMex, and whole lot more

When thinking about Mexican food, if you have become accustomed to expecting just tacos and burritos, then you're in for a tasty surprise at Terry's Mexican Restaurant in Mundelein. They have been serving their fine selections for 13 years.

Recently, Sherman Kaplan of WBBM Newsradio 78 reviewed Terry's, giving them an excellent "K" rating, a possible 16 out of 20, which was announced on the radio September 9.

"Mexican people eat everything that Americans eat. The sauce and seasonings are what make the difference," says Terry Zaga, who owns and operates the restaurant with her husband, Robert.

The menu features Paella, Crab Legs, Tornosos, Pork Chilaquiles, Swordfish Steak, Halibut Steak, Filet of Salmon, a variety of Catfish, Nachos Imperial, Fruta del Mar, Spicy Chicken and Peaches, Tex Mex Steak, and many more as well as the traditional fare. (No preservatives or lard is used.)

For appetizers, enjoy Crab Stuffed Mushrooms, Crab Cakes, Spinach or Chorizo Quesadillas, Texas Torpedos, Hot Chicken Wings, and a Variety of Nachos.

On Friday and Saturday nights they offer spectacular rotisserie specials. Chipotle Roast Duck, N.Y. Strip Roast, or Beef Tenderloin, Roast Pork, are served with sauteed vegetables and mexican potatoes.

A private room available for special occasions such as rehearsal dinners, holiday or birthday parties accommodates up to 60 people.

Terry's is located one block east of Route 45 on the corner of Hawley and Seymour in the Hawley Commons shopping center in Mundelein. Hours Mon.-Fri. 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Saturday Noon to 10 p.m. Closed Sundays. Carry out available, no smoking room, handicapped accessible, American Express, Visa, Discover, and MasterCard are welcome. For Reservations, call 566-9530.

Non-stop classical, jazz, country, folk, rock five-day festival comes to town

The curtain will rise and a glamorous chanteuse with grand piano accompaniment will launch the "opening act," at the corner of State and Jackson, to welcome the first 14 tenants to the Chicago Music Mart at DePaul Center, 333 S. State. Five days of free-non-stop musical performances, as well as children's activities, begin at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 28, and last through Sunday, Oct. 2.

A quintet of new retailers have joined current tenants at the Chicago Music Mart. Expected to open their doors that week are Chicago Band & Orchestra Co., Chicago Percussion Center, Fandrich Piano and Rubino's Music and Sound Center. These, along with Musical Threads, are the most recent additions to the specialty instrument, sheet music, jewelry, confection and clothing retailers. All tenants will be offering coupons, discounts and giveaways during the event.

Friday, Sept. 30. Country/folk: Joel Daly & the Sundowners, noon; Susan Smentek Swing, 1:30 p.m.; Michael Miles, 3:15 p.m.; Hosana Choir, 5 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 1. Rock/blues and children's activities: TBA, 11 a.m.; 911 Mambo Orchestra, 12:30 p.m.; The Protege Philharmonic Rehearsal-high school musicians, 2 p.m.; Mick Archer and Randy Herman-dueling pianos, 5:30 p.m.

Sunday, October 2. Brass: Antonio Sacre, storyteller; Millar Brass Ensemble, 12:30 p.m.; Chicago Bar Assn. Brass Ensemble, 2 p.m.; Illinois Brass Band, 3:30 p.m.; Chicago Brass Choir, 5 p.m.

Hosted by the Chicago Music Mart and DePaul Univ., with support from the DePaul Univ. School of Music and the Chicago Federation of Musicians, the five-day festival promises to deliver a wide variety of musical entertainment for all tastes.

Opening act schedule—

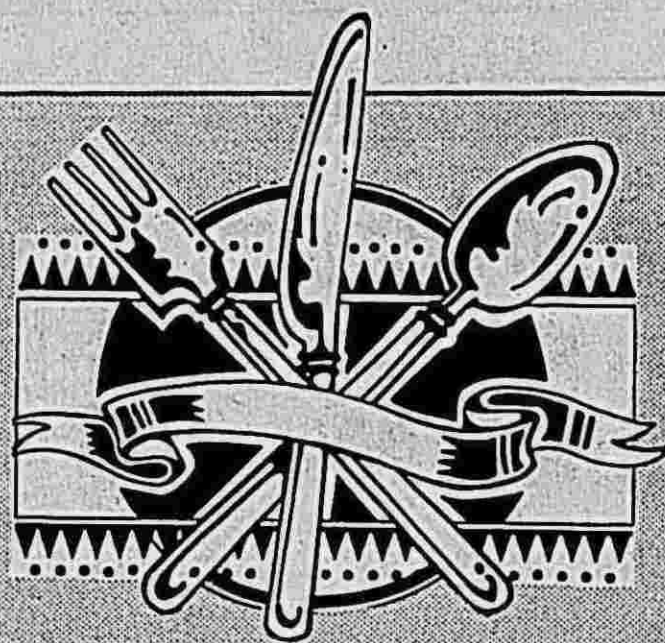

Wednesday, Sept. 28. Chanteuses: Singer Ginger Tam, outdoors, Jackson & State, 11:30 a.m.; Singer Robert Miles, outdoors, Jackson & State, 12:30 p.m. Classical: Chicago Brass Quintet, 11:30 a.m.; Orion Chamber Ensemble, 1:30 p.m.; Robert Black Trio, 3:30 p.m.; Chicago Pro Musica, 6 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 29. Jazz: Rex Richardson, noon; Colby/Caruso, 1:30 p.m.; Bobbie Lewis, 3 p.m.; Brad Goode & Ernie Krivda with guest Von Freeman, 4:30 p.m.; Barry Winograd, 6 p.m.

New joint venture company

LAKE COUNTY—A new mortgage company has been formed to serve the needs of customers of The Prudential Preferred Properties, one of the largest real estate companies in the Chicagoland area with 25 offices, more than 900 sales associates and a full range of services to assist home buyers and sellers. The new company, Prism Preferred Mortgage is a joint venture between The Prudential Preferred Properties and Prism Mortgage Company, one of the largest mortgage brokers in the state of Illinois. Improved service to home buying consumers as well as the real estate professionals who serve them is the motivation behind the creation of Prism Preferred Mortgage, said Lyle Williamson, president/CEO of The Prudential Preferred Properties. While it is not required that the sales associates and home buyers use the new mortgage company, Williamson is anticipating enthusiastic support for Prism Preferred Mortgage.

New idea enlists prehistoric help in learning

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

Just ask the children. Dinosaurs are definitely in.

People may be familiar with that prehistoric purple fuzzball named Barney or the top-grossing film of all time directed by who else but Steven Spielberg. As they say, the proof is in the pudding.

One Round Lake Beach woman is conscious of the appeal of dinosaurs, even before Jurassic Park hit the silver screen, and has blended that into something that may help preschoolers learn the alphabet at the same time. Graphic designer Terri Cate has developed a copyrighted poster called B.C. Alpha-Buddies.

"Children are more advanced today and even know the names of dinosaurs," Cate said, "and this poster can also be used as a learning tool."

Cate tied the dinosaur theme into the alphabet by actually illustrating each letter as a dinosaur. The main colors she stayed with for the cartoon characters were green, blue, and some yellow.

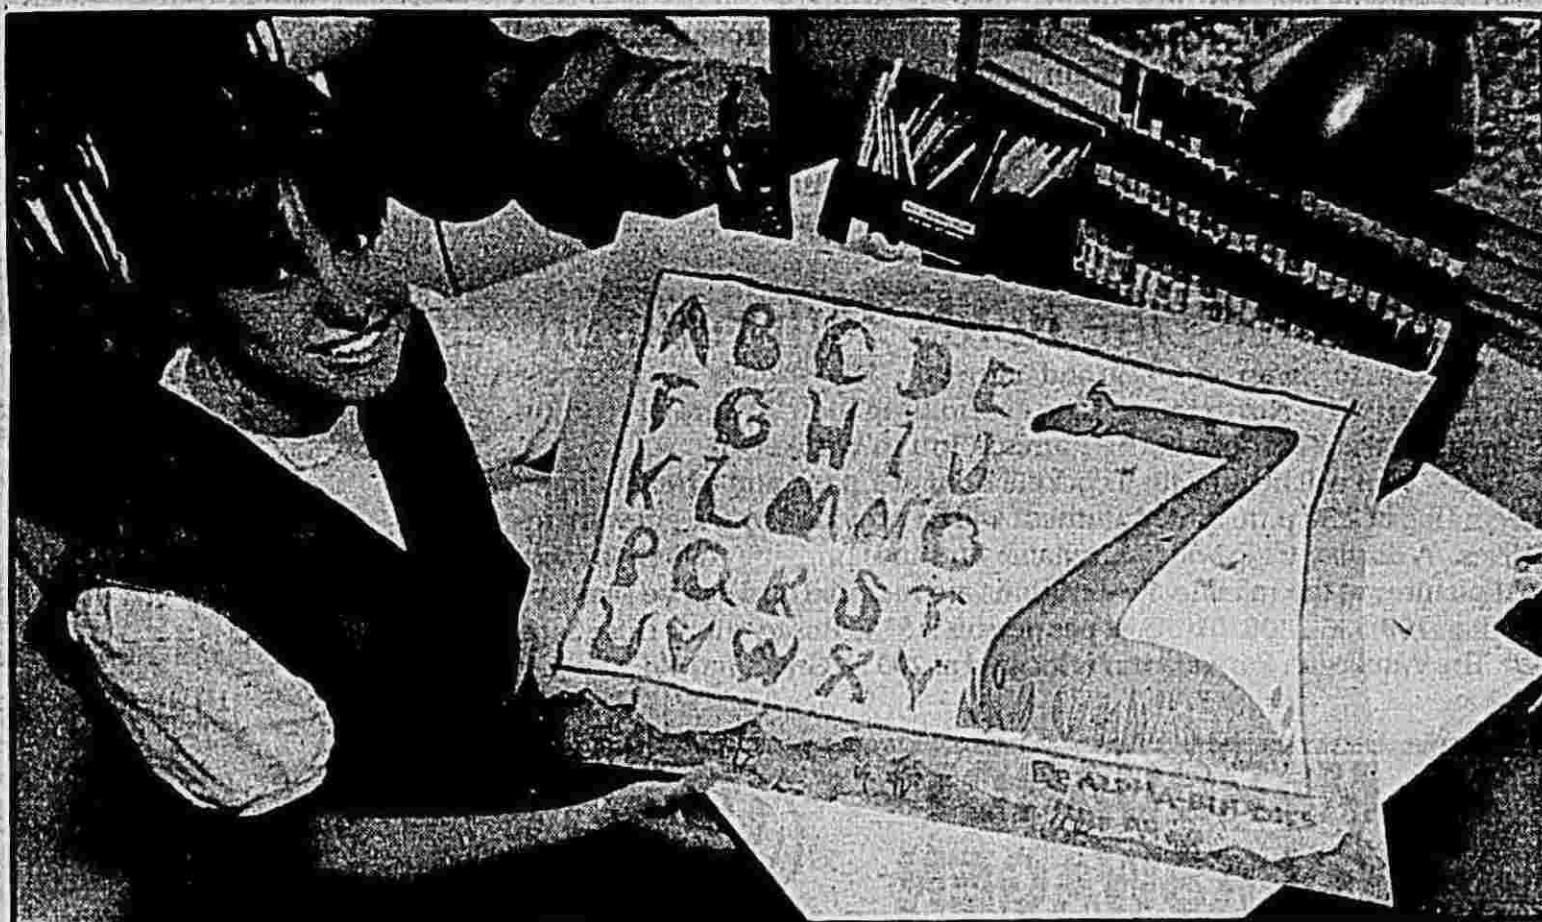

The children that have seen the poster to date have responded well to it. Cate said one boy who saw it could name each of the dinosaurs represented in the poster. When he went to write his name, he even consulted the poster to see how to write some of the letters. Cate said no child yet has responded with disinterest.

Enesco is probably best known for the international Precious Moments figurines. She works as a graphic designer in another division of the See DINOSAURS page C2

Graphic artist Terri Cate of Round Lake Beach displays her poster creation called B.C. Alpha-Buddies. The poster is unique in that a dinosaur represents each letter of the alphabet. ## Improperly insured motorists are majority of costs

A police officer suffered serious injuries after the squad car she was in collided with another vehicle. Yet the officer's private auto insurer ended up paying hundreds of thousands of dollars for her injuries.

Why? Because the at-fault driver had too little insurance coverage to pay for the officer's injuries. This gave the officer the right to file a claim against her private auto insurer's uninsured/underinsured motorists coverage—even though she was on duty and her employer's workers compensation coverage paid her medical bills and lost wages. The officer's personal auto insurer ended up paying "non-economic" damages, commonly known as a pain and suffering award.

And there you have one reason that, in many states, insurance premiums for uninsured/underinsured motorists coverages are soaring. The coverages protect insured persons from motorists with little or no liability insurance. At one time, the coverages were only a minor portion of auto insurance costs. Today, though, uninsured and underinsured motorists coverages have become a major portion of total auto insurance costs in many states. (An uninsured driver is one who does not have liability coverage; an underinsured driver is one whose liability limits are too low to cover the damages for which the person is responsible.)

Of all the things auto insurance pays for—medical bills, car repairs, stolen autos, legal assistance in lawsuits—the biggest cost-driver in many states these days is uninsured/underinsured motorists protection.

According to a study by the Insurance Services Office (ISO), which provides actuarial and related services to property/casualty insurers, on a national basis average UM/UIM loss costs are about one quarter of the average bodily injury loss cost. (The study analyzed data from 1985 through 1989. Bodily injury loss cost is the amount of money insurers spend per year per vehicle as a result of injuries to drivers or their passengers. The national average during the study period was $108, although some states had much higher-than-average costs.)

Campbell celebrates 25th with bank

Jeannette Campbell, senior vice president at Fox Lake State Bank, celebrated 25 years with the bank on Sept. 9.

Campbell joined Fox Lake State Bank in 1969 as a teller. "Jeannette's commitment to excellence and enthusiastic support have made her a valuable asset to the bank and a vital member of our community," noted bank president Ken Birchard. "It gives me great pleasure to honor Jeannette as she celebrates her 25th anniversary with us."

An active civic and community leader, Campbell serves as president of the Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce as well as the Fox Lake Rotary Club. She is also an active and involved member of St. John the Baptist Catholic Church.

Absorption slows, vacancies increase in industrial market

Coming off its fastest start since 1989, the Chicago area industrial market saw a slowdown in gross absorption during second quarter, with combined sales/leasing activity totaling 4.4 million square feet, according to CB Commercial Real Estate Group's survey of an 832-million-square-foot property base, comprised primarily of warehouse/distribution and manufacturing facilities.

Year-to-date, absorption is running at 14.4 million square feet (7.8 million square feet/warehousing and 5.4 million square feet/manufacturing), compared to 12.1 million square feet during first half of 1993, according to CB Commercial's report. Sustaining its current pace, absorption for 1994 is projected to top 26 million square feet, representing a marginal increase for the third consecutive year.

The overall vacancy rate—for all properties with a minimum of 10,000 square feet—is 8.7 percent, compared to 8.3 percent at the close of first quarter and 9.1 percent at mid-year 1993. Of the 72.3 million square feet of available industrial space, 44 percent is located in manufacturing facilities and 47 percent in warehouse/distribution centers.

Build-to-suit construction year-to-date totals more than 2.1 million square feet, and speculative development is running at just 450,000 square feet. With planned starts, new construction for the year is expected to top 4.5 million square feet, up from 3.5 million square feet in 1993 by remaining well below the five-year annual average of 8 million square feet.

Spec development is expected to remain sluggish, which CB Commercial Senior Vice President Stephen Kozarits says should create—if demand remains strong—upward pressure on rents, particularly in big box distribution facilities, 150,000-square-foot-plus with 24-foot clearances.

CB Commercial's report showed the highest levels of gross absorption during first half in the two largest submarkets: The 103.8-million-square-foot O'Hare corridor where sales/leasing activity exceeded 3 million square feet (more than 20 percent of total market absorption year-to-date); and on Chicago's south side, with 114.5 million square feet of industrial properties, where sales/leasing activity totaled 1.4 million square feet.

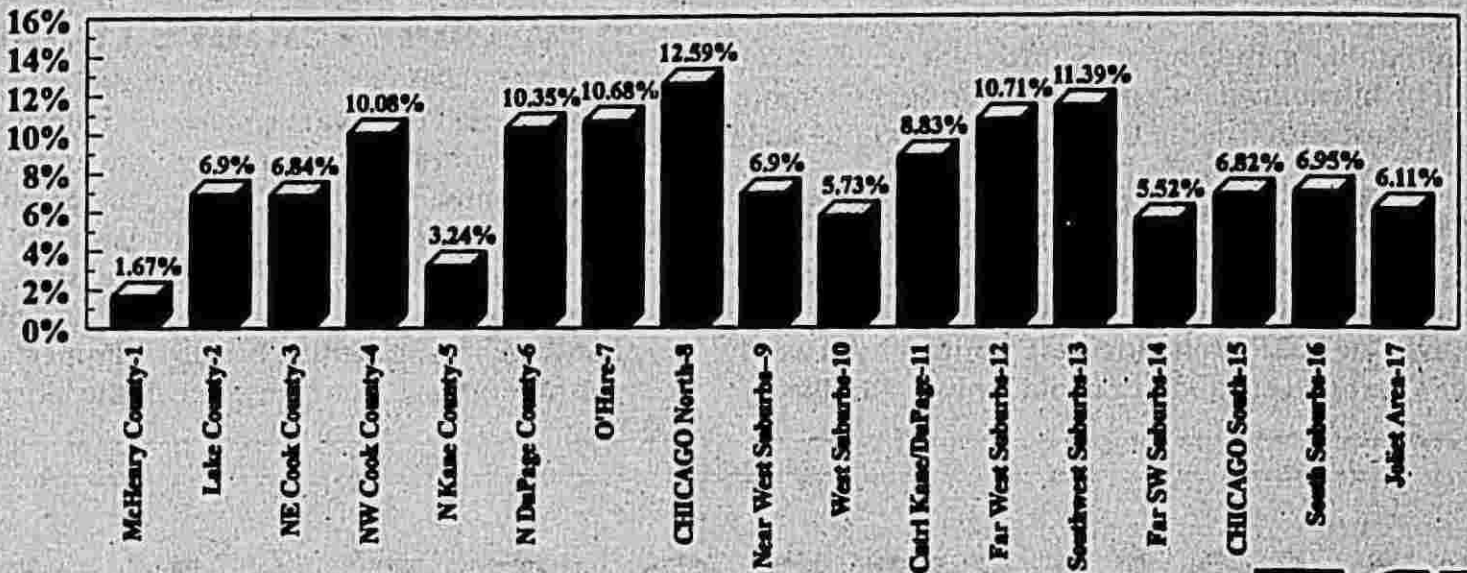

First half absorption also tops one million square feet in northeast Cook County, bordering the city with a 59.8-million-square-foot property base; and in Lake County, with a base of 49.6-million-square-feet.

Showing the highest vacancy rates at the close of the second quarter were: The north side of Chicago, 12.6 percent, where 11.1 million square feet is available; the southwest suburbs, 11.4 percent, where 5.4 million square feet is on the market for sale or lease; the far west suburbs, 10.7 percent, where 3.1 million square feet is available; and the O'Hare corridor, 10.7 percent, where 11.1 million square feet is available.

The lowest vacancy rates are in outlying McHenry County, 1.7 percent, and northern Kane County, 3.2 percent.

company, designing logo T-shirts and posters and such.

Originally from Arizona, her family moved to Minnesota. Cate attended Cardinal Stritch College in Milwaukee, studying graphic design and graduating in 1990. She worked in a design studio in Milwaukee, in an office in the Sears Tower, and as a freelance graphic artist before beginning at Enesco.

Cate plans to market the poster to Chicago area merchants, then to catalog companies that would buy the posters in bulk quantities. After the poster sales are self-sufficient, and she expects they will be, Cate will branch out into other lines of merchandise using the cuddly, prehistoric characters.

Some of the items she is contemplating are refrigerator magnets, building blocks, dinosaur character numbers, and figurines.

Lake County residents don't have to wait for the poster to be available in retail stores. Interested customers may purchase the creation by mailing $12.95 plus $3 for shipping and handling to: B.C. Alpha Buddies, c/o Terri Cate, 677 Peachtree Ln, Round Lake Beach, Ill., 60073. Checks or money orders should be made payable to The Goodness Company. For more information call 265-1001.

North Shore Line holds 26th reunion

Its time to swap old railroad stories. The friends and former employees of the North Shore Line are holding their 26 annual reunion Sept. 25 in the Ballroom at the Ramada Inn in Waukegan.

The event will begin with a cocktail hour at 2 p.m., and a buffet dinner beginning at 2:30 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by the guest themselves. A display table will be available for those bringing memorabilia or old pictures of the rail line. Reservations are required and can be made by calling (708)336-2286. The cost per person is $18. Reservations close Sept. 20. The Waukegan Ramada Inn is located at 200 N. Green Bay Rd.

Tips for the condo buyer

There are many ways to enjoy home ownership, and condominium or townhome living appeals to a large percentage of the home buying public. Condo and townhome living offers a minimum of upkeep that can appeal to a homeowner who is uninterested in the responsibilities of upkeep. Depending on the type of complex and the amenities it offers, a buyer has a choice of both lifestyle and responsibility that appeals to their own specific wants and needs.

There are several questions to ask about condo and townhome living to understand the particulars of the development that you have an interest in. The most often asked question is: What is the difference between a condominium and a townhome?

That particular question can have several answers. The declarations and covenants for each development may have different wording as to how the ownership described. For the most part, a condo offers ownership between the four walls, and perhaps a percentage going into the actual wall. If a property is attached to the earth, it is more often a townhome than a condo. Most townhomes have their own front door, and often condominiums have a common entrance way into the building. Townhomes share common walls just like a condo, however, there are generally not as many in a townhome as in a condo development that may be between several floors of units.

There are several questions to ask prior to purchasing a condo or a townhome, so that you are sure you have the freedom and flexibility you think you are getting. This works both ways, in that you also want to be protected from a unit owner that may have other ideas. The declarations, covenants and rules and regulations will offer most of your answers. Look for items that dictate what you can and cannot do to the exterior of your unit. The covenants can restrict paint colors, landscaping changes, fences, exterior lighting and putting up any signage.

Other important issues are the

Country Lane earns 'Sammy' award

The innovative sales center at Country Lane at Wadsworth Lake has garnered a "Sammy" design award as best in its class by the Sales and Marketing Council of the Home Builders Assn. of Greater Chicago. The award, in the category of "Best Permanent Sales Center, Over 1,000 Square Feet," was presented to Kenneth J. Riha, president of Chicago-based Riha Design, Inc. Riha designed the sales center for Baxter Homes Corp., developer of the community of 126 Victorian-style single-family homes near north suburban Wadsworth. The entryway, with a verandah at the entrance, is topped by a false gable and wrapped in wood trim and shutters, while the interior features wainscoting, a Victorian-era floral print and a deep mahogany-stained wood tone throughout.

management of the development. Check to see if the management is "on-site" or "off-site." On-site management may provide quicker response to problems or complications that may develop. Ask if there is a homeowners association to make the decisions about improvements and additions. Another important question deals with condominium reserve dollars. If a major repair becomes necessary, how much money do they have to cover these emergencies without having to levy a special assessment.

Another important step to consider condo living is in the house inspection. Water pressure can be a real issue in older buildings, as well as type of heating. Have a full inspection done by a professional home inspector to check out the condition of some of the major systems in the building. Older leaky water units may require replacement in a short period of time, and you need to be aware of the possibilities of future special assessments.

You may want to check the history of the monthly assessments. How often have they been increased over the past two to three years? Condo and townhome living are an excellent alternative to single family ownership combined with minimal exterior responsibilities. A thorough study of the particulars of the development you choose, plus the expertise of a real estate professional and review by your attorney can make the transaction a better one.

'FirstGrant' program for educators

Citing its continued involvement to the communities it serves, First of America-Northeast Illinois has announced it will begin to award grants through its FirstGrant program to local educators for special classroom projects and programs. First of America plans to award $25,000 in FirstGrants over the next year throughout Lake County.

According to Nancy L. Singer, president and CEO, teachers at both public and private nonprofit schools can apply for FirstGrant awards of up to $1,000 for "classroom activities that enhance the students' learning experience. We're inviting teachers to use their creativity and expertise to build on what's already in place. We believe that a little extra money in the right place will go a long way to help students."

First of America will form an advisory board comprised of local school administrators, educators, business and community leaders and parents to review grant applications and award grants. The advisory board will represent the wealth of resources in our community. "We will depend on their expertise to help us award funds fairly, and with the interests of students in mind," Singer said. The awards will be based on how a proposed project complements existing school curricula, its approach to encouraging student involvement and its innovation.

The bank hopes to fill advisory board positions within the next few weeks. The board will then collect grant applications from the area teachers and award grants. First of America Bank-Northeast Illinois plans to announce FirstGrant recipients in December.

Grand applications will be available in the fall. Teachers interested in applying for FirstGrant awards should contact their local First of America office or Carolann T. Hill at 566-2937 for an application.

Baxter reports good cash flow

Baxter International reported that its second-quarter earnings per share increased 8 percent to 52 cents per share from 48 cents per share in the year-earlier period. Net income increased 9 percent to $144 million from $132 million in the year-earlier quarter. Sales in the second quarter were $2.3 billion, up 5 percent from $2.2 billion in the same period last year. Baxter's medical-specialties businesses delivered strong sales growth during the quarter.

"We're right on track in achieving the objectives established last November," stated Vernon R. Loucks Jr., Baxter's chairman and chief executive officer.

Baxter is continuing to invest in high-growth international markets and is forging ahead in its plans to penetrate developing health-care markets overseas. For example, Baxter signed a three-year agreement with the Favalaro Foundation in Argentina to supply a range of surgical products.

Also, Baxter formed a joint venture with Eczacibasi, Turkey's largest pharmaceutical company to manufacture and distribute intravenous solutions, dialysis solutions and IV administration sets in Turkey and export them to surrounding countries. It also will distribute other Baxter products such as blood containers and respiratory supplies to countries in the Black Sea region.

As a result of the November 1993 restructuring, Baxter has integrated its medical and laboratory distribution businesses, creating the only major health-care distributor that offers both medical-surgical and laboratory products. The company has reorganized its sale force into a regional network of account teams, establishing a sales structure that mirrors the emerging health-care networks.

Loucks emphasized that Baxter is aggressively working with its customers to respond to the new fixed-fee system that is evolving at an accelerated pace in the United States. "Our recently signed risk-sharing supply agreement with Duke University Medical Center is a good example of a relationship we have developed using the account-team approach. We are working jointly with customers to successfully provide patient care in a managed-care environment. This is a big shift from the traditional transactional-buying approach," Loucks said.

In a continuing effort to streamline operations, Baxter is phasing out manufacturing facilities in Kingstree, South Carolina and Niles, Illinois over a two-year period and is consolidating them into existing facilities. The company sold its neurosurgery-shunting product line but will retain exclusive distribution rights for these products in the United States and other selected markets. And, the company said it is on schedule to divest its diagnostics manufacturing business before the end of 1994.

REAL ESTATE BRIEFS

Seniors carefree living

GURNEE—Centered on an 18-hole golf course, the Villas of Stonebrook in Gurnee offer active seniors an opportunity to enjoy home ownership in a luxurious golf course community setting. Being developed by Gurnee-based Westfield Homes, Stonebrook is an award winning 260-acre golf course community which will include 704 single-family homes, coach homes, townhomes and townhome-style condominiums when complete.

A public-access golf course will provide a scenic focal point and will be owned and operated by the Village of Gurnee. It is scheduled to open in 1995. The villas will include a total of 126 townhome-style condominiums, priced from $89,900 to $130,900. Six designs are offered to buyers and displayed as professionally-decorated models.

The Villas of Stonebrook are located on Rte. 132 one-half mile west of Hunt Club Road.

Forney adds appraisal division

LIBERTYVILLE—Serving Lake County since 1935, J.C. Forney and Co. has been involved in the development of some of the early residential subdivisions in central Lake County, and was the developer of Allanson Industrial Park in Mundelein.

This was the first fully improved industrial park in the county, having started in 1961. Later the company developed Mundelein Industrial Park; and it is currently developing the 115-acre Zion Industrial Park at Rte. 173 and Lewis Avenue. The firm has recently added an appraisal service to complement its other activities. The new appraisal division will be directed by Peter Kanwischer who is licensed and certified, and has had several years of residential and commercial appraising experience.

Kanwischer also has a real estate brokers license and is a graduate of the Univ. of Illinois. Assisting him will be David Goshgarian who is a licensed appraiser with an extensive background in residential sales throughout Lake County. Both are long-time residents in Lake County.

The corporate headquarters is located at 401 S. Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville.

Abbott donation puts YCC near fund-raising goal

A $17,000 donation from Abbott Laboratories has brought the Lake County Forest Preserves' Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) near its $75,000 fundraising goal for this summer's teenage work program.

Upon receiving the donation, Barbara Posner, chair of the YCC Advisory Committee, commended Abbott for its continued commitment to Lake County's youth and noted that the corporation has been a major YCC supporter since 1981.

Other donations include $3,000 each from Baxter Healthcare Corp., and Tenneco Automotive; $2,000 each from Walgreens Corp., and Bernardi Securities; $1,500 each from Browning Ferris Industries, Quill Corp., Yaskawa Electric America, Inc., Citizens for Conservation, and Gavel International Corp.; and $1,000 from Burgess, Anderson and Tate Inc. of Zion.

Over 70 individuals and businesses have donated nearly $71,000 toward the summer job program for Lake County teenagers. Contributions of all levels are still needed and appreciated. A donation of $1,600 supports each position.

Some of the YCC projects completed this summer include construction of a 120-foot bridge at Ryerson Conservation Area near Deerfield, placement of viewing benches in Forest Preserves throughout Lake County and along the DesPlaines River Trail, brush clearing and prairie restoration at Almond Marsh Forest Preserve near Gurnee and at Cuba Marsh Forest Preserve near Barrington, restoration of the Wadsworth Road Des Plaines River Canoe Launch overlook, and construction of horseshoe pits at Van Patten Woods Forest Preserve near Wadsworth.

Celebrating its 20th year, the Youth Conservation Corps has employed hundreds of young men and women in the Lake County Forest Preserves with the assistance and support of the community. An advisory committee made up of Lake County business leaders spearheads the fund-raising campaign. Donations are the sole source of support for the summer conservation job program for Lake County teenagers. All donations are applied directly to the youth's salaries, with the Lake County Forest Preserve providing all operational and materials costs.

For more information on the Youth Conservation Corps, or to make a donation, call Bob McCammon, Lake County Forest Preserve Project Manager at 526-7878.

Quality variable annuities provides financial growth

As we all know, income tax rates have increased dramatically. A number of taxpayers will find themselves in a 45 percent affect tax bracket in 1994. This type of environment makes any tax advantaged investment particularly valuable.

In the last two years, record amounts of funds have been deposited into variable annuities. This unique financial instrument has exploded in popularity because of increased income tax rates, limitations on contributions to retirement plans and unique attributes of the product.

Variable annuities, like all annuities, allows for the accumulation of value without current taxation. Unlike fixed annuities which compound interest tax free, variable annuities also enable the tax free compounding of capital gain and dividend.

Quality variable annuities allow the investor to select investment alternatives managed by the best money management organizations in the world. Under one contract, for example, an investor can utilize funds from Fidelity, Strong, Oppenheimer, 20th Century, Newberger Berman and Dreyfus.

All variable contracts are written without sales charges, meaning that 100 percent of invested funds are immediately put to work. Most contracts have no transfer restrictions, allowing you to transfer among multi-fund options within the contract as often as once a day, without charge.

To vary significant benefits of various annuity contracts have a fixed account option. This typically provides a guaranteed interest rate, much like a fixed annuity, typically higher than CD's and money market rates. The guaranteed account also provides a base for automatic dollar cost averaging. A fixed amount is automatically subtracted each month to obtain shares in the various mutual fund accounts. This provides a perfect vehicle for developing a lower average cost for stock and bond mutual funds.

A substantial advantage of variable annuities over fixed annuities is the availability of low minimum initial purchased payments. Contracts can be initiated with as little as $300.

We will be pleased to provide information on recommended variable annuities to any interested reader. Please write us at Associates in Financial Planning, 100 S. Wacker Dr., Suite 1650, Chicago, IL 60606.—by

New SEC ruling affects investors

A new Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) ruling scheduled to take effect June 1, 1995, could dramatically impact the way individual investors conduct their securities transactions. Specifically, investors will have three business days, rather than the current five, to pay for securities purchases or to deliver certificates after a transaction. The rule is commonly referred to as "T+3," which stands for "trade date plus three days."

A shorter settlement period means that, in most cases, using the postal service to remit payment or send in certificates for a trade will no longer be fast enough. Rather, payment for securities may need to be on deposit in the investor's account at the time a transaction is executed.

T+3 is designed to help curb the risk in the securities market, especially in times of market turbulence, like a downturn or a steep sell-off. That's good news for all investors.

The new ruling also means that investors will receive the proceeds from any sale sooner and will see their reinvestment dollars placed in new securities two days earlier. Investment dollars will be put to work more quickly than in the past.

The roots of T+3 go back to October 1987, when the stock market plunged more than 500 points in a single day. Following that crisis, SEC Chairman Richard Breeden created a task force to help make the financial markets safer.

After extensive study, the task force determined that over the past 15 to 20 years, there has been a relentless increase in the use of computerized trading as well as growth in the sheer volume of trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Today, the market measures time in nanoseconds and trades are conducted in blocks of millions of shares. Despite all the developments on the trading front, the business of paying for all those shares remained relatively static. In addition, most other nations have already reduced their settlement periods to three days or less.

Based on all this information, the task force concluded that "time equals risk" and recommended reducing the settlement period from five to three business days. This will enable U.S. markets to keep pace with technology, with the volume of trading and with the practices of other world markets.

To avoid trading delays when the June 1, 1995, ruling takes effect, investors should begin preparing today. Schedule a portfolio review with your investment professional to discuss the best steps for you to take.

In many cases, a "full-service account" that offers a money-market option and safe-keeping of securities will help ensure that your securities are available when needed for sale and that you have the cash available to pay for securities purchases.

Although T+3 will mean adjustments in the way many investors conduct their securities transactions, the benefit of increased safety in the marketplace will undoubtedly outweigh those minor adjustments.—by MARC LUBKEMAN, Edward D. Jones & Co.

Weathering the current market

In the past month, interest rates have reached a 12-month high and the Dow Jones Industrial Average has experienced several consecutive days of decline. Times such as these can test the nerves of even the most seasoned investors.

As these market conditions continue to grab headlines, you'll no doubt have questions regarding your investments. Don't hesitate to call your investment professional for information, but if you've adopted the following investment strategies, no doubt your portfolio is well-equipped to navigate the current market's stormy weather.

- Invest for the Long Term—Regardless of what type of investment you choose, one thing is certain—the market will always rise and fall in the short term. Adopting and maintaining a long-term investment strategy, however, increase your investment success. When choosing between a buy-and-hold strategy and trying to time the market, there is no choice. As one Stanford University study showed, you would have to time the market correctly at least 82 percent of the time to do as well as an investor who buys and holds stock. So, remember it's time in the market, not timing the market, that's crucial.

- Invest Systematically—Another excellent investment strategy for smoothing the sometimes turbulent effects of the market is to invest a fixed amount at regular intervals. Also called dollar-cost-averaging, this strategy allows you to buy more shares when prices fall and fewer shares when prices are high. Over the long term, systematic investing will result in an average cost that's actually lower than the average price of the security.

- Buy Quality—When selecting your investments, don't seek out the "hottest" or most popular investment. Instead look for individual stocks and stock mutual funds that have demonstrated consistent growth in earnings and dividends over an extended period of time.

- Diversification—By investing in a variety of investments, you can reduce risk while potentially increasing your return. One study found that 90 percent of a portfolio's overall performance depends on how well diversified it is. Also, when diversifying your investment dollars, remember to diversify not only by investment type but also by maturities as well as industry and geography.

The most important thing to remember during certain times in the market is not to panic. If you've chosen quality, long-term investments and your investment needs and objectives haven't changed, there's probably no need to modify your investment strategy. Also keep in mind that market corrections actually provide an excellent investment opportunity. With the help of a professional, you may be able to invest in some quality investments at bargain prices. —by JAY NORMAN, Edward D. Jones & Co.

Financial planning 101 for college grads

For many college graduates, the exhilaration of landing a job will soon be tempered by the realization that a paycheck doesn't stretch as far as they had anticipated. To help new graduates effectively manage their earnings, the Illinois CPA Society offers these basic financial planning tips.

Develop a "cash flow statement." In simple terms, begin to track expenses on a monthly basis and compare them to monthly income. Do this for several months and you'll get a good understanding of your financial habits and those that may need to be changed.

When tracking expenses include every expense, even small amounts paid for gifts and sporting or entertainment events. An accurate cash flow statement will help choose areas in which you can cut back spending, if necessary.

While a cash flow statement will indicate past spending habits, a budget can guide you in making future financial expenditures and achieve financial goals.

As a rule of thumb, plan on spending about 30 percent of your take-home pay on housing, including rent and utilities and 20 percent on food. Out of the remaining 50 percent, you'll need to pay for miscellaneous expenses, including commuting costs, student loans and other outstanding debts, clothing, gifts, etc. You should also strive to set aside between 5 and 10 percent of earnings in a savings account.

A budget should be driven in large part by financial goals. So, for example if you want to purchase a new car a year from now, you'll need to boost your savings further and look for ways to reduce expenses.

Try to find a bank that offers free checking for a minimum or average balance, say $100 to $300, to save on per-check costs, which can amount to $100 to $200 a year. A higher minimum in a checking account (about $1,000) may also earn interest on a checking balance.

Most banks offer regular savings accounts and money market accounts. With the latter, a minimum $2,500 balance is usually required, but you have the advantage of earning more interest when interest rates increase.

Since credit cards are heavily marketed to college students, you may already own one or two. However, it's wise to shop around for cards that offer the best deals. Look for credit cards that offer low annual fees and low interest rates.

Don't be tempted by cards that offer incentives, such as airline miles or rebates on cars. These cards may have higher interest charges and annual fees, meaning they'll ultimately cost more to use. In order to take advantage of the incentive, you must usually rack up thousands of dollars in credit card purchases—a situation to avoid.

Finally, if you are about to start a new job CPAs urge you to carefully evaluate company benefits and to plan to take advantage of savings and investment programs, such as 401(k) plans, as soon as you qualify. This will help ensure future financial security.

Make sure your credit history is error-free

Make sure credit history is error-free

Before you apply for a mortgage loan, car loan or other credit, the Ill. CPA Society recommends that you take the time to check your credit record. It's not uncommon for credit reporting agencies to make errors on your credit record. As a result, potential lenders may get the mistaken impression that you are a bad credit risk and reject your credit request.

Obtaining copies of your credit report

The credit history of most Americans is recorded by three large national bureaus: TRW (1-800-682-7654), Equifax (1-800-658-1111) and Trans Union (216-779-7200). TRW will provide you with one free report annually. The two other national bureaus, Equifax and Trans Union, will also provide you with a copy of their report for a small fee, usually under $10. However, if you are denied credit because of information in your credit history, these agencies are obligated to send you a free copy of the problem report within 30 days of your request.

When requesting a copy of your report, you must provide your name, current address, addresses for the past five years, social security number and year of birth. If you are married, even if you and your spouse have joint credit accounts, you can only obtain individual reports.

What's included in your credit report

Your credit report includes certain biographical data such as your social security number, age, employer and current salary. In addition, it contains specific credit information gathered by various private companies and lending institutions. This includes outstanding credit card balances as well as automobile loans, government-backed student loans, small business loans and lines of credit. The report also indicates how promptly you pay these loans—key information for a potential lender. Additionally, bankruptcy filings, tax liens and sometimes even divorce settlements are noted in the report.

Under federal law, adverse credit information can only be kept on your report for seven years, except for bankruptcy entries, which are listed for 10 years.

Typical errors

There are a wide range of errors that may turn up in your credit report. Some of these may occur at the credit bureau and others are a result of a creditor or other provider supplying misinformation.

The most common errors made by credit bureaus are minor, such as reporting an incorrect social security number, date of birth or employer. These items are not likely to jeopardize your ability to obtain credit. Credit bureaus also have been known to mix up credit files. For example, your credit history could include accounts of a relative or another individual who has a similar name.

Creditors may also provide erroneous information, such as indicating a failure to make timely payments or reporting closed credit card accounts as open. In the latter case, potential new creditors may get the impression that you already have too much credit

How to correct errors

As soon as you notice an error in your credit report, contact the credit reporting agency. Usually it's best to explain in writing how items need to be corrected. If you have difficulty getting credit bureau customer relations personnel to correct credit bureau errors, try writing to senior management at these companies. To expedite the process, provide proof that your assertions are correct, such as documentation indicating that you closed an account or a copy of a birth certificate showing you would have been too young to open an account which is being attributed to you.

The credit bureau will contact creditors who supplied the questionable information on your credit report. CPAs recommend that you also contact these creditors yourself and ask them to notify the appropriate credit bureau about the error and how it should be corrected. This should convince the credit bureau to change your records.

It's in your best interest to request copies of your credit report from the three large agencies and to contact each of them about errors or other information that may need to be changed.

The Ill. CPA Society is the state professional association representing more than 26,000 certified public accountants in Illinois.

September important time for lawn care

Early September is an important time for lawn care in northern Illinois. Many lawn care practices can be done in this favorable time period, including seeding, fertilizing, thatch management, and control of certain weeds, says Bruce Spangenberg, Extension Horticulture Educator with the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service Center in Grayslake.

If any type of seeding is to be done, it should be as soon as possible, according to Spangenberg.

Early September is a key time for fertilizing. In fact, lawns receiving fertilizer only once a season should be fertilized now. Nitrogen is the most important nutrient for lawns. Apply about one pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Choose quality fertilizers containing controlled-release nitrogen.

Lawns with problem thatch layers can also be attended to in this early September period.

Dethatching machines will tear out thatch, but reseeding is usually required afterwards.

Core aerating may be a better choice because reseeding is not required and the cause of the thatch problem is often corrected by aerating.

Certain weeds can also be controlled effectively in September. In particular broadleaf weeds. A prime example would be dandelions.

Using a broadleaf herbicide in early fall often results in more complete control than spring applications.

Finally, after controlling the weeds Spangenberg stresses the importance of following sound lawn care practices to help avoid future weed invasions.

In particular, fertilize and mow properly to maintain a thick, vigorous lawn that can resist weed invasions.

Master Gardener training to be held

The University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service in Lake County will offer the Master Gardener Program in 1995, says Sharon Ylesia, Unit Educator in Horticulture for Lake County. Master Gardeners are volunteers who receive training in home horticulture topics during the winter and early spring.

Qualified individuals should have the desire to work with people and an interest in gardening. One must have the time to volunteer and obtain the training which occurs Wednesdays, Jan. 18 through March 29, 1995 at the Lake County Extension Service Auditorium (100 S. Hwy. 45 in Grayslake). Classes are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Instructors are University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service educators.

When the training is complete, the volunteers donate time back to the horticulture program. Master Gardeners are involved in a number of activities, including answering phone calls from homeowners who have gardening questions, staffing answer booths located throughout the county during the summer, and giving slide presentations to gardening groups.

Call Sharon Ylesia at 223-8627 to request an application and program brochure or for further information.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

GET IT OFF YOUR CHEST (708) 223-8073

Survival of the fittest

This is to the spoiled people who think they should have a grocery store next to them in Mundelein. What is a 15-minute drive if that is not close by. Also, there is a lesson in economics to be learned here. The village board does not wave a magic wand and grocery stores get built. Businesses, especially regional or national chains, have a formula for building a new site which includes population density, consumer preferences, average income, age, and a host of other demographic characteristics. The beauty of capitalism is it fosters the pursuit of profitability. When your area meets the criteria of Jewel or Dominicks, don't you think they will be building without the help of the village board's magic wand? For now, you're just going to have to make sure you have a full tank when you go to the grocery store. If you moved to Lake County to have every convenience of life built up next door to you, then you moved here for the wrong reason.

Out of jurisdiction

I am a citizen of Richmond and a full-time employee of a company in Waukegan. During my commutes to Waukegan, I regularly see one of our Richmond police cars in that vicinity. The first few times I saw the patrol car, I did not give the matter a second thought. As it became a habit for me to see this car in Waukegan, I began to wonder why the 1994 black, Impala SS would be in Waukegan when it should be protecting its own community. I was under the impression that my hard-earned taxes went to improving and protecting Richmond. The regular sight of Richmond's tax-paid patrol car in Waukegan is unacceptable. On the surface, this may not seem like such a horrible offense, but unless we law-abiding citizens of suburban communities keep a watchful eye on our respective governmental agencies, small acts of foul play with our money could lead to much greater corruption. I am calling to encourage my fellow taxpayers not to be afraid to question the questionable. As taxpaying citizens it is not only our right but our duty to know that our money is being used only for the safety and the betterment of the community which we live.

Still going loony

This is the person who is going loony in Loon Lake because of the horns on the Wisconsin Central Rail Line. There was an answer in Lipservice after my call was printed about a petition in Antioch. No one at village hall knows anything about the petition. If someone would tell us how to sign the petition we would like to sign it.

Editorial note: There was a phone number in that call that we did not print because, for a variety of reasons, we are very careful about printing phone numbers in Lipservice. To specifically promote that cause would be better left for the petitioning party to print their phone number in an advertisement in the paper.

Trying to fit in

I love your introduction. Here I am for Lipservice. Pardon me folks. I have lived in Spring Grove for 12 years. I did not know what a good neighbor was. It is hard to conform. Being weird and strange is a hard job. Please come and tell me how high my shades should be, where I can buy junk cars and the placement of them for your enjoyment. Tell me which evergreens you would like my dog to kill and where in our yard our friends can park for our next party. I'll paint a sign for burglars telling them our plans, stick in our yard, and bring it in when you are gone. You'll probably give me many more good ideas. You would look better on our surveillance tapes if you would smile. Thank you.

More fireworks

I hate to complain about something so wonderful as our Fourth of July fireworks display but this year three and four rockets were set off at the same time and they obscured each other. You could not see the complete beauty of them. The display was over in 15 minutes. In past years they have lasted a lot longer. That is just a suggestion. It took a long time to get in place, fighting the traffic to see the fireworks. I know how much money they cost and they were beautiful but let's make it worth it.

No flower-smelling

Where have all the flowers gone? This call is directed to the sellers of the Wooster Lake Campground known as the U.S.V.R. Are you sleeping at night? Are the dollar signs lullabying you to sleep? How can you take a nice recreation area away from thousands of people? Do the developers have any children? Do their kids like to swim, fish and camp? Why are you destroying this wonderful recreation ground and building townhouses? Where have all the flowers gone? They have been bulldozed away and replaced by dollar signs.

Making money

I am a property owner in the Gavin School District and read the article about the Gavin superintendent. He has dared to do as much as he can for the money he is making. He is making four times the amount I am making. This superintendent in five years got more raises than anybody I know of in the Lake County area.

Good football

I would like to commend the Warren Township Youth Football Program. It is great to know the coaches donate such of their personal time. I have seen a lot of programs in many other towns and Warren Township is the best by far.

Vote her out

Congratulations Superintendent Mary Davis of Round Lake Schools. It must be great to see the residents did not vote you into office. If we had that pleasure we would vote you out very fast. Round Lake Schools used to be very compassionate to their employees. The present administration says that all employees will be out the door. They are quitting far too frequently. Come on taxpayers and parents. If the superintendent is treating her employees like they are beneath her, doesn't it make you wonder how she treats the children? Our school board should wake up and investigate her behavior. If they do, she will slip up and her true colors will begin to show immediately. The board must do the job for which we voters put them into office. If they cannot serve us in the proper manner we can force them out. We, the taxpaying community, are the ones who voted the board members in and we must be responsible too.

No more Churchill

I have lived in Ingleside for eight years and I am sick and tired of Mr. Do-Nothing Bob Churchill. I am tired of him winning each year and not doing a thing for us in his township and the whole area. He should be kicked out. We need someone like Phyllis Lucas in there. She is a newcomer and she will do something. Ask yourselves what Bob Churchill has done for this county? I am supporting Phyllis. I dare Lipservice to print this for a change. All you do is talk to Republicans. Print something. Print this. I have been voting Republican for the past eight years. His time is done. Save this county.

Editorial note: Here is your call, but you were wrong about us talking only to Republicans. Just like the races going on right now, we provide equal coverage of candidates so the public can make up its own mind. If you are referring to our columns that feature incumbent politicians, only Republicans have been elected by the majority of the voters in this county.

Villa Rica cow path

As a homeowner in the Villa Rica subdivision in Antioch, I am appalled by the horrible condition of the roads. There are more like cow paths. Where is our road commissioner?

Editorial note: Villa Rica Rd is in the process of being paved this month.

Baseball baby-sitting

This is regarding the Avon Township baseball board of directors. If some of the parents would come out and see how their kids behave, they would not be so difficult on the volunteers who are simply baby-sitting in some cases. You have volunteers out there working very hard and are out there every night. Most of these parents drop their kids off and go home and don't know what is going on out there. Maybe they should volunteer once in a while. We need more volunteers.

At it again

Here we go again. I see the Antioch school buses are in circulation again. The high school board for District 117 voted seven to zero to place the referendum question on the November ballot. They are asking for a 30-cent increase in the education tax rate. A 35-cent increase was rejected in March. When will this stop? Hurry up with that unit school district, Lake Villa.

Bumbling busing

I want to know what is going on with the Round Lake Schools transportation department. The bus drivers are doing the best job they can do. The bus stops are a mess. My kid had to wait for another bus because his was overloaded. The transportation coordinator can't and won't answer my questions. The director of the department won't give me the time of day. He just walks away. Did the superintendent hire these insensitive people? Something has got to be done. It has never been so chaotic. The school board must get involved. These people are so incompetent. How much longer must our children suffer? Get rid of these people and get someone who cares about our concerns and can really help us.

Same old, same old

I'm calling regarding the Antioch High School referendum. You would think that the school board has finally received the message that the residents are tired of the same old solutions—tax and spend. Here it is again. I am a resident and a business owner in the community and I am disgusted with the same old liberal idea. Doesn't the school board get it? If you have only $1, you cannot spend a $1.50 and ask for a tax increase to cover the difference. Use the money that is there just a little bit more wisely. Besides, the residents of Antioch just got a whopping increase in the assessed value of their homes. Correct me if I am wrong, but doesn't the school receive a good portion of that money? So the school board wants not just one tax increase, but two, because they cannot manage their checkbooks. Don't let them get away with it, Antioch. Vote no for this referendum in November.

Horn defense

This is in response to 'Stop horns' and your disrupted sleep. I wonder how often the engineer's sleep is disrupted by nightmares about the person he killed when they tried to beat the train through an intersection or they committed suicide. That horn is their one defense against peoples' stupidity. Your viewpoint is one-sided, close-minded and ignorant. If I were in the shoes of the engineer I would blow that horn louder, longer, and more often. Furthermore, if the train horns bother you, why would you choose to live by the tracks? Would you have us believe the tracks were brought in after you purchased your home?

No forwarding

I would like to thank the Grayslake Post Office. In moving out of Grayslake and filling out the proper forms to get our mail forwarded, they did not follow through. We have received many late bills and been forced to pay late charges. Once again, the Grayslake Post Office is not doing its job of paying attention.

Weedy priorities

This is to School District 116. Our school grounds look like the ghettos. There is enough money to run a lawnmower and a Weed Whacker. There are enough people to get the job done. There is enough time in the day for you and your staff to complete the task. If you don't believe that, maybe you should re-prioritize and get to work on time.

Problems raised

This is in response to the Grayslake elementary teacher who has been there for 10 years. She ought to consider the fact they got a heck of a hefty pay raise the last couple of years on their contract. The problems of School District 46 are much larger than anything a teachers group could do to garner support for a referendum.

Check the fire

I read the paper weekly and I am quite concerned about all the negative comments and publicity about the Grayslake Fire Department. It seems there is something in there on it every week. Is anybody else concerned about this? Maybe someone should be looking into this like the mayor or the chief. It is starting to concern me as well as maybe other Grayslake residents.

Cedar Lake joke

I'm calling to complain about the Cedar Lake Rd project in Round Lake. The Lake County department of transportation is a joke and we all should remember it at election time. The road was to have been done a year ago, then in July, then September, then November. What a joke. Get with it, you guys. Get that road done.

Free facilities

The Wauconda Park District is the greatest deal around. You can go and use the fitness center and not ever have to pay. No one is ever there to monitor you and if they are there they are too busy working out on company time to check you. You can use the courts because no one ever checks. It is the best deal around.

Ruth O. Crooks

Mrs. Crooks was born Ruth Virginia Oliphant on October 13, 1908 in Oak Park, Illinois. She was a graduate of Dekalb Teachers College, where she was President of the Woman's Athletic Association and the Student Council, and also a graduate of National College of Education.

She was married to Douglas Standart Crooks on February 15, 1930. Their union was blessed with three daughters: Barbara Enders, Marjory MacKay (Larry), and Elizabeth Galfer (Michael).

Mrs. Crooks was active both in business and education. After her husband's passing in 1957, she continued to operate Crook's Restaurant where Wauconda Pharmacy now stands. She and her husband opened their first business in Wauconda called the Sweet Shop which is currently occupied by the Main Street Cafe. Mrs. Crooks was also instrumental in founding the Wauconda Chamber of Commerce and the Wauconda Education Association.

Mrs. Crooks was a school teacher in Wauconda for over twenty-five years. She taught 4th and 5th grades at the elementary school, then 7th and 8th grade math and science at the junior high. She successfully started a work-study program at the high school. This latter effort uniquely combined her business experience with her love for teaching young people. Under her direction, she helped more than 1000 students integrate their high school studies with practical, real-world job instruction. She also participated in the writing of a book for Chicago State University on her philosophy about work-study experiences. Always an avid student, Mrs. Crooks traveled the world looking for ways to make education more exciting and relevant to her classes.

Mrs. Crooks was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Barrington where she served as head Reading Room Librarian and a member of the Executive Board.

She is survived by her three daughters and five grandchildren: Jennifer and Douglas MacKay, Elyssa Enders, and Miles and Jeffrey Galfer, her brother Walter (Marjorie) Oliphant, three nieces and a nephew.

Friends, former students, and co-workers are invited to share in a celebration and remembrance of her life on Saturday, September 17th at 11:00 in the Fellowship Hall of the Wauconda Federated Church in Wauconda, 200 S. Barrington Rd., Wauconda, 200 S. Barrington Rd., Wauconda, IL. Memorials appreciated to Hilltop, 502 N. Waukegan Rd., Lake Bluff, IL 60044. For information from the Wauconda Funeral Home, call (708) 526-2115.

Walter "Bottles" Litwin

Age 73 of Antioch, IL passed away Saturday, September 10, 1994 at Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan, IL. He was born November 6, 1920 in Chicago, IL the son of the late John and Katherine (Janda) Litwin. Walter had lived in Chicago many years before moving to Antioch permanently in 1989. He served in the United States Coast Guard during World War II, was a member of the VFW Post #4551 of Antioch, IL, the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge #525 of Antioch. Mr. Litwin worked as a Chicago Police Officer many years before his retirement. On February 27, 1942 he married Josephine Vazquez in New York City, NY.

Survivors include his wife Josephine; one daughter Dolores (William) Piszczor of Countryside; three brothers Matt (Nikki) of Chicago, Chester (Frances) of Bolingbrook and Richard of Chicago; two sisters Bernice (Joe) Lezon of Geneva, IL and Frances (Joe) Simkus of Chicago. He was the grandfather of Donnette Jo Struhl.

Funeral services with Mass of Christian Burial were held Thursday, September 15, 1994 at St. Peter Church, Antioch, IL. Interment was at Hillside Cemetery, Antioch, IL. Strang Funeral Home, Antioch, IL handled the arrangements.

Kevin Robert Sedar

Age 27 of Lake Villa, IL died Sunday, September 11, 1994 on Crooked Lake, Lake Villa as a result of an accidental drowning. He was born on February 28, 1967 in Waukegan, IL and had resided in Lake Villa for the past 20 years.

Survivors include his mother Nadyne "Mickey" Sedar (nee Lewis); one brother Tom (Donna) Sedar of Spring Grove, IL; three sisters Ellen (Robert) Cravens of McHenry, IL, Nancy (James) Pollack of Lake Villa, IL; Cindy (Terry) West of Dallas, TX; and seven nieces and nephews and other relatives also survive. He was preceded in death by one brother Ricky Sedar in 1979 and his father Richard Sedar in 1990.

Funeral Mass was on Thursday, September 15, 1994 at 10:30 a.m. at St. Bede's Catholic Church, Ingleside, IL. Interment followed in Ascension Cemetery, Libertyville, IL. Friends called on Wednesday, September 14 at the Petrosilus Funeral Home, Tenth St. near Sheridan Road, North Chicago after 5 p.m. and until 9 p.m. and on Thursday at St. Bede's Church, 5 Wilson Rd., Ingleside, IL after 9:30 a.m. and until time of mass.

Alfred Homer Edmonds

Age 81 of Princeton, WI, formerly of Auroraville, WI and Gurnee, IL died Friday evening, September 9, 1994 at the Berlin Memorial Hospital of Berlin, WI. He was born November 5, 1912 in Lake County, Illinois near Gurnee, the son of Richard and Mary Helman Edmonds. He married Luella I. Metcalf August 12, 1933 in Waukegan, IL. She preceded him in death March 9, 1983. Alfred married Susane B. Ingold Butt on August 22, 1987 in Auroraville, WI. Alfred was raised in the Gurnee, IL area. He had worked as an auto mechanic and had farmed in Gurnee until moving to Auroraville, WI in 1963. He owned and operated a dairy farm in Auroraville, WI until he retired from farming in 1986. He moved to Princeton, WI with his wife, Susane in 1988, and had lived there until the present time. Alfred was a member of Calvary Lutheran Church in Princeton, WI. In his earlier years he enjoyed hunting and fishing.

Survivors include his wife Susane; his son Marvin A. (Joanne) Edmonds of Berlin, WI; four step-sons Ronald (Sandra) Butt and Thomas (Susan) Butt, both of Berlin, WI; Michael (Ginny) Butt of Fond du Lac, WI and Mark (Jackie) Butt of Elmhurst, IL; and a stepdaughter Barbara (James) Williams of Waunakee, WI. Alfred is also survived by 14 grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, other relatives and friends. In addition to his first wife Luella, he was preceded in death by four brothers Lee, James, George, and Edward Edmonds and a sister Bertha Larson.

Funeral services for Mr. Alfred H. Edmonds were held Monday evening, September 12th at 7:00 p.m. at Calvary Lutheran Church, Market Square, Princeton, WI. The Rev. William Lewis officiated. Friends called from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. Monday at the church. Graveside services were held at 1:00 p.m. Tuesday, September 13th at the Warren Cemetery in Gurnee, IL with the Rev. William Lewis officiating. Burial followed in the Warren Cemetery. A Memorial has been established for the Calvary Lutheran Church Building Fund. The Ruminski Funeral Home of Redgranite, WI assisted the family with arrangements.

Griefnotes

How long does grief last?

It is not possible to give an absolute answer to this question. Every individual reacts to loss a bit differently. We can expect intense grief during the first few weeks after a loss. In the following three or four months our feelings of grief may be strong as we encounter many reminders of the death. After that we will begin doing things for ourselves, yet continue to miss our loved one. We may become frustrated as we attempt to do things the deceased once did for us. As a second year without the deceased begins we may find our feelings of loneliness and sadness have lessened. As we develop new relationships and do more things for ourselves our grief will diminish and we will be able to restore hope and happiness in our lives. Our grief, however, may never completely disappear as our memories linger.

How To Survive The Job Search By Nancy Sakol

9: Dear...Search: I have been employed with the same company for the past nine years. The owner of the company I am employed with is bitter about me seeking new employment for monetary reasons. I have interviewed with a company who has checked my reference and has informed me that they are unable to get a reference checked with the exception of dates of employment and job title. I have no other references as this has been my only employer. Is it common practice to give out limited information like this? What should I do? R.B.

A: Dear R.B. In answer to your question, yes. It has become common practice for a company to only verify dates of employment and position. However, there are companies who will give out more with a letter from the employee requesting further information be released. In any case, the time to be worrying about references is not after the fact. Have all your "ducks in a row" prior to the first interview. Line up your references. Ask a former department head for a letter of recommendation. Let them know that you would appreciate their help in giving you a reference should a potential employer call. To make it more convenient, ask the best time and place to have someone contact them. Good luck.

9: Dear...Search: Is it okay to wear perfume or cologne on an interview? H.R.

A: Dear H.R. I would suggest refraining from either on an interview. Scented perfumes or colognes, while pleasant to the one wearing them, may be offensive to others. An applicant recently told me that five minutes into an interview in a small office, the interviewer asked if they could reschedule their interview for the next day. He proceeded to explain his allergy to perfume and the headaches that it causes him. I hear this more and more. And yes, the interview went on the next day as planned. Employer and employee are doing fine.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Grumee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Grumee, IL 60031.

ECKROTH

The 1862 square foot Eckroth is a three-level home designed to be built on a hillside lot. The roomy two-car garage is on the bottom level, with both a winding staircase and a covered entry permitting access to the main floor on the second level.

This floor plan, with the sleeping areas on different levels, will be especially attractive to a couple with either a parent or an older child living in the home.

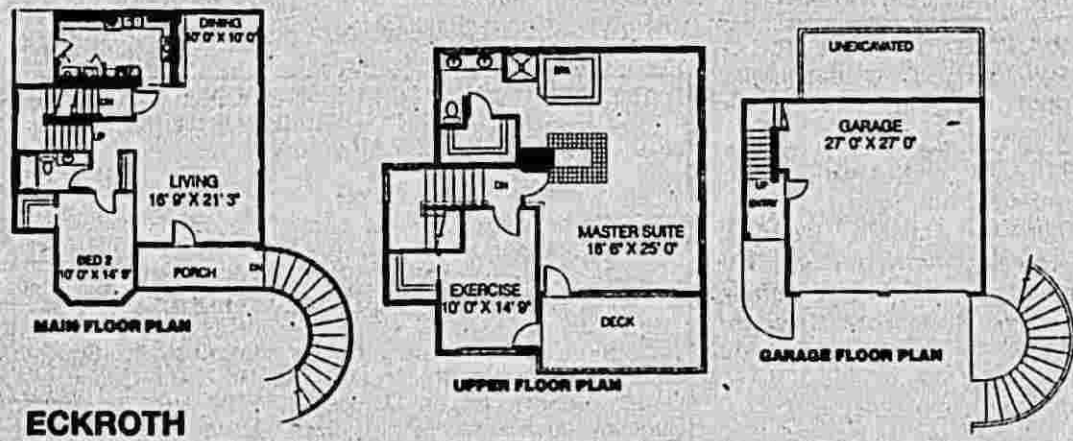

On the main floor, the place for friends and family to congregate is in the spacious living room. With a bank of large windows covering the entire wall, plenty of light is shed on the activities. Facing the front, a nice railed porch will accommodate a couple of chairs for relaxing on a warm summer evening.

The kitchen, with high, pull-down cabinets, makes it a snap to serve savory meals in the adjoining dining room. Tucked into the back of the kitchen is a handy utility room, with a laundry chute from the top floor. A nice sized bedroom, with bay window, walk-in closet, and a full bathroom complete the main floor design.

The upper floor is designed for active people. Ready for your morning workout? There is room enough in the exercise room for the latest state-of-the-art equipment. A walk-in closet will store the rest of your gear. Here too is a railed deck, perfect for drinking in the fresh air after a session on the weight machine.

The focus of this floor, however, is the luxurious master suite. The many features include: a large sleeping area, gas fireplace, spa, built-in bench, skylight, private bathroom with twin basins, and a huge walk-in closet with a laundry chute down to the utility room. A handy ladder will take you up to the loft, open to the master suite below, with room for extra storage or maybe a small sewing room.

For a study kit of the ECKROTH (402-25), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

How To Write A Bestseller.

Give the reader all the specifics.

Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as:

- color • size • condition
- brand name • age
- features • and benefits

Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts.

Include the price.

Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

Avoid Abbreviations.

Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in-kitchen) or WSW tires (white side wall) and won't take the time to figure them out.

Include phone number & hours.

Let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

Run consecutive weeks.

Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your sales representative. Run your ad for at least two weeks.

Classified Can!

The Lakeland Newspapers friendly classified advertising representatives are happy to assist you with your ad over the phone. They even assist you with writing your ad. Just call (708) 223-8161 to place your classified ad. Representatives will help you with your ad by phone Monday thru Thursday, 8 am to 8 pm and Saturdays 8:30 am to 2 pm. NO JOB TOO SMALL

Wildcats, Bears both still unbeaten after three weeks

Libertyville 21, Zion-Benton 7
Wildcats runners rushed for 391 yards. Steve Whitcraft scored the first TD and ran for 171 yards. Linebacker Tim Beshel blocked a Zion field goal, which would broken a 7-7 tie. Running back Kevin Dickson scored twice after the blocked field goal and totaled 151 yards on the ground.

Warren 21, Antioch 15
Warren's Kevin Oldham recovered a fumble and ran 30 yards to give the Blue Devils a 14-7 lead. Quarterback Ryan Kelter connected with Brian Kuhar for the clincher. Dan Hill's interception foiled a fourth-quarter comeback by Antioch.

Stevenson 56, Fenton 7
Brent Galitz scored two second-half touchdowns and seven other Patriots scored as the home team registered its first win. Kyle Brandt got the scoring started with an 80-yard run and added the two-point conversion.

N. Chicago 44, Mundelein 26
Quarterback Javon Johnson and several long touchdowns gave the Warhawks a 3-0 start and a tie for first place with Libertyville in the North Suburban Conference. Yvony McCoy caught two touchdown passes; Shun Glass had a 72-yard run; Rashani Laundry a 9-yard run; Ryan Turner a 59-yard pass interception return and Doug Harris a 16-yard fumble recovery for North Chicago scores. Calvin Davis scored on a 65-yard run and a 59-yard pass from Mike Hodges to key the Mundelein (0-3) effort.

Grayslake 6, St. Edward 0
Quarterback Lance Palo scored from one-yard out and that touchdown stood up for a 6-0 Rams win, breaking a 22-game losing streak. An interception by Brian Witt led to the TD for the Rams, 1-2.

Marian Catholic 27, Carmel 14
After a scoreless first half, both offenses came out firing in the second. Sean Eggesfield's two scores keyed the visitors attack, sending Carmel to 1-2. Ruben Rivera scored two more touchdowns for Carmel.

Montini 21, Grant 8
A fourth-quarter score by Montini sealed the win against the winless Bulldogs. Dave Stone scored on a 15-yard run for Grant's only touchdown. Dave Jakstas's run for two points gave the Bulldogs an 8-7 lead, but it was short-lived.

Driscoll 14, Round Lake 6
Two well-timed fourth quarter scores, one on a tipped pass, sunk Round Lake to 0-3. Kevin Burris caught a 35-yard touchdown pass from Tim Buchanan for the Panthers' score.

Immaculate Conception 34, Wauconda 12
Chris Van Alstine scored on a 3-yard run in the second quarter and Brian White returned a punt 54 yards for a score, but that was not enough for the 0-3 Bulldogs.

Marengo 25, Richmond-Burton 7
Lucas Dehmow's 80-yard TD reception from Greg Reginer was the highlight for the 1-2 Rockets.

St. Francis 21, Johnsburg 0
Brandon Gough started for the Skyhawks, who played St. Francis to a scoreless first quarter. The visitors then scored a touchdown in each of the next three quarters.

Lake Zurich 36, Cary-Grove 0
Mike Schauder scored on runs of 1 and 74 yards as the Bears reached 3-0, 1-0 in the Fox Valley Conference. A 61-yd. flea-flicker from Mike Stunpp to Pat Devito started Lake Zurich's scoring attack.

Fenton's move to impact more than football in NSC

Take a careful look at this week's North Suburban Conference football standings.

For in a matter of months, the league is likely to change as Fenton is leaving, making it an eight-team circuit.

The Bison are based in Bensenville, located near O'Hare Airport. Area teams often bemoan making "the trip" to Bensenville, especially in rush hour. But imagine how the Bison must feel.

"Coming to Fenton High has always been a major trip, but it is also a major trip for us many more times," Dennis Cromer, Fenton athletic director said. "It was OK when enrollments were steady but now, at 1,800 students, we are one of the smaller school."

League athletic directors are working out the kinks in Fenton's withdrawal, which was made official in a letter to league schools.

The athletic directors will meet next week with the board of control, league principals, meeting later this month.

While enjoying a good working relationship with the rest of the NSC, Fenton never did have a rival. "In Lake County, the students are from nearby towns and play in the same summer leagues. We have always been isolated in DuPage County," Cromer said.

The yet-to-be-named league in the south and western suburbs, a 16-team operation which will include West Suburban and Little Seven league teams.

"It will vary according to sport. In football, there will be two divisions based on enrollment. Baseball and softball will be divided by geography and individual sports by conference," Cromer said.

The NSC schools may take a couple of different options in 1995, the first year without Fenton: either schedule one more non-conference game or have a bye week.

"It affects all sports. In some sports, like boys volleyball and girls bowling, it drops the league to four teams, which means it cannot be a conference sport," Mundelein High AD Doug Douval said.

Mundelein has inked one new non-league football game in 1995. Grayslake and Mundelein will start a series in the opener.

"It will be a nice rivalry because the towns are so close. Maybe we can have an award like the Golden Bucket or the Green and Red Football," Douval said.

Libertyville Athletic Director Tim Albers said he is looking for a team for the third week. He noted there is a matter of contracts with existing non-conference teams, which could add up to $100 a game paid by the league or the school.

"The Fenton move has been talked about for many years, but nothing really done," Albers said.

Len Chimino, athletic director at Warren Township High School, said he is asking football Coach Reggie Hughes and basketball Coach Chuck Ramsey whom they would like to add to the schedule.

"I am also surveying the kids to see where their interests and abilities lie and will make recommendations for new sports or intramural activities next spring," Chimino said.

Warren has been a powerhouse in bowling.

The NSC has changed its look every few years. In 1978, Crystal Lake and Barrington left for one new league and another to the Mid-Suburban Conference; in 1990, Niles North left to join the Central Suburban League.

Consistent effort pays off for Patriots boys runners

The Patriots have a new image these days - one of consistent showings and strong strategies.

Those were some of the key factors as the Patriots downed Libertyville 171-176 to win the team title at the boys cross country meet hosted by Mundelein at Lakewood Forest Preserve.

Andrew Wilgress of LHS won the meet, covering the 3.1 mile course in 16:9. Justin Norris of Johnsburg was second, edging Jason Gannt of Grayslake, who had a 12:26. Steve Leffelman of Libertyville was fourth at 16:34.

Steve Raparelli of Stevenson started a string of three straight Pats runners with a 17:03. Brian Dewaro was next with a 17:09. Marc Conforti had a 17:10 for ninth place. Erik Rogers of Stevenson was 15th in 17:21.

"We made up lot between 1.5 and 2 miles. Definitely the second half of the race was more our race," Stevenson Coach Don Proft said.

Proft said it is easier to finish with a strong kick when teammates are nearby cheering you on.

"We still respect Libertyville very much. We will have to run our best to beat them at the triangular and conference meets," Proft said.

There was no beating Wilgress this perfect day for running.

The Wildcats, which feature the experience of senior Leffelman, are challenging for the conference title this season. Dortch said Fenton may be the biggest obstacle.

Area teams in the second 11 include: Lake Zurich at 15th with a 338; Mundelein in 18th at 511 and Wauconda 21st at 577.

Moulis wins 13th Wilmot Open Sprints Crown

MICHAEL H. BABICZ

Correspondent

Dave Moulis of Johnsburg led just two laps of the 40-lap "A" Main, but they were the most important of the 1994 Wilmot Speedway regular season champion's career as he took the 13th annual Wilmot Open Sprints Crown sanctioned by The Club/All Star Circuit of Champions at Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway Sept. 9.

Local sprint car warriors swept the top three spots in the Miller Genuine Draft sponsored feature with four-time Wilmot Champ Gib Wiser of Neosho runner-up and current second ranking Wilmot competitor Allen Winker of Kenosha third.

Winker jumped out in front of the 20-car feature field which was slowed on lap three when a front wing got knocked off a car in turn three.

Winker maintained the lead with Wiser second as the two got hooked up along with Al Schmidt, Byron Reed and fast qualifier Kevin Huntley making it a five-way battle.

At the lap 38 mark, Moulis put his Fox Lake Harbor/Lundy-Miller Excavating/Auto Connection sprinter into the lead using the outside line down the front straightaway.

At the finish it was Moulis with the biggest win of his career and the $4,000 first prize of the over $21,000 total purse.

Wiser came home second. Winker took third. Huntley, who set quick time of the 48 cars from five states on hand, was fourth. All Star pointleader Kevin Huntley was fifth.

Moulis became the 12th different Open Champion in the 15 race series and the third local spring car warrior to win the title, and the 24th different All Star feature winner in 56 main events.

Knights lose, regroup

The Lake County Knights aim to take a share of first place in the Chicagoland Football League fell shy as the Du Page Eagles, angered by two losses, downed the Knights 28-0 Sunday.

"We had three blocked punts and six or seven interceptions. The defense was on the field the whole game," Coach Al Clark said.

Clark blamed the semi-pro football team's offense for the loss, the season's first after three wins. "Every time, we got the ball deep in our territory," Clark said.

The one highlight was an 80-yard fumble recovery, but that was nullified due to an inadvertent whistle. "The referee came over to me and said he 'blew' it," Clark said, referring to the call.

The Knights, 3-1, have a week off until they face the Chicago Panthers at 1 p.m. at Hanson Stadium in Chicago on Sept. 25.

"We are not underestimating any team; they beat DuPage," Clark said.

Schroeder captures first

Nancy Schroeder captured the 1994 All-Illinois Regatta held at Long Lake.

Schroeder bested a fleet composed of C scows from four different clubs from Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan in competition reduced to a "winner-take-all" race Sunday, Sept. 11, because of lack of wind for Saturday's opening races.

Bill Madden of the host Long Lake Yacht Club was second. Third and fourth went to Hugh Walborn, defending champ from Michigan, and Bill Kercher of Lake Beulah, Wis. Bill Schmid of Long Lake was fifth.

Vikings will rest, regroup after trouncing by Racine

For a decade, Kurt Kampendahl was used to being on the positive end of scores such as the one which shown at game's end Saturday: 45-0.

But this night, he was on the shutout end as the Lake County Vikings were completely dominated by the Racine club.

"We did what we could do. We tried to prepare for them, but we cannot get consistency in getting players to practice," Kampendahl said.

Kampendahl, whose Racine No. 74 was retired last year, thought about returning to Horlick Field for the first time on the other sideline. He was introduced at halftime of Raider alumni night, but did not enjoy a wave to the crowd as his Vikings were down 27-0 by then.

"I was a little nervous this morning," Kampendahl admitted.

The contest was a battle for first place in the Northern Division of the Midwest Football League. But the Raiders scored early and often, scoring first on a 3-yard TD run by QB Mike Reisterer six minutes into the game and last on a 4-yard run by Mark Enneper in the game's final minute. Lake County fell to 3-2

Reisterer threw for a TD pass and Gordon Bittner ran for one and threw for one.

Bittner is one Racine Raider with Lake County ties. His first semi-pro season was with the Knights but he has played three years in Racine.

"I live in Racine, but work in Illinois and that is how I got connected with the Knights," Bittner said.

The two quarterbacks share about equal time as they guided the Raiders to a 229-20 lead in yardage at halftime.

"Mike sets up a lot of my plays," Bittner said.

The Raiders are national runners-up and Bittner said he does not see any problem in reaching that lofty status again.

Racine received almost all the breaks in the game, including a call where Vikings deep threat, Frank Ruiz, was ruled out-of-bounds when he caught a pass.

"How can you get a safety on a penalty?" Kampendahl asked.

The Vikings did show improvement in the second half, holding the Raiders to a field goal in the third quarter.

The Vikings moved the ball inside Raider territory for the first and only time in the third. A roughing the kicker penalty led to a third-and-one play. But a fumble ended that effort, indicative of the way the night went.

The Raiders made the Vikes pay as Reisterer had a 25-yard completion, leading to the field goal.

"We tried to mix it up defensively, but we did not have the talent to do that," Kampendahl said.

The Vikings have a week off to rest their wounds before returning home Sept. 24 for a 6 p.m. game at Round Lake High. That begins a three-game homestand, which also includes Oct. 11 against these same Raiders and Oct. 8 against the Chicago Heights Broncos.

Freshmen making impact for CLC tennis squad hopes

College of Lake County freshmen women's tennis players Becki Ziolk and Lisa Lopez are already becoming forces to be reckoned with in junior college tennis.

Both have registered impressive records in the season's first three weeks as the Lancers have dominated foes.

Ziolk, a Grayslake grad, is 6-0 in singles and 3-1 in doubles.

"Her strengths are her serve and forehand. She has really improved her patience and consistency. In the past, she had problems against people who did not have a pace," CLC Coach Dick Watson said.

As an example, Watson pointed out to the ex-Ram's three-set win at Sauk Valley. After a 6-4 loss in the first set, Ziolk won 6-2, 6-0 in a nearly three-hour match.

Lopez is 5-0 in doubles and about .500 in singles. "She played doubles at Waukegan and you can tell she has been a doubles player," Watson said.

In a four-day stretch last week, CLC downed Judson 7-0, Sauk Valley 5-3, Rock Valley 5-0 and Cathage 9-6 and Mt. St. Claire 6-0.

Triscia Burke had to play both Nos. 5 and 6 singles against Sauk Valley and Mt. St. Claire.

"I was pleased with our effort," Watson said.

Some of the wins came without pre-season No. 1 singles player Irina Dobin, who is 5-0.

Ahead for CLC will be two more matches against four-year schools. Lake Forest College is the Sept. 16 opponent, University of Chicago is the Sept. 17 foe. Both matches are away.

Harper and Waubesa are away meets Sept. 19 and 20 before the next home meet Sept. 22 against Oakton at Warren Township Center courts.

Junior lineman inspire Corsairs for the future

Carmel High School football Coach Mike Fitzgibbons knew the depth of his forces would be tested against the high-powered offense of Marian Catholic.

One of the positions he had to fill prior to what turned out to be a 27-14 loss was defensive tackle.

Starter Chris Faber, a senior, had injured a knee in practice and was out for the East Suburban Catholic Conference game.

"A number of players were vying for it and Donovan Kapelke won the job and was an inspirational to the whole team," Fitzgibbons said. Donovan Kapelke?

"He is a junior who we did not expect to use much. But that is the benefit of having a two-platoon system. We always seem to find somebody. His duties were to clog up the middle and go sideline to sideline," Fitzgibbons said.

The Corsairs held Marian scoreless in the first half. Turning in strong defensive performances were defensive end Dan Graham, linebackers Pat Kraft and Steve Golebiowski, like Kapelke, a junior.

The Carmel injury report is beginning to look like a MASH unit. "We're banged up. We had four players playing in new positions," Fitzgibbons said.

Ruben Rivera continued to be Carmel's most potent offensive weapon. He scored on touchdown runs of 69 yards in the third quarter and had a 19-yard TD scamper in the fourth.

"The first touchdown run was one for the highlight film. It was incredible," Fitzgibbons said.

Sean Eggesfield was a thorn in Carmel's side all night, scoring on a 14-yard pass from Mark Broxterman and a 29-yard pass.

Marian Catholic also scored on runs of 3 and 14 yards.

The Corsairs' (1-2, 0-2) tasks do not get any easier against unbeaten St. Patrick Sept. 16 at 8 p.m. in Mundelein.

"They are big and strong. We are lucky we get them at home," Fitzgibbons said.

The Corsairs may be getting J.R. Ocampo back into the lineup. He has been out since the opener after aggravating an injury.

Luke Chorazy, a junior, got the call to start against Marian Catholic.

Lancer booters beat the heat

College of Lake County men's soccer team fell victim to a first-year team but then bounced back to beat a former state champion.

The Lancers fell to Oakton 2-0 but downed Bethany Lutheran of Minnesota 1-0.

"That was our first loss to a conference team in four years. With a young team, you don't know how they will respond," CLC Coach Dave Beck said of the Oakton match.

Freshman Mike Perez scored the winning goal against Bethany Lutheran, 12 minutes into the second half. Jeff Haig was credited with an assist.

"It was a series of good passes and the one from Jeff to Mike was great," Beck said.

Brian Heider of Libertyville and Mike Wulf of Antioch shared the goaltending duties. Heider was a victim of the extreme heat Saturday in Grayslake but returned for the second half.

"Bethany Lutheran is always Minnesota state champs, so this is a quality win," Beck said.

CLC is at Moraine Valley for a Sept. 16 non-conference match.

"They are also in soccer for the first time, but like Oakton, they are in a soccer-rich area," Beck said.

CLC spikers head to Michigan tourney

College of Lake County's women's volleyball team will be able to see some Skyway Conference foes in action at a Michigan tournament this week.

"If we play against Elgin or Morton that would be in the semi-finals or finals," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

Otherwise, the tourney will be a learning experience for the Lancers, making their first venture to the Wolverine state.

The Lancers are coming off their second, second-place finish in an invite, losing to conference foe Waubensee in the finals at Madison Tech.

The Lancers downed Madison Tech 12-15, 15-5, 15-6; Sauk Valley 15-6, 13-15, 15-9. Waubensee's Chiefs got the better of CLC, 15-10, 15-11 in the semifinals and 15-5, 15-8 for the championship.

Natalie Ward had 17 kills, Nicole Bonfanti had 11.

Warren Township High School grad Lisa Bochenek had 27 assists.

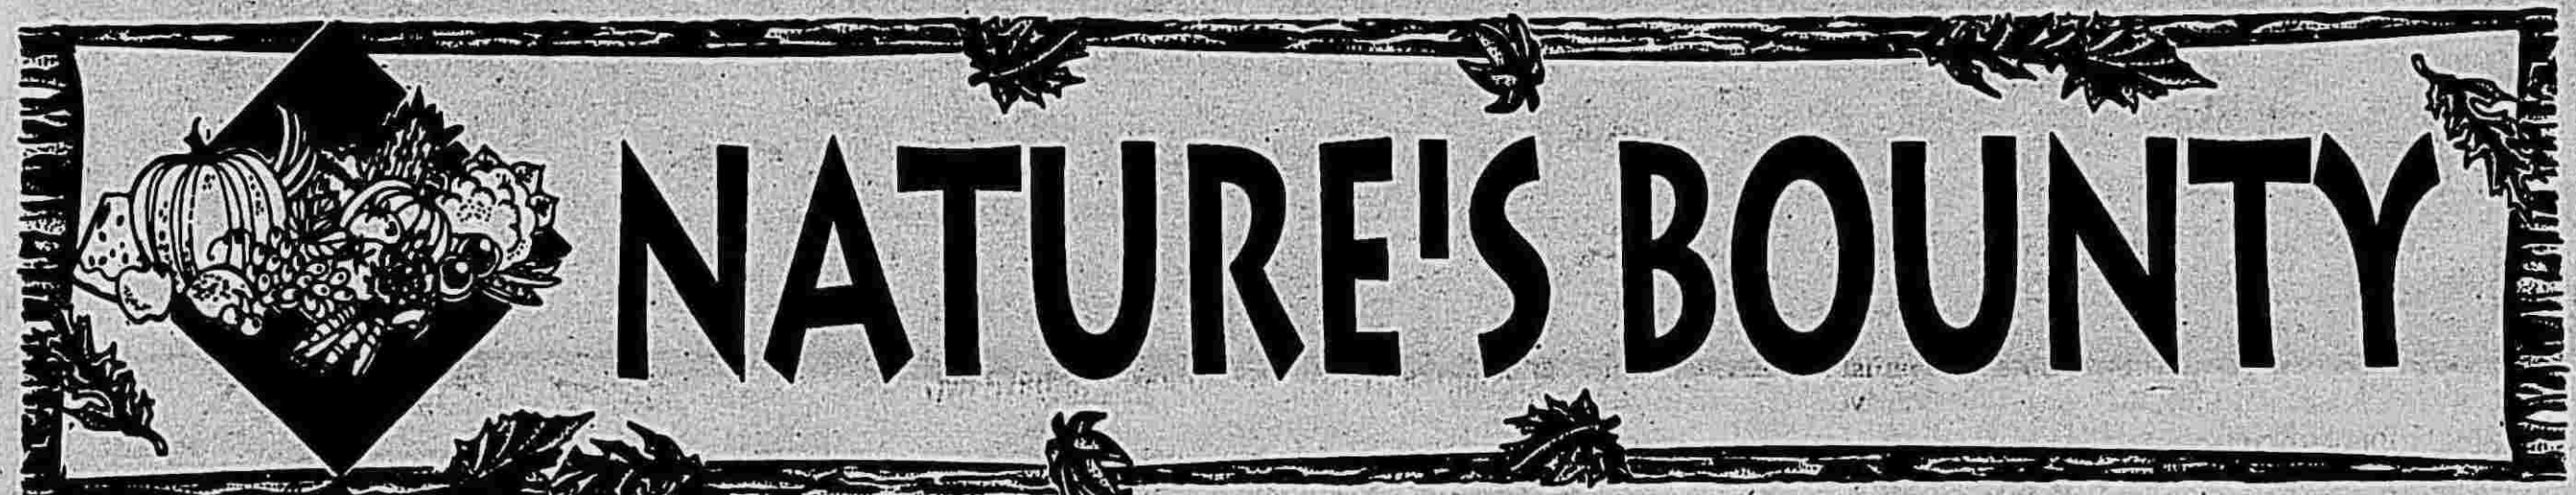

In serving, Terryn Hartmann was 43-for-45 with 27 points. Bochenek was 47-for-52 with 27 points and 8 aces. Bonfanti, a Grayslake High grad, was 38-for-38 with 22 points and 2 aces. Stacey Harrison was 37-for-37 with 21 points and an ace.

"One of our strongest points is our serving. Terryn and Lisa start us off and we often get off to good starts because of them," Garcia said.

Earlier, the Lancers lost to Harper and Rock Valley.

The Lancers fell to Harper in five games: 15-8, 11-15, 11-15, 15-7, 15-12. The Rock Valley scores were: 15-5, 1-15, 13-15, 15-3, 15-13.

"I kind of expected the Harper match because it was our first match back after an emotional (second-place) weekend in Kansas. In both matches, we could not win that third game," Garcia said.

Cinnamon apple rings

- 24 whole cloves
- 3 medium cooking apples, unpeeled, cored and cut into 1/2 inch rings
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup red cinnamon candies
- 1/2 cup sugar

Stick cloves into apple rings. Combine water and candies in a large skillet; bring to a boil, stirring until candies dissolve. Add apple rings; reduce heat, and simmer 5 minutes or just until apple rings are tender, turning several times.

Remove apple rings from skillet. Add sugar to skillet, and bring to a boil; boil 3 minutes. Pour syrup over apple rings, turning to glaze both sides. Cool slightly.

Makes 8 servings.

Apple fritters

- 1 cup flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tsp. oil
- 1 apple, peeled and chopped
- oil for deep frying

Blend flour, baking powder and salt; add eggs, milk and 1 teaspoon oil. Beat until smooth, add apple and mix. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry until light golden in color, drain from oil. Roll in confectioners sugar or put some cinnamon in a little pancake syrup and heat. Pour over fritters.

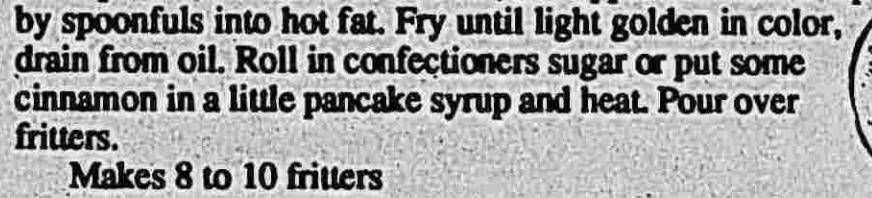

Makes 8 to 10 fritters

Sweet sour red cabbage

- 1 red cabbage (about 2 1/2 lbs.) shredded
- 1 cup boiling water
- 4 medium-size apples, pared, cored and sliced
- 4 Tbsp. melted butter or margarine
- 2 tsp. flour
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 2 tsp. salt
- dash pepper

Add cabbage to boiling water in saucepan. Cook, covered, about 10 minutes. Add apples; cook until tender (about 12 minutes). Combine remaining ingredients; add to cabbage and apple mixture. Heat thoroughly.

Serves 8.
